The why, how and what of assessment is addressed whilst the link between assessment and intervention is also a key focus. Looking at the full range of Specific Learning Difficulties, this book provides practical guidance on implementing strategies that are tried and tested for use in any classroom whilst also acknowledging that assessment is a process involving other professionals and parents. Addressing issues and topics common in inclusive classrooms around the world, key topics covered include Specific Learning Difficulties in context, Teacher Assessment in literacy, numeracy and movement, Motor development and co-ordination, Attention factors in learning, The key issues on learning differences, Self-esteem and emotional literacy, How to enhance skills and the self-sufficiency of teachers, Assessing Children with Specific Learning Difficulties. This will be an invaluable guide for classroom teachers, learning support departments, psychologists and other professionals. Curriculum-Based Assessment for Instructional Design Matthew K. Burns, David C. Parker, 2014-03-19 Accessibly written and featuring illustrative case examples, this book provides a complete guide to curriculum-based assessment for instructional design. CBA ID comprises easy-to-implement, reliable and valid procedures for determining a student's instructional level and individualizing instruction by developing tasks that are neither too hard nor too easy. It is a key tool for supporting K-8 students who are struggling in reading, math or writing and is ideally suited for intervention planning within multi-tiered systems of support. In a convenient large-size format, the book includes reproducible forms. Purchasers also get access to a Web page where they can download and print the reproducible materials. This book is in The Guilford Practical Intervention in the Schools Series, edited by Sandra M. Chafouleas. Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home. And schools probably exert more influence on children's development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood. The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development. Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom-level influences such as teacher-student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies. Cross-Disciplinary: this volume brings together the divergent perspectives, methods and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines, among them educational psychology, developmental psychology, school psychology, social psychology, psychiatry, sociology and educational policy. Chapter Structure to ensure continuity: chapter authors describe 1) how schooling influences are conceptualized, 2) identify their theoretical and methodological approaches, 3) discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research, and 4) highlight implications for future research, practice and policy.

Methodologies chapters included in the text feature various methodologies including longitudinal studies hierarchical linear models experimental and quasi experimental designs and mixed methods
