Leadership in Residential Child Care Dione

Hills, Camilla Child, 2000-04-07 In one enquiry after another there has been a call for an increase in the proportion of qualified staff in residential child care services as one of a range of solutions to the difficulties that have beset the service Leadership in Residential Child Care compares and assesses courses available for professional social work training and explores the ways that training contributes to the quality of care in the sector Drawing on an evaluation of the Residential Child Care Initiative the authors examine the dilemmas concerning the provision of qualification training for residential care staff today They address issues such as the loss of qualified staff from the sector different models of professional competence that qualification seeks to achieve the role qualification and training can play in enhancing the status of what is sometimes seen as the Cinderella element in child care provision Leadership in Residential Child Care discusses issues of considerable relevance to managers and trainers seeking to maximise the value they derive from the training provided to residential child care staff The experience of special courses developed under the Residential Child Care Initiative will be of interest to all those concerned with the development of the sector from those considering the training needs of residential care staff to teachers and tutors in universities and colleges of higher education providing social work qualification programmes

Working in Group Care Ward, Adrian, 2006-11 Working in group care ie residential and day services is a challenging and complex task demanding great skill patience knowledge and understanding This book explains how best practice can be achieved through the focused and engaged work of individuals and teams who are well supported and managed Detailed attention is paid to the value of everyday practice and its underlying principles The book brings together theory practice and research findings from across the whole field of group care for all user groups including health education and probation settings as well as social work and social care The first edition was warmly welcomed as well organised and accessible and a valuable addition to the literature British Journal of Social Work This second edition is updated and expanded including substantial new material on the concept of opportunity led work The book will be an essential text for all those involved in residential and day care practice whether as practitioners students managers or trainers It argues strongly for seeing group care as valuable and skilled work and for a holistic understanding of good practice      Daily Experience in Residential Life Juliet Berry, 2025-09-01 First published in 1975 Daily Experience in Residential Life based on questionnaires completed by students during their residential placements breaks new ground with fresh implications for social work training and practice The author first examines daily life experiences of children in a wide range of residential provision with particular reference to methods of handling uncooperative children second to consider effective ways of enabling caregivers to provide helpful rather than neutral or even punitive daily treatment Her findings suggest that children with similar needs differ greatly in the quality of care they receive and that variations particularly in methods of discipline and control depend less upon theoretical principles than upon their caregivers immediate pressures in practice Therefore her major recommendation also applicable to children in foster care day school or at risk in their own homes and to dependent adults either at home or in institutional care is that the caregivers themselves require appropriate ongoing experience of professional support in their very difficult task      Rethinking Residential Child Care Mark Smith, 2009-02-25 The book provides a broad and critical look at policy and practice in residential child care and the ideas that have shaped the development of the sector      Decisions and Orders of the National Labor Relations Board United States.
