intersect inscribing one language upon another within a single text With concepts that resist expression such as inspiration uncertainty non knowing spontaneity unity forgetting the self and the perfection behind the imperfection of language Jennifer Quist demonstrates how Daoism s theories and metalanguage can re imagine creative writing education whilst de naturalizing the authority of English and Euro American literary traditions With analytical lenses derived from East Asia given context through translations of Chinese educators primary accounts of the history and theory of postsecondary creative writing education in 21st century China Quist develops a method for examining the practices of exemplary translingual writers from China Japan and their diasporas Featuring translingual writing prompts and practices for individual or classroom use by students at all levels of multilingualism Translingual Creative Writing Theory Practice and Pedagogy opens up the current workshop model and discloses the possibilities of linguistic transcendence for instructors and students With writing strategies based in cross cultural collaboration and balanced with de Anglicization of creative writing pedagogy this book calls to rework the structures methods and metaphors of the workshop and presents ideas for more collaborative collective equitable diverse and inclusive programs

The Essence of Other-Emptiness Taranatha,2007-02-09 Jeffrey Hopkins continues his groundbreaking exploration of the Jo nang ba sect of Tibetan Buddhism with this revelatory translation of one of the seminal texts from that tradition Whereas Dol bo ba s massive Mountain Doctrine authenticates the doctrine of other emptiness through extensive scriptural citations and elaborate philosophical arguments Taranatha s more concise work translated here situates the doctrine of other emptiness within the context of schools of tenets primarily the famed four schools of Tibetan Buddhism through comparing the various schools opinions on the status of the noumenon and phenomena Also included is a supplementary text by Taranatha which presents the opinions of a prominent fifteenth century Sakya scholar Shakya Chok den and contrasts them with those of the leading Jo nang ba scholar Dol bo ba Religious Persecution United States. Empty Sky John B. Buescher, 2005-03-17 The important Buddhist doctrine of the two truths conventional truths and ultimate truths is the subject of this book It examines how the doctrine evolved within early Buddhism from efforts to make sense of contradictions within the collected sayings of the Buddha The two truths however came to refer not primarily to statements or language but to the realities to which statements or language referred As such the doctrine of the two truths became one through which Buddhist philosophers focused their efforts to elaborate an abhidharma a higher teaching which allowed them to explain how the mind apprehends and misapprehends the world how it attaches itself to objects that do not exist in and of themselves thereby creating suffering In effect the doctrine then evolved into a distinction between different sorts of objects rather than a distinction between different sorts of statements The doctrine of the truths understood in this way played a key role in the articulation of the Mahayana by its followers in distinguishing it from what they called Hinayana especially in defining the central ideas of selflessness and emptiness Unlike prior books on this topic which concentrate on the doctrine within the context of the Mahayana Buescher s examines it within the context of the Hinayana Tibetan Buddhist syntheses of Buddhist doctrine provide a fascinating perspective from which to compare the positions of the major Indian schools Such works however often lack the historical perspective from which to discern the development of these positions The Journal of the International Association of Buddhist Studies International Association of Buddhist Studies, 1978

Reflections on Reality Jeffrey Hopkins, 2007 This is the second volume in Jeffrey Hopkins valuable series on the Mind Only School of Buddhism and a focal description of it in Dzong Ka ba s The Essence of Eloquence Dzong Ka ba 1357-1419 is generally regarded as one of the greatest Tibetan philosophers and his Mind Only discourse on emptiness is considered a landmark in Buddhist philosophy In Volume I Emptiness in the Mind Only School of Buddhism Hopkins provided a translation of the introduction and the section on the Mind Only School in The Essence of Eloquence The present volume places this enigmatic and influential exposition in its historical and philosophical contexts Reflections on Reality conveys the intellectual vibrancy of the different cultural interpretations of this text and expands the key philosophical issues it addresses Hopkins one of the leading scholarly voices in Tibetan studies begins this volume with two introductory chapters contextualizing Tibetan scholarship in general He then goes on to discuss in detail the religious significance of the central topic of the three natures in the Mind Only School He also considers various views on the status of reality including the doctrine of other emptiness promulgated by the fourteenth century Jo nang savant Shay rap gyel tsen Presenting accurate and insightful translations of a large amount of material that has never been available in English before he shows how these topics have been debated among scholars in Tibet over six centuries Comparing these with presentations in Europe Japan and the United States today he created a lively conversation between normally disparate voices
