The Way of the Cross Julius Bautista, 2019-09-30. Every year during Holy Week in the Philippine province of Pampanga, hundreds of men and women undergo acts of excruciating self-inflicted pain in ways that evoke the Way of the Cross, the torment and crucifixion that Christ endured in the last days of his earthly existence. Because these Passion rituals are officially disavowed by the Filipino Roman Catholic Church, most observers view them as irrational and extremist mimicry of Christ's painful ordeal. Even scholars conventionally depict them as theatrical spectacle or macabre examples of Filipino folk religion. But what conditions enable ritual actors to submit to such extreme pain? What justifications do they give for going against official prohibitions? What outcomes do they seek in channeling Christian piety in this way? This book addresses these questions through its in-depth analyses of three interconnected ritual acts: the pabasa, a days-long communal chanting of Christ's Passion story; the pagdarama, the public self-flagellation of hundreds of devotees; and the pamamaku, in which steel nails are driven through the palms and feet of ritual practitioners as part of a street play performed in front of tens of thousands of spectators. Author Julius Bautista suggests that such ritual acts manifest the embodied physicality of a suffering selfhood that facilitates the expression of heartfelt sentiments of pity, empathy, trust, and bereavement. By emphasizing these outwardly focused human sensibilities as the wellsprings of ritual agency, he demonstrates that Passion rituals are reinterpretations of the very idea and experience of pain, hardship, and suffering, and premised on an appeal for a certain kind of divine intimacy. The author draws on a decade of in-depth and often exclusive interviews with a host of local stakeholders, including ritual practitioners, clerics, scholars, and government officials, and his own participation in a Passion play. Ethnographic insight is considered alongside primary and secondary archival sources, including unpublished locally produced oral historical accounts and a survey of relevant media coverage. The Way of the Cross makes a welcome contribution to the anthropology of religion by examining the unique ontological contexts in which ritual agents experience God's involvement in their lives.

Dyrness,1992 Using narratives of experiences with God as source material Dyrness sets out to discover the framework both explicit as well as implicit that guides the lives of five different lay communities around the world E. J. R. David, Ph.d.,2011-01 There are over 92 million Filipinos in the Philippines where the legacies of Western colonialism continue to exist and propagate the message that anything Filipino is inferior to anything American or Western Thus many Filipinos dream of immigrating to various Western countries mostly to the United States Today Filipinos have the second highest yearly immigration rate into the United States and compose the second largest immigrant group in the country Also Filipinos in America number over 3 million making them the second largest Asian American ethnic group in the country Not surprisingly there has been increased attention on the experiences of Filipinos and Filipino Americans as minorities and immigrants as well as toward better understanding their identity cultural values and mental health However given the conditions of postcolonial Philippines and the contemporary experiences of oppression by Filipinos in America one cannot completely and accurately understand the minority immigrant and psychological experiences of this group outside the context of colonialism and contemporary oppression Thus this text focuses on the psychological effects of historical colonialism and contemporary oppression among Filipinos and Filipino Americans It takes the reader from indigenous Tao culture Spanish and American colonialism colonial mentality or internalized oppression along with its implications on Kapwa identity and mental health to decolonization in the clinical community and research settings This book is a multidisciplinary and empirical approach to Filipino and Filipino American psychology It is intended for the entire community teachers researchers students and service providers interested in or who are working with Filipinos and Filipino Americans or those who are interested in the psychological consequences of colonialism and oppression This book may serve as a tool for remembering the past and as a tool for awakening to address the present The Bible in Culture Larry W. Caldwell,2025-07-08 How to Read and Interpret Scripture Across Cultures How can believers across cultures faithfully read and apply Scripture in a way that honors both the biblical text and their unique cultural contexts In The Bible in Culture Larry Caldwell introduces ethnohermeneutics a revolutionary yet biblical approach to reading Scripture with rather than for the world Drawing from decades of experience living overseas Caldwell demonstrates that every culture has its own tools for understanding meaning and shows how God uses these to communicate the truth of his word This approach is rooted in observing how Jesus Paul and others in the early church interpreted Scripture and in following their examples Through real life illustrations interactive activities and case studies readers will discover how they can also read and interpret God s word in their own cultures This book will challenge your assumptions about the interpretive task encouraging and equipping you to rethink how the Bible can be understood across every people group in various cross cultural multicultural and multigenerational contexts Race and the Foundations of Knowledge Joseph A. Young, Jana Evans Braziel, 2006 This anthology demonstrates the longstanding multifarious and major role that race has played in the formation of knowledge The authors demonstrate how race theory intersects with other bodies of knowledge by examining discursive records such as travelogues literature and historiography theoretical structures such as common sense pseudoscientific racism and Eurocentrism social structures of class advancement and identity and politico economic structures of capitalism colonialism and law The Hybrid Tsinoys Juliet Lee Uytanlet, 2016-06-28 The Hybrid Tsinoys is a study of hybridity and homogeneity as sociocultural constructs in the development of current ethnic identities of Chinese Filipinos This study employs a descriptive ethnographic research method to discover how they see or define themselves in terms of ethnicity Chinese Filipino or both and how their perspectives affect other aspects of their lives language marriage and family The research proposes that there are different kinds of Chinese Filipinos as evidenced in the six classifications in chapter 4 Further most of them have constructed a hybrid culture exclusively and uniquely their own On the one hand they are still attached to their cultural roots on the other hand they cannot evade the fact that they are influenced by their host country and the present global and migratory age we live in Second third and fourth generation Chinese Filipinos demonstrate their hybridity in language and mindset This dissertation also lays out some challenges in relation to doing mission among them
