Pragmatism in the Age of Jihad Michael A. Gomez, Michael Gomez, 2002-07-04 Bundu was an anomaly among the precolonial Muslim states of West Africa Founded during the jihads which swept the savannah in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries it developed a pragmatic policy unique in the midst of fundamentalist theocratic Muslim states Located in the Upper Senegal and with access to the Upper Gambia Bundu played a critical role in regional commerce and production and reacted quickly to the stimulus of European trade Drawing upon a wide range of sources both oral and documentary Arabic English and French Dr Gomez provides the first full account of Bundu s history He analyses the foundation and growth of an Islamic state at a crossroads between the Saharan and trans Atlantic trade paying particular attention to the relationship between Islamic thought and court policy and to the state s response to militant Islam in the early nineteenth century American Journal of Islamic Social Sciences 13:1 John Obert Voll, Suroosh Igani, Chandra Muzaffar, Abdelwahab

Islam and Social Change in French West Africa Sean Hanretta, 2009-03-23 Exploring the history and religious community of a group of Muslim Sufi mystics in colonial French West Africa this study shows the relationship between religious social and economic change in the region It highlights the role that intellectuals played in shaping social and cultural change and illuminates the specific religious ideas and political contexts that gave their efforts meaning In contrast to depictions that emphasize the importance of international networks and anti modern reaction in twentieth century Islamic reform this book claims that in West Africa such movements were driven by local forces and constituted only the most recent round in a set of centuries old debates about the best way for pious people to confront social injustice It argues that traditional historical methods prevent an appreciation of Muslim intellectual history in Africa by misunderstanding the nature of information gathering during colonial rule and misconstruing the relationship between documents and oral history

Navigating Local Transitional Justice Laura S. Martin,2023-05-11 In post war Sierra Leone a range of transitional justice mechanisms were implemented to address experiences of conflict violence and human rights violations Much of the research on local transitional justice processes has focused on the work of organisations failing to acknowledge how individual and communal dynamics shape and are shaped by these programs Drawing on original fieldwork in Sierra Leone Laura S Martin moves beyond discussions measuring effectiveness and considers how people navigate their circumstances in conflict and post conflict societies Developing the idea of recognised and unrecognised transitional justice processes Martin uses Fambul Tok as an example of a recognised local transitional justice program and shows how ordinary Sierra Leoneans appropriated Fambul Tok's agenda for their own purposes. Ultimately this book highlights the crucial role of agency and the diverse range of actors involved in transitional justice processes. Justice as Martin powerfully argues is not something that happens to or for people but is enacted by individuals and communities. Trajectories of Authoritarianism in Rwanda Marie-Eve Desrosiers, 2023-01-19 Challenging assumptions regarding the strength and control of authoritarian governments in Rwanda in the decades before the 1994 genocide Marie Eve Desrosiers uses original archival data and interviews to highlight the complex relations between authorities, opponents and society. Through careful detailed analysis Desrosiers offers a nuanced assessment of the functions and evolution of authoritarianism over time demonstrating how the governments of Rwanda's first two post independence Republics 1962-1990 sought and often struggled to cement their rule. Whilst the deeper lived realities of authoritarianism are generally neglected by multi cases comparisons at the heart of comparative authoritarian studies this illuminating survey highlights the essential yet subtle authoritarian strategies, patterns and forms of decay that are too often overlooked when addressing authoritarian contexts. Making Citizens in Africa Lahra Smith, 2013-05-20 This book provides a study of contemporary politics in Ethiopia through an empirical focus on language policy, citizenship, ethnic identity and gender. It is unique in its focus not only on the political institutions of Ethiopia and the history of the country but in that it studies these subjects at the intersection of both modern and historical time periods. In particular it argues that meaningful citizenship which is much more than the legal state of being a citizen is a process of citizens and the state negotiating the practice of citizenship. Therefore it puts the citizen back at the forefront of the process of expanding citizenship suggesting the ways that citizens support, resist and affect state policy on political rights.

The Value of Disorder Julien Brachet, Judith Scheele, 2019-05-09 Based on long term research in northern Chad this book provides a unique account of mobility, wealth and aspirations to political autonomy at the heart of the contemporary Sahara. Colonizing Consent Elizabeth Thornberry, 2019 Using a wealth of court records Colonizing Consent shows how rape cases were caught up in and helped shape the major political debates in colonial South Africa. Ethnic Patriotism and the East African Revival Derek R. Peterson, 2012-09-24 Ethnic Patriotism and the East African Revival shows how in the era of African political independence cosmopolitan Christian converts struggled with East Africa's patriots over the definition of culture and community. The book traces the history of the East African Revival an evangelical movement that spread through much of eastern and central Africa. Its converts offered a subversive reading of culture disavowing their compatriots and disregarding their obligations to kin. They earned the ire of East Africa's patriots who worked to root people in place as inheritors of ancestral wisdom. This book casts religious conversion in a new light not as an inward reorientation of belief but as a political action that opened up novel paths of self narration and unsettled the inventions of tradition. Race and Diplomacy in Zimbabwe Timothy Lewis Scarnecchia, 2023-03-09 Examining the role of racism within international relations bureaucracies during years of diplomacy before and after Zimbabwe's Independence in 1980 Timothy Scarnecchia offers a
