Abstract: Malnutrition is one of the major public health challenges in developing countries especially those experiencing security instability. Not much is known of the nutritional status of displaced children in Iraq. The objective of this study was to assess the nutritional status of internally displaced children in Dream city-Salaheddin-Iraq to provide a validated baseline information for further humanitarian responses to help those children. The “Dream city” in Salaheddin governorate was chosen for it represents a large collection of displaced families. A total of 788 children (less than 5 years) was surveyed. Height, weight and mid-upper arm circumference were measured. Under-nutrition was found in 19.2% of them according to body mass index, and 19.5% when using mid-upper arm circumference index. The prevalence of wasting was 14.6% and severe wasting 6.9%. There was a significant association between under-nutrition and number of the children in the family, age of the child, and father’s and mother’s education. A noticeable percentage of children were hardly consuming meat, eggs or fruits (only once or none per week). About one child in every five displaced children is undernourished. The percentiles of different anthropometric measurements for height, weight, body mass index, and mid upper arm circumference for those children were below the standard measurements reported by WHO and NCHS growth charts for the corresponding age.

1. Introduction

Conflict will inevitably cause loss of lives, physical injuries, widespread mental distress, a worsening of existent malnutrition (particularly among children) and outbreaks of communicable diseases, especially among internally displaced and refugee populations. It also reduces people’s personal security and restrict their access to food, medicines and medical supplies, clean water, sanitation, shelter and health services. [1]

Iraq currently has about four million internally displaced persons (IDPs), 10.8% of its population and 10% of IDPs worldwide. [2] The Islamic State in Iraq and Syria (ISIS) assault into Iraq displaced an estimated 480,000 persons from Al Anbar governorate in the first half of 2014. [3, 4] During June and July of 2014, a further 505,482 persons were displaced, mostly from Mosul, Iraq’s second city, [5, 6] and further numbers from military attacks in Salaheddin area. Some of the displaced live in rented houses or are staying with host families while others live in “critical shelters”. [7, 8] those are among the most vulnerable of the displaced. Only 8% of IDPs are housed in organized camps, with an estimated 2.5 million living outside of camps. [9, 10]

In response to the massive displacements from the ISIS assaults; the Inter Agency Standing Committee (IASC)

Heffinck,2003-12-01 A report for the Oct 1997 nutritional status survey of 3 153 children in the 15 South Centre governorates of Iraq shows that general malnutrition occurs in 14 6% of infants chronic in 12 2% and acute malnutrition in 7 5% Projections of the findings for infants indicate that the prevalence of general malnutrition in children under 5 years of age is 25% which is unacceptably high and compares with the very needy countries of the world This is the 4th Nutrition Survey in this region These surveys have provided a useful overview of the nutritional status in Iraq which indicate that stronger multi sectoral interventions are very much required to better address this serious problem affecting a large number of children Pariah States & Sanctions in the Middle East Tim Niblock,2001 A Situation Analysis of Children and Women in Iraq, 1997 ,1998 The Chapter VII Powers of the United Nations Security Council Erika de Wet,2004 This study provides a comprehensive analysis of the questions pertaining to the powers of the Security Council under Chapter VII of the Charter of the United Nations In doing so it departs from the premise that an analysis of the limitations to the powers of the Security Council and an analysis of judicial review of such limitations by the ICJ respectively are inter dependent On the one hand judicial review would only become relevant if and to the extent that the powers granted to the Security Council under Chapter VII of the Charter are subject to justiciable limitations On the other hand the relevance of any limitation to the powers of the Security Council would remain limited if it could not be enforced by judicial review This inter dependence is reflected by the fact that Chapters 2 and 3 focus on judicial review in advisory and contentious proceedings respectively whereas Chapters 4 to 9 examine the limits to the powers of the Security Council The concluding chapter subsequently illuminates how the respective limits to the Security Council s enforcement powers could be enforced by judicial review It also explores an alternative mode of review of binding Security Council decisions that could complement judicial review by the ICJ notably the right of states to reject illegal Security Council decisions as a right of last resort The space and attention devoted to the limits to the Security Council s enforcement powers reflects the second aim of this study namely to provide new direction to this aspect of the debate on the Security Council s powers under Chapter VII of the Charter It does so by paying particular attention to the role of human rights norms in limiting the type of enforcement measures that the Security Council can resort to in order to maintain or restore international peace and security A Matter of Fact Vol. 27 C.
