Mappings Feminism And The Cultural Geographies Of Encounte:

Mappings Susan Stanford Friedman, 1998 In this powerful work Susan Friedman moves feminist theory out of paralyzing debates about us and them white and other first and third world and victimizers and victims Throughout Friedman adapts current cultural theory from global and transnational studies anthropology and geography to challenge modes of thought that exaggerate the boundaries of gender race ethnicity sexuality class and national origin The author promotes a transnational and heterogeneous feminism which she maintains can replace the proliferation of feminisms based on difference She argues for a feminist geopolitical literacy that goes beyond fundamentalist identity politics and absolutist poststructuralist theory and she continually focuses the reader's attention on those locations where differences are negotiated and transformed Pervading the book is a concern with narrative the way stories and cultural narratives serve as a primary mode of thinking about the politically explosive question of identity Drawing freely on modernist novels contemporary film popular fiction poetry and mass media the work features narratives of such writers and filmmakers as Gish Jen Julie Dash June Jordan James Joyce Gloria Anzaldúa Neil Jordan Virginia Woolf Mira Nair Zora Neale Hurston E M Forster and Irena Klepfisz Defending the pioneering role of academic feminists in the knowledge revolution this work draws on a wide variety of twentieth century cultural expressions to address theoretical issues in postmodern feminism Exclusions in Feminist Thought Mary

Brewer, 2002-01-01 What does feminism mean Can we say that such a thing as a women's movement exists Why are so few women willing to identify as feminist And what might a feminist theory and practice capable of addressing the aspirations of all women look like This book explores these fundamental questions about women's needs experiences and ideas Views on Europe Lilli Riettiens, Elke Kleinau, 2022-04-04 The history of travel has long been constructed and described almost exclusively as a history of European male mobility without however explicitly making the gender and whiteness of the travellers a topic The anthology takes this as an occasion to focus on journeys to Europe that gave non Europeans the opportunity to glance at Europe and to draw a picture of it by themselves So far little attention has been paid to the questions with which attributes these travellers endowed Europe and its people which similarities and differences they observed and which ideas of Europe they produced The focus is once again on Europe but not as the starting point for conquests or journeys From a postcolonial and gender historical view the anthology's contributions rather juxtapose self representations of Europe with perspectives that move in a field of tension between agreement contradiction and oscillation

Learning Civil Societies Penelope Cheryl Gurstein, 2007-01-01 This collection explores the theoretical underpinnings of democratic planning and governance in relation to civil society formation and social learning Contemporary Spanish American Novels by Women Susan Carvalho, 2007 A reading of contemporary women's fiction in Spanish America in which space rather than time is seen as the driver of the narrative Space is critical to imaginative writing As English novelist Elizabeth Bowen has observed nothing can happen nowhere This book offers an interdisciplinary framework for reading novels and in particular women's fiction in Spanish America with a focus on geotopon space rather than time as the narrative engine Following the work of Lefebvre and Friedman the author examines recent works by Spanish America's most visible women novelists Angeles Mastretta Mexico Isabel Allende Chile Rosario Ferré Puerto Rico Sara Sefchovich Mexico and Laura Restrepo Colombia and the ways in which their female protagonists challenge the spatial barriers erected by capitalist hegemony Margins borders liminal spaces the chora space and the body are emphasized as potential sites of transgression The analysis identifies spatial negotiation as a mechanism both for cementing and for undermining authority thus exposing the strategies through which literature constructs and represents power SUSAN CARVALHO is Associate Professor of Hispanic Studies at the University of Kentucky and Director of the Middlebury College Spanish School Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon Mohamad Hafeda, 2019-08-22 Drawing on innovative research into sectarian political struggle in Beirut Mohamad Hafeda shows how boundaries in a divided city are much more than simple physical divisions and reveals the ways in which city dwellers both experience them and subvert them in unexpected ways Through research based on interviews documentation of various media representations such as maps visual imagery and gallery installations Negotiating Conflict in Lebanon exposes the methods through which sectarian narratives are constructed arguing for the need to question deconstruct and transform these constructions Hafeda expands upon the definition of bordering practice by considering artistic research as a critical spatial practice which allows self reflection and transformation of border positions This study offers an alternative view to the mainstream narratives of what is meant by a border and provides insights methods and lessons that may be applied to other cities around the world affected by conflict and political sectarian segregation

Handbook of Narratology Peter Hühn, Jan Christoph Meister, John Pier, Wolf Schmid, 2014-10-10 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in narratology and is now available in a second completely revised and expanded edition Detailed individual studies by internationally renowned narratologists elucidate central terms of narratology present a critical account of the major research positions and their historical development and indicate directions for future research Heart of the Cross Wonhee Anne Joh, 2006-01-01 Theologies have often pointed to the cross as a place of suffering and sacrifice while feminist critiques have frequently argued against interpretations of the cross as patriarchal valorizing of suffering Wonhee Anne Joh points toward a new interpretation of the cross as a place of love where God and humanity come together in a surprising way Interpreting the cross as performing a double gesture that has a subversive effect Joh argues that the cross works simultaneously to pay homage to and to menace complex oppressive powers Utilizing the Korean concept of jeong Joh constructs a theology that is feminist political and love centered while acknowledging the cross as source of pain and suffering Joh's innovative vision is a call for political love that is stronger than powers of oppression Feminist Locations Marianne DeKoven, 2001 The contributors to this volume look to the future of feminist theory and practice specifically in terms of their complex relationship with the global and local configurations of postmodernity It focuses on political issues and on questions of the body

Modernism's Mythic Pose Carrie J. Preston, 2014-07-10 Modernism's Mythic Pose recovers the tradition of Delsartism a popular international movement that promoted bodily and vocal solo performances particularly for women This strain of classical antimodernism shaped dance film and poetics Its central figure the mythic pose expressed both skepticism and nostalgia and functioned as an ambivalent break from modernity

South African Essays on 'Universal' Shakespeare Chris Thurman, 2016-04-01 South African Essays on Universal Shakespeare collects new scholarship and extant but previously unpublished material reflecting the changing nature of Shakespeare studies across various generation gaps Each essay in exploring the nuances of Shakespearean production and reception across time and space is inflected by a South African connection In some cases this is simply because of the author's nationality or institutional affiliation in others there is a direct engagement with what Shakespeare means or has meant in South Africa By investigating the universality of Shakespeare from both implicitly and explicitly southern perspectives the book presents new possibilities for considering and reassessing shifting manifestations of Shakespeare's work in major Shakespearean centres such as Britain and the United States as well as across the global North and South

Muslimness in Contemporary Literary Imaginations Neriman Kuyucu, 2025-10-14 Focusing on imagination and self representation as a key sociocultural force this book examines the diverse ways Muslim writers articulate complex and multifaceted conceptualizations of Muslimness at the critical juncture of culture faith gender sexuality and diasporic experience It highlights how contemporary fiction offers valuable insights into discussions on Muslims This book situates Muslim writing in relation to Muslimness as an inherently contradictory field of meaning and the Muslim diaspora which is re conceptualized as Muslim diaspora space Muslim diaspora space can be used as an analytical framework that can highlight an emerging literary site that Muslim writers create within the current politics of representation The texts selected for close analysis in this book demonstrate that diasporic experience is not limited to displacement and its challenges the process of diasporization also signifies the creative potential arising from navigating the tensions between mobility and rootedness sameness and difference and loss and renewal

Planetary Modernisms Susan Stanford Friedman, 2015-08-18 Drawing on a vast archive of world history anthropology geography cultural theory postcolonial studies gender studies literature and art Susan Stanford Friedman recasts modernity as a networked circulating and recurrent phenomenon producing multiple aesthetic innovations across millennia Considering cosmopolitan as well as nomadic and oceanic worlds she radically revises the scope of modernist critique and opens the practice to more integrated study Friedman moves from large scale instances of pre 1500 modernities such as Tang Dynasty China and the Mongol Empire to small scale instances of modernisms including the poetry of Du Fu and Kabir and Abbasid ceramic art She maps the interconnected modernisms of the long twentieth century pairing Joseph Conrad with Tayeb Salih E M Forster with Arundhati Roy Virginia Woolf with the Tagores and Aim C saire with Theresa Hak Kyung Cha She reads postcolonial works from Sudan and India and engages with the idea of N gritude Rejecting the modernist concepts of marginality othering and major minor Friedman instead favors rupture mobility speed networks and divergence elevating the agencies and creative capacities of all cultures not only in the past and present but also in the century to come

Part-Architecture Emma Cheadle, 2017-07-20 Part Architecture presents a detailed and original study of Pierre Chareau's Maison de Verre through another seminal modernist artwork Marcel Duchamp's Large Glass Aligning the two works materially historically and conceptually the book challenges the accepted architectural descriptions of the Maison de Verre makes original spatial and social accounts of its inhabitation in 1930s Paris and presents new architectural readings of the Large Glass Through a rich analysis which incorporates creative projects into history and theory research the book establishes new ways of writing about architecture Designed for politically progressive gynaecologist Dr Jean Dalsace and his avant garde wife Annie Dalsace the Maison de Verre combines a family home with a gynaecology clinic into a free plan layout Screened only by glass walls the presence of the clinic in the home suggests an untold dialogue on 1930s sexuality The text explores the Maison de Verre through another radical glass construction the Large Glass where Duchamp's complex depiction of unconsummated sexual relations across the glass planes reveals his resistance to the marital conventions of 1920s Paris This and other analyses of the Large Glass are used as a framework to examine the Maison de Verre as a register of the changing history of women's domestic and maternal choices reclaiming the building as a piece of female social architectural history The process used to uncover and write the accounts in the book is termed part architecture Derived from psychoanalytic theory part architecture fuses analytical descriptive and creative processes to produce a unique social and architectural critique Identifying three essential materials to the Large Glass the book has three main chapters Glass Dust and Air Combining theory text creative writing and drawing each traces the history and meaning of the material and its contribution to the spaces and sexuality of the Large Glass and the Maison de Verre As a whole the book contributes important and unique spatial readings to existing scholarship and expands definitions of architectural design and history

Diasporic Ruptures, 2007-01-01 Diasporic Ruptures Globality Migrancy and Expressions of Identity lies at the intersections of various processes emerging from globalization border crossings transnationalism identity formations Carefully selected and placed in two volumes the essays here represent works of both well seasoned scholars as well as emerging writers academics and intellectuals The volumes critically examine various manifestations of the trend now commonly known as globalization manifestations that many diasporic communities immigrants and people from all walks of life experience They also illuminate recent political social economic and technological developments that are taking place in a rapidly changing world Volume One offers sophisticated insights into the nature of contemporary formations of diasporic life internationalism and hybrid identities The volume asks bold questions around what it means to live in constantly shifting boundaries of nationality identity and citizenship The type of methodological discursive and experiential awareness promoted by this work helps us understand how millions of people face the challenge of living in a globalizing world it also fosters a consciousness of how globalization itself functions differently in different environments Volume Two see Volume 7 in Transgressions Cultural Studies and Education addresses additional and more nuanced questions around culture race sexuality migration displacement and resistance It also explores certain epistemological and methodological fallacies regarding conventional articulations of nation state nationalism and the local global nexus The volume seeks to answer questions such as What are the meanings and connotations of displacement in a rapidly globalizing world What are some dilemmas and challenges around notions of cultural hybridity linguistic diversity and a sense of belonging What is the meaning of home in diaspora and the meaning of diaspora at home Together the volumes raise many topics that will be of immense interest to scholars across disciplines and general readers While celebrating the increasing acknowledgment of difference and diversity in recent times this work reminds us of the ongoing ramifications of dominant structures of inequality relations of power and issues of inclusion and exclusion This work offers different ways of thinking writing and talking about globalization and the processes that emerge from it The Bloomsbury Handbook of Literary and Cultural Theory Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2018-11-15 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Literary and Cultural Theory is the most comprehensive available survey of the state of theory in the 21st century With chapters written by the world's leading scholars in their field this book explores the latest thinking in traditional schools such as feminist Marxist historicist psychoanalytic and postcolonial criticism and new areas of research in ecocriticism biopolitics affect studies posthumanism materialism and many other fields In addition the book includes a substantial A to Z compendium of key words and important thinkers in contemporary theory making this an essential resource for scholars of literary and cultural theory at all levels Women in Revolutionary Egypt Shereen Abouelnaga, 2016-06-01 The 25 January 2011 uprising and the unprecedented dissent and discord to which it gave rise shattered the notion of homogeneity that had characterized state representations of Egypt and Egyptians since 1952 It allowed for the eruption of identities along multiple lines including class ideology culture and religion long suppressed by state control Concomitantly a profusion of women's voices arose to further challenge the state managed feminism that had sought to define and carefully circumscribe women's social and civic roles in Egypt Women in Revolutionary Egypt takes the uprising as the point of departure for an exploration of how gender in post Mubarak Egypt came to be rethought reimaged and contested It examines key areas of tension between national and gender identities including gender empowerment through art and literature particularly graffiti and poetry the disciplining of the body and the politics of history and memory Shereen Abouelnaga argues that this new cartography of women's struggle has to be read in a context that takes into consideration the micropolitics of everyday life as well as the larger processes that work to separate the personal from the political She shows how a new generation of women is resisting both discursively and visually the notion of a fixed or authentic notion of Egyptian womanhood in spite of prevailing social structures and in face of all gendered politics of imagined nation Modern North American Criticism and Theory Julian Wolfreys, 2006-04-21

Modern North American Criticism and Theory presents the reader with a comprehensive and critical introduction to the development and institutionalization of literary and cultural studies throughout the twentieth century and at the beginning of the twenty first Focusing on the growth and expansion of critical trends and methodologies with particular essays addressing key figures in their historical and cultural contexts the book offers a narrative of change transformation and the continuous quest for and affirmation of multiple cultural voices and identities From semiotics and the New Criticism to the identity politics of whiteness studies and the cultural study of masculinity this book provides an overview of literary and cultural study in North America as a history of questioning debate and exploration Global Crusoe Ann Marie Fallon,2016-04-22

Global Crusoe travels across the twentieth century globe from a Native American reservation to a Botswanan village to explore the huge variety of contemporary incarnations of Daniel Defoe s intrepid character In her study of the novels poems short stories and films that adapt the Crusoe myth Ann Marie Fallon argues that the twentieth century Crusoe is not a lone struggling survivor but a cosmopolitan figure who serves as a warning against the dangers of individual isolation and colonial oppression Fallon uses feminist and postcolonial theory to reexamine Defoe s original novel and several contemporary texts showing how writers take up the traumatic narratives of Crusoe in response to the intensifying transnational and postcolonial experiences of the second half of the twentieth century Reading texts by authors such as Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Derek Walcott Elizabeth Bishop and J M Coetzee within their social historical and political contexts Fallon shows how contemporary revisions of the novel reveal the tensions inherent in the transnational project as people and ideas move across borders with frequency if not necessarily with ease In the novel Robinson Crusoe Crusoe s discovery of Friday s footprint fills him with such anxiety that he feels the print like an animal and burrows into his shelter Likewise modern readers and writers continue to experience a deep anxiety when confronting the narrative issues at the center of Crusoe s story Mid-century women's writing Melissa Dinsman,Megan Faragher,Ravenel Richardson,2024-07-09 The traditional narrative of the mid century 1930s 60s is that of a wave of expansion and constriction with the swelling of economic and political freedoms for women in the 1930s the cresting of women in the public sphere during the Second World War and the resulting break as employment and political opportunities for women dwindled in the 1950s when men returned home from the front But as the burgeoning field of interwar and mid century women s writing has demonstrated this narrative is in desperate need of re examination Mid century women s writing Disrupting the public private divide aims to revivify studies of female writers journalists broadcasters and public intellectuals living or working in Britain or under British rule during the mid century while also complicating extant narratives about the divisions between domesticity and politics
