Practice Of Diaspora:

The Practice of Diaspora Brent Hayes Edwards, 2003-07-10 Edwards revisits black transnational culture in the 1920s and 1930s paying particular attention to links between the intellectuals of the Harlem Renaissance and their Francophone counterparts in Paris He suggests that diaspora is less a historical condition than a set of practices through which black intellectuals pursue international alliances The Practice of Diaspora Brent Hayes Edwards, 2003 Jennifer Anne Boittin, 2010-06-01 Between the world wars the mesmerizing capital of France's colonial empire attracted denizens from Africa the Caribbean and the United States Paris became not merely their home but also a site for political engagement Colonial Metropolis tells the story of the interactions and connections of these black colonial migrants and white feminists in the social cultural and political world of interwar Paris and of how both were denied certain rights lauded by the Third Republic such as the vote how they suffered from sensationalist depictions in popular culture and how they pursued parity in ways that were often interpreted as politically subversive Missional Life in Practice and Theory Christopher L. Flanders, Greg McKinzie, 2024-01-19 Few missiologists have impacted mission theory and practice among Churches of Christ as significantly as has Dr Gailyn Van Rheenen yet his global missiological influence has extended far beyond the boundaries of his denominational heritage This Festschrift in honor of Gailyn Van Rheenen contains original missiological contributions from colleagues and former students Most chapters were presentations at the inaugural Gailyn Van Rheenen Sessions in Mission and World Christianity at the 2021 Christian Scholars Conference in Nashville Tennessee The volume is organized to parallel the phases of Van Rheenen's career Africa academic missiology and Mission Alive a North American church planting organization His legacy is one that wonderfully embodies critical theory and robust practice The Crisis ,2003-07 The Crisis founded by W E B Du Bois as the official publication of the NAACP is a journal of civil rights history politics and culture and seeks to educate and challenge its readers about issues that continue to plague African Americans and other communities of color For nearly 100 years The Crisis has been the magazine of opinion and thought leaders decision makers peacemakers and justice seekers It has chronicled informed educated entertained and in many instances set the economic political and social agenda for our nation and its multi ethnic citizens American Studies Janice A. Radway, Kevin Gaines, Barry Shank, Penny Von Eschen, 2009-03-09 American Studies is a vigorous bold account of the changes in the field of American Studies over the last thirty five years Through this set of carefully selected key essays by an editorial board of expert scholars the book demonstrates how changes in the field have produced new genealogies that tell different histories of both America and the study of America Charts the evolution of American Studies from the end of World War II to the present day by showcasing the best scholarship in this field An introductory essay by the distinguished editorial board highlights developments in the field and places each essay in its historical and theoretical context Explores topics such as American politics history culture race gender and working life Shows how changing perspectives have enabled older

Diasporic Poetics Timothy Yu,2021-07-08 This book advances a new concept concepts to emerge in a different context of the Asian diaspora that creates links between Asian American Asian Canadian and Asian Australian identities Drawing from comparable studies of the black diaspora it traces the histories of colonialism immigration and exclusion shared by these three populations The work of Asian poets in each of these three countries offers a rich terrain for understanding how Asian identities emerge at the intersection of national and transnational flows with the poets thematic and formal choices reflecting the varied pressures of social and cultural histories as well as the influence of Asian writers in other national locations Diasporic Poetics argues that racialized and nationally bounded Asian identities often emerge from transnational political solidarities from Third World struggles against colonialism to the global influence of the American civil rights movement Indeed this volume shows that Asian writers disclaim national belonging as often as they claim it placing Asian diasporic writers at a critical distance from the national spaces within which they write As the first full length study to compare Asian American Asian Canadian and Asian Australian writers the book offers the historical and cultural contexts necessary to understand the distinctive development of Asian writing in each country while also offering close analysis of the work of writers such as Janice Mirikitani Fred Wah Ouyang Yu Myung Mi Kim and Cathy Park Hong Practices in Africa and Beyond Nico Nassenstein, Andrea Hollington, 2015-09-14 Youth languages have increasingly attracted the attention of scholars and students of various disciplines African youth languages are a vibrant phenomenon with manifold characteristics involving a range of different languages This book is a first comprehensive study of African youth languages and presents fresh insights into various youth languages providing linguistic as well as sociolinguistic data and analyses

American Studies as Transnational Practice Yuan Shu, Donald E. Pease, 2015-12-22 This wide ranging collection brings together an eclectic group of scholars to reflect upon the transnational configurations of the field of American studies and how these have affected its localizations epistemological perspectives ecological imaginaries and politics of translation The volume elaborates on the causes of the transnational paradigm shift in American studies and describes the material changes that this new paradigm has effected during the past two decades The contributors hail from a variety of postcolonial transoceanic hemispheric and post national positions and sensibilities enabling them to theorize a crossroads of cultures explanation of transnational American studies that moves beyond the multicultural studies model Offering a rich and rewarding mix of essays and case studies this collection will satisfy a broad range of students and scholars To be Free and French Lorelle Semley, 2017-07-20 An ambitious new vision of French citizenship from the perspective of Africans and Antilleans living in the colonies and mainland France Lorelle Semley explores the ways in which these colonial subjects used French democratic ideals to demand rights and redefine the meanings of freedom and Frenchness African Studies:

Macamo, Jean-Bernard Ouédraogo, 2019-01-17 How realistic is it to expect translation to render the world intelligible in a context shaped by different historical trajectories and experiences Can we rely on human universals to translate through the unique and specific webs of meaning that languages represent If knowledge production is a kind of translation then it is fair to assume that the possibility of translation has largely rested on the idea that Western experience is the repository of these human universals against the background of which different human experiences can be rendered intelligible. The problem with this assumption however is that there are limits to Western claims to universalism mainly because these claims were at the service of the desire to justify imperial expansion This book addresses issues arising from these claims to universalism in the process of producing knowledge about diverse African social realities It shows that the idea of knowledge production as translation can be usefully deployed to inquire into how knowledge of Africa translates into an imperial attempt at changing local norms institutions and spiritual values Translation in this sense is the normalization of meanings issuing from a local historical experience claiming to be universal The task of producing knowledge of African social realities cannot be adequately addressed without a prior critical engagement with how translation has come to shape our ways of rendering Africa intelligible Dismantling Diasporas Dr Anastasia Christou, Dr Elizabeth Mavroudi, 2015-04-28 Re energising debates on the conceptualisation of diasporas in migration scholarship and in geography this work stresses the important role that geographers can play in interrupting assumptions about the spaces and processes of diaspora The intricate material and complex ways in which those in diaspora contest construct and perform identity politics development and place is explored throughout this book The authors dismantle diasporas in order to re theorise the concept through empirically grounded cutting edge global research This innovative volume will appeal to an international and interdisciplinary audience in ethnic migration and diaspora studies as it tackles comparative multi sited and multi method research through compelling case studies in a variety of contexts spanning the Global North and South The research in this book is guided by four interconnected themes the ways in which diasporas are constructed and performed through identity the body everyday practice and place how those in diaspora become politicised and how this leads to unities and disunities in relation to here and there the ways in which diasporas seek to
