Dollar Diplomacy Francis Adams,2019-07-15 This title was first published in 2000 United States economic assistance programs in Latin America have been frequently restructured during the course of the past four decades This book examines the evolution of US aid to the region describes and explains US aid to the region since 1960 Focus is placed on four successive initiatives the Alliance for Progress for the 1960s the New Directions Mandate of the 1970s the Private Enterprise Initiative of the 1980s and the Democracy Initiative of the 1990s Empirical examples of actual programs drawn from primary source documents are used to illustrate more general propositions The primary objectives of this study are to describe and explain US assistance policy toward Latin America during the past four decades and account for changes in the aid regime over time Such assistance is typically linked to either the developmental needs of recipient countries or the economic interests of transnational corporations The Politics Of Democratization Edward Friedman,2019-06-26 This collection explores democratic transitions in East Asia arguing against the standard wisdom that European or Christian value systems and socioeconomic forces are essential for democracy to succeed Instead the contributors convincingly illustrate that political institutions which can be built anywhere by skilled coalitions have the most profound and lasting influence on a stable democratic system. Indeed the East Asian experience reveals truths about Western democratization that are obscured by popular Western mythologies. This partnership of U S and Asian scholars has given us the first systematic effort to bring East Asia into the democratization debate in a way that compels one to rethink the politics of democratization everywhere. The book therefore is a crucial contribution for all those interested in the broader issues of transition.

Reflections on the Constitutionalisation of International Economic Law, 2013-12-09. This book collects a large number of essays written in honour of Professor Ernst Ulrich Petersmann by his friends, colleagues and former students. The respective contributions cover the fields of international economic law, international constitutional law, transnational constitutionalism, EU law and human rights. The broad thematic scope of this book mirrors the extremely large field of interests of the jubilarian. Paying tribute to a particular trait of Professor Petersmann's character who was always both a dogmatic thinker and a curious researcher, the authors try to cover both structural issues of law as well as most recent developments in particular in the field of international economic law. Construing the constitution of international economic law in both senses of this activity was an aim throughout Professor Petersmann's academic career and this goal stands also at the heart of this book Transitional Justice Neil J. Kritz, 1995
