Praisong For The Widow:

Praisesong for the Widow Paule Marshall, 1984-04-16 From the acclaimed author of Daughters and Brown Girl Brownstones comes a work of exceptional wisdom maturity and generosity one in which the palpable humanity of its characters transcends any considerations of race or sex Washington Post Book World Avey Johnson a black middle aged middle class widow given to hats gloves and pearls has long since put behind her the Harlem of her childhood Then on a cruise to the Caribbean with two friends inspired by a troubling dream she senses her life beginning to unravel and in a panic packs her bag in the middle of the night and abandons her friends at the next port of call The unexpected and beautiful adventure that follows provides Avey with the links to the culture and history she has so long disavowed Astonishingly moving Anne Tyler The New York Times Book Review The Fiction of Paule Marshall Dorothy Hamer Denniston, 1995 Introduction anatomy of an aesthetic the African cultural base 1 Challenging the American norm the gendered sensibility in the Valley between 2 Beyond bildungsroman constructions of gender and culture in Brown girl brownstones 3 Cultural expansion and masculine subjectivity Soul clap hands and sing 4 Maturation and multiplicity in consciousness the short stories 5 Changing the present order personal and political liberation in The chosen place the timeless people 6 Recognition and recovery diasporan connections in Praisesong for the widow 7 Transformation and re creation of female identity in Daughters Praisesong of Survival Richard Kenneth Barksdale, 1992 Tongue and Mother Tongue African Literature Association. Meeting, 2002 Tongue and Mother Tongue takes on two compelling challenges the language question and the place and role of the mother tongue in African literature This collection is the culmination of the fierce decades old debate on the question of African literature and its criticism The fourteen essays range from a variety of critical and theoretical perspectives covering the theoretical and ideological aspects of the language question the nature of criticism the influence of the oral tradition critical analysis of mother tongue literature and textual analyses Constructing Black Selves Lisa Diane McGill, 2005-11-01 In 1965 the Hart Cellar Immigration Reform Act ushered in a huge wave of immigrants from across the Caribbean Jamaicans Cubans Haitians and Dominicans among others How have these immigrants and their children negotiated languages of race and ethnicity in American social and cultural politics As black immigrants to which America do they assimilate Constructing Black Selves explores the cultural production of second generation Caribbean immigrants in the United States after World War II as a prism for understanding the formation of Caribbean American identity Lisa D McGill pays particular attention to music literature and film centering her study around the figures of singer actor Harry Belafonte writers Paule Marshall Audre Lorde and Piri Thomas and meringue hip hop group Proyecto Uno Illuminating the ways in which Caribbean identity has been transformed by mass migration to urban landscapes as well as the dynamic and sometimes conflicted relationship between Caribbean American and African American cultural politics Constructing Black Selves is an important contribution to studies of twentieth century U S immigration African American and Afro Caribbean history and literature and theories of ethnicity and race      The Female Tradition in Southern Literature Carol S. Manning, 1993 This collection of critical essays examines the contributions to and influences on literature that have been made by Southern women writers From publisher description      A Human Necklace Moira Ferguson, 2013-12-02 From Brown Girl Brownstones 1959 to The Fisher King 2000 Paule Marshall's novels, novellas and short stories include a rich cast of unforgettable men, women and children who forge spiritual as well as emotional and geographical paths toward their ancestors In this the first critical study to address all of Marshall's fiction Moira Ferguson argues that Marshall's work collectively constitutes a multigenerational saga of the African diaspora across centuries and continents In creating a space for her characters' interrupted lives and those of their elders and ancestors Ferguson argues Marshall trains a spotlight on slavery's wake and engages her fiction in the service of healing deep global wounds      Nation Dance Patrick Taylor, 2001 Dealing with the ongoing interaction of rich and diverse cultural traditions from Cuba and Jamaica to Guyana and Surinam Nation Dance addresses some of the major contemporary issues in the study of Caribbean religion and identity The book's three sections move from a focus on spirituality and healing to theology in social and political context and on to questions of identity and diaspora The book begins with the voices of female practitioners and then offers a broad interdisciplinary examination of Caribbean religion and culture Afro Caribbean religions Hinduism Judaism Islam and Christianity are all addressed with specific reflections on Santería Palo Monte Vodou Winti Obeah Kali Mai Orisha work Spiritual Baptist faith Spiritualism Rastafari Confucianism Congregationalism Pentecostalism Catholicism and liberation theology Some essays are based on fieldwork archival research and textual or linguistic analysis while others are concerned with methodological or theoretical issues Contributors include practitioners and scholars some very established in the field others with fresh new approaches all of them come from the region or have done extensive fieldwork or research there In these essays the poetic vitality of the practitioner's voice meets the attentive commitment of the postcolonial scholar in a dance of nations across the waters      Toward Wholeness in Paule Marshall's Fiction Joyce Owens Pettis, 1995 An examination of Marshall's work and its place in the tradition of African American women's fiction and of black American and Caribbean literature and culture Explores the intersecting patterns of race class and gender oppressions that contribute to her characters' problems and their attempts to transcend this oppression For readers in women's Caribbean and African American literature Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR      Worrying the Line Cheryl A. Wall, 2005 In blues music worrying the line is the technique of breaking up a phrase by changing pitch adding a shout or repeating words in order to emphasize clarify or subvert a moment in a song Cheryl A Wall applies this term to fiction and nonfiction wr      Binding Cultures Gay Wilentz, 1992-05-22 Wilentz makes convincing arguments for the connections between African and Afro American women's culture Nellie McKay Wilentz's jargon free intelligent discussion will appeal to students in African American and women's literature courses as well as general readers interested in the emerging field Choice Through these works Wilentz demonstrates the powerful transformation possible through understanding and embracing the past even if that past includes oppression and brutalization Belles Lettres Binding Cultures investigates the cultural bonds between African and African American women writers such as Nigerian Flora Nwapa and Ghanaians Efua Sutherland and Ama Ata Aidoo writers who focus on the role of women in passing on cultural values to future generations and African American writers Alice Walker Toni Morrison and Paule Marshall who self consciously evoke African culture to help create a more integrated African American community

Making Men Belinda Edmondson, 1999 Explores the gendered subjectivity of West Indian writers and their dependence on models from Victorian England for their narratives of self and nation

Taking Flight Jennifer Donahue, 2020-07-23 Caribbean women have long utilized the medium of fiction to break the pervasive silence surrounding abuse and exploitation Contemporary works by such authors as Tiphonie Yanique and Nicole Dennis Benn illustrate the deep rooted consequences of trauma based on gender sexuality and race and trace the steps that women take to find safer ground from oppression Taking Flight examines the immigrant experience in contemporary Caribbean women s writing and considers the effects of restrictive social mores In the texts examined in Taking Flight culturally sanctioned violence impacts the ability of female characters to be at home in their bodies or in the spaces they inhabit The works draw attention to the historic racialization and sexualization of black women s bodies and continue the legacy of narrating black women s long standing contestation of systems of oppression Arguing that there is a clear link between trauma shame and migration with trauma serving as a precursor to the protagonists emigration Jennifer Donahue focuses on how female bodies are policed how moral racial and sexual codes are linked and how the enforcement of social norms can function as a form of trauma Donahue considers the relationship between trauma shame and sexual politics and investigates how shame works as a social regulator that frequently leads to withdrawal or avoidant behaviors in those who violate socially sanctioned mores Most importantly Taking Flight positions flight as a powerful counter to disempowerment and considers how flight whether through dissociation or migration functions as a form of resistance

Africana Methodology James L. Conyer, Jr., 2018-10-15 This book critically examines the collection interpretation and analysis of quantitative and qualitative data from an Afrocentric perspective The necessity of interpretive Afrocentric research is relevant to position agency and to locate Africana studies in place space and time This study will provide readers with a compilation of literary historical philosophical and social science essays that describe and evaluate the Africana experience from a methodological perspective Paradoxically the collection presents measurable and qualitative research in order to flush out a global Pan Africanist consciousness

Caribbean Women Writers Mary Condé, Thorunn Lonsdale, 1999-02-12 Caribbean Women Writers is a collection of scholarly articles on the fiction of selected Caribbean women writers from Antigua Barbados Belize Dominica Grenada Guyana Jamaica and Trinidad It includes not only close critical analysis of texts by Erna Brodber Dionne Brand Zee Edgell Jamaica Kincaid Paule Marshall Pauline Melville Jean Rhys and Olive Senior but also personal statements from the writers Merle Collins Beryl Gilroy Vernella Fuller and Velma Pollard      The Search for Wholeness and Diaspora Literacy in Contemporary African American Literature Silvia Castro-Borrego, 2011-05-25 This volume has as a cohesive argument the exploration of the different manifestations of the search for wholeness and spirituality in the writings of contemporary African American women writers covering different literary genres such as fiction both novels and short stories drama and poetry Together with the issue of spirituality the African American search for wholeness is analyzed as a source of creativity and agency As expressed in the contemporary literature of black women writers starting in the 1980s the search for wholeness reflects a beauty realized through the healing of the spirit and the body and is a process that takes on dimensions of reconciling the past and the present the mythical and the real the spiritual and the physical all in the context of an emerging world view that welcomes synthesis and expects both synthesis and generative contradictions The book will be a valuable collection for scholars of African American literature comparative American Ethnic literature American literature and spirituality as well as women s studies In addition it will be an important text for both undergraduate and graduate students in those fields As Professor Johnnella Butler 2006 points out the African American search for wholeness is tightly linked to the search for freedom and agency Ever since the 19th century African American writers have given expression to an African American self which functions in Western civilization simultaneously as a colonized other and an assertive self Due to the continuous ordeal of the African Diaspora this self is caught in between the binaries proposed by the material and the spiritual world seeking a balance where the person can become whole The search for wholeness feeds from cultural roots that imply the presence of ancestral spiritualism rememory and double consciousness Contemporary black women writers reflect the metaphor of building spiritual bridges seeking the possibilities of building a bridge to the archetypal African past that is carried in their memories as a presence that offers sustenance via spiritual reconnection Their works seek to bridge the gap between the myths and traditions of the past and contemporary African American culture The texts included in this collection are examples of writing as an exercise of what V v Clark calls Diaspora literacy The texts written by contemporary African American women writers explicitly show how to recognize and read the cultural signs left scattered along the road of progress In this way material acquisition is achieved along with cultural dispossession becoming a metaphor for the history of the African in America The powerful message is that one should not exclude the other      Callaloo ,2007 A Black South journal of arts and letters      Ghosts of the African Diaspora Joanne Chassot, 2018-01-02 The first monograph to investigate the poetics and politics of haunting in African diaspora literature Ghosts of the African Diaspora Re Visioning History Memory and Identity examines literary works by five contemporary writers Fred D Aguiar Gloria Naylor Paule Marshall Michelle Cliff and Toni Morrison Joanne Chassot argues that reading these texts through the lens of the ghost does cultural theoretical and political work crucial to the writers engagement with issues of identity memory and history Drawing on memory and trauma studies postcolonial studies and queer theory this truly interdisciplinary volume makes an important contribution to the fast growing field of spectrality studies      Fusion of Cultures? ,2022-02-28 The intention of this second volume of ASNEL Papers is to counter orthodox post colonial emphases on alterity subversion and counter discourse with another set of concepts fusion syncretism hybridity creolisation cross fertilisation cross cultural identity diaspora Topics covered include gender and identity syncretic aesthetics in Nigerian and South African performing arts hyphenated identities in diasporic fiction reversals of colonial mimicry in Ugandan fiction cultural reflexivity in the Victorian juvenile novel the persistence of colonial traits in Zimbabwean war fiction syncretic strategies of resistance in African prison memoirs indigene life histories and intercultural authorship neo essentialism in post colonial critiques of the Rushdie Affair US multiculturalism and political praxis creolisation in Surinam cultural complexities in the Caribbean epic literary representations of the Haitian Revolution Authors treated within broader frameworks include Margaret Atwood R M Ballantyne Marie Claire Blais Alejo Carpentier Roch Carrier Aim C saire Michelle Cliff Tsitsi Dangarembga Edouard Glissant Andrew Hacker Eddy L Harris Wilson Harris Bessie Head C L R James Maxine Hong Kingston Jayanta Mahapatra Paule Marshall A K Mehrotra Timothy Mo Bharati Mukherjee Ngugi wa Thiong o Akiki Nyabongo Eugene O Neill Molefe Pheto Salman Rushdie Wole Soyinka Ted Trindell and Derek Walcott There are also poems by David Woods and Afua Cooper      Twentieth-Century and
