INTRODUCTION

Hong Kong is a city-state of 7.4 million people on the southern tip of China, positioned at intersections of East and Southeast Asia. Officially named the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (HKSAR) of the People’s Republic of China (PRC), Hong Kong was one of the British Empire’s most prized territories until it returned control to the PRC (aka mainland China) in 1997. Despite officially being under the rule of mainland China, Hong Kong was given the status of “1 nation, 2 systems” and allowed to maintain a separate political, economic, and educational system. Along with Macau (also a SAR), independent Taiwan, and mainland China, Hong Kong is categorized as part of Greater China. Emerging from the Cold War, Hong Kong came to be known as one of the world’s great metropolises. Not only was it the pop culture mecca of Chinese peoples, and the portal city to China and much of Asia, it also consistently ranked amongst the Top Five in the world on international education exams (e.g., PISA, TIMSS) and is a global financial center after New York and London (Chang & McLaren, 2018; Ip, 2017; Lowe & Tsang, 2018). In 2014 and 2019, students in Hong Kong caught the world’s attention and imagination in a different way. This occurred through massive

Praxis Makes Perfect Critical Educational Research For Social Justice:

Praxis Makes Perfect Iram Siraj-Blatchford, 1994 An examination of educational research aimed at those critical post graduate research students and researchers who have completed research methods courses but who have yet to take on the challenge and responsibility of justifying their knowledge claims rigorously A significant contribution to the scant literature available on research methods and their implications for social justice

Educational Research For Social Justice Morwenna Griffiths, 1998-11-16 This is a book for all researchers in educational settings whose research is motivated by considerations of justice fairness and equity It addresses questions such researchers have to face Will a prior political or ethical commitment bias the research How far can the ideas of empowerment or giving a voice be realised How can researchers who research communities to which they belong deal with the ethical issues of being both insider and outsider The book provides a set of principles for doing educational research for social justice These are rooted in considerations of methodology epistemology and power relations and provide a framework for dealing with the practical issues of collaboration ethics bias empowerment voice uncertain knowledge and reflexivity at all stages of research from getting started to dissemination and taking responsibility as members of the wider community of educational researchers Theoretical arguments and the realities of practical research are brought together and interwoven Thus the book will be helpful to all researchers whether they are just beginning their first project or whether they are already highly experienced It will be of great value to research students in designing and writing up their theses and dissertations

Action for Social Justice in Education Morwenna Griffiths, 2003-09-16 Once again Morwenna Griffiths has produced a book on an important topic that speaks to theorists and practitioners alike Read it Professor Alison Assiter University of the West of England Bristol This is a must read for anyone who wants to be provoked and supported toward action and change in education Professor Marilyn Johnston College of Education Ohio State University USA a thoroughly engaging text British Journal of Educational Studies Socrates said we can't teach anyone anything but only help them to think that's what this book did for me and that's why I liked this book and would recommend it to my students my friends and my colleagues Unlike the majority of academic books I found myself treating it like a novel and saving it up to read before I went to sleep at night reading it more slowly as it got near the end not wanting it to be finished I liked it because it resonated with many of my experiences over the years and reminded me that I'm not alone in finding the struggle for social justice in education hard but passionately worthwhile InService Education Social justice is a verb This book puts forward a view of social justice as action orientated rather than as a static theory Complex discussions of difference equality recognition and redistribution are made accessible and relevant to issues of class race gender sexuality and disability Interwoven with the discussion are compelling individual accounts of the pleasures and pains the pitfalls and glittering prizes to be found in education told by individuals coming from a diversity of social economic and ethnic backgrounds The second part of the book includes examples of successful interventions in real situations related to self esteem empowerment partnership and the initiation of individual and joint action to improve social justice in education The discussion is kept open through answering back sections by educators committed to social justice Deborah Chetcuti Max Biddulph Ghazala Bhatti Roy Corden Melanie Walker Jon Nixon and Kenneth Dunkwu

Multidisciplinary Approaches to Educational Research Sadaf Rizvi, 2013-06-17 This book provides an original perspective on a range of controversial issues in educational and social research through case studies of multi disciplinary and mixed method research involving children teachers schools and communities in Europe and the developing world These case studies from researchers across continents and across disciplines explore a range of interesting issues including the relevance of research approaches to very different national settings and to the kinds of questions being asked the barriers of language and culture between researcher and researched articulating the thinking and feelings of very young children the challenges of dealing with partiality of data issues of identity subjectivity and reflexivity and transferring research approaches from one national setting to the problems posed in another Critical Issues in Youth Work Management Jon Ord, 2013-06-17 This valuable textbook communicates the complexities and controversies at the heart of youth work management exploring key issues in a critical fashion Written by a team of experienced youth work lecturers the chapters cover topics such as planning evaluation and supervision whilst acknowledging the changing structures of integrated services and the impact of public service reform Divided into three sections it covers Historical and theoretical context Critical practice issues including leadership policy constraints planning and accountability Managing in different settings for instance integrated services and the voluntary sector Aimed at both youth work students studying for their professional qualification as well as practicing managers Critical Issues in Youth Work Management encourages critical thinking about what management in youth work is and what it can be It includes reflective questions and further reading and case studies are integrated throughout Doing Early Childhood Research Sharne A Rolfe, Glenda MacNaughton, Iram

Siraj-Blatchford, 2020-08-04 Doing Early Childhood Research demystifies the research process An international team of experienced researchers shows how to select the right questions and use the appropriate methods to investigate important issues in early childhood The editors and authors provide a thorough introduction to the most common research methods used in the early childhood context Reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of much early childhood research they cover a wide range of conventional and newer approaches including observation small surveys action research ethnography policy analysis and poststructuralist approaches They explain clearly how to set up research projects which are theoretically grounded well designed rigorously analysed feasible and ethically fair Each chapter is illustrated with examples and case studies Doing Early Childhood Research is essential reading for new researchers and students inexperienced in conducting research Taking Sides in Social Research Martyn Hammersley, 2005-08-12 In the past it was generally taken for granted that the goal of social research was the production of objective knowledge and that this required a commitment to value neutrality In more recent times however both these ideals have come to be challenged and it is often argued that all research is inevitably political in its assumptions and effects In this major contribution to the debate Martyn Hammersley assesses the arguments from the classic and still influential contributions of C Wright Mills Howard Becker and Alvin Gouldner to the present day He concludes that the case for partisanship is not convincing and that an intelligent and sceptical commitment to the principles of objectivity and value neutrality must remain an essential feature of research

Perspectives from Young Children on the Margins Jane Murray, Colette Gray, 2020-06-29 In spite of our apparently connected global environment people are becoming less connected Digital communication leads to fewer face to face engagements and many young children are separated from their parents for extended periods The post truth phenomenon has resulted in mistrust between policymakers and the people they serve whilst increased immigration has led to some rich countries adopting a protectionist stance that transforms collaboration into separatism At its 2014 meeting the European Early Childhood Education Research Association's Young Children's Perspectives Special Interest Group considered how these issues were affecting young children particularly the many thousands entering Europe at that time as refugees and migrants escaping conflict in their home countries Many of those displaced young children found themselves situated on the margins of their new contexts The feeling of being othered can be existential for any young child experiencing liminality yet a sense of belonging is important for young children's well being and development of identity the feeling of belonging lies at the core of social inclusion This book the idea for which arose out of this meeting is drawn from leading edge empirical studies and reveals the diverse experiences of young children's marginalisation This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Early Childhood Education Research Journal EBOOK: Doing Early Childhood Research Glenda Mac Naughton, Sharne Rolfe, Iram Siraj-Blatchford, 2010-06-16 It is rare for any research methodology book to cover so much ground and contain so many different kinds of resources between two covers Journal of Education for Teaching As a guide for new and inexperienced researchers it is second to none British Journal of Educational Studies Doing Early Childhood Research demystifies the research process An international team of experienced researchers shows how to select methods which are appropriate for working with young children in early childhood settings or at home They provide a thorough introduction to the most common research methods used in the early childhood context Reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of much early childhood research they cover a wide range of conventional and newer methods including observation small surveys interviews with adults and children action research ethnography and quasi experimental approaches They explain clearly how to set up research projects which are theoretically grounded well designed rigorously analysed feasible and ethically based Each chapter is illustrated with examples Widely used by early childhood researchers in many countries this second edition of Doing Early Childhood Research has been fully revised It includes new chapters on beginning research mixed methods research interviewing children and working with Indigenous children and also new case study chapters It is essential reading for novice initial career and experienced researchers Contributors Maria Assun o Folque Sue Atkinson Lopez Mindy Blaise Liane Brow Margaret Coady Audrey D Souza Juma Anne Edwards Sue Emmett Susan Grieshaber Linda Harrison Alan Hayes Patrick Hughes Glenda Mac Naughton Karen Martin Sharne A Rolfe Iram Siraj Blatchford John Siraj Blatchford Louise Taylor Teresa Vasconcelos Doing Research About Education Geoffrey Walford,2003-09-02 This book brings together semi autobiographical accounts from major educationalists about their influential research focusing on the practical and personal aspects of the research process The collection reflects the great changes that have occurred within educational research since the 1980s and deals with the issues and situations of the late 1990s It includes accounts that cover the various stages of the research process a sampling of topics the diversity of methodologies used in educational research and a range of theoretical perspectives There is coverage of qualitative and quantitative methodologies and of large and smaller scale research Also discussed are ESRC programme research contract research and theoretical research The RoutledgeFalmer Reader in Multicultural Education David Gillborn,Gloria Ladson-Billings,2004 Bringing together scholarship from both sides of the Atlantic this book focuses on the questions that shape the field of multicultural education offering the reader an opportunity to achieve a real grasp of the subject

Challenging Ways Of Knowing Dave Baker,John Clay,Carol Fox,2012-10-12 This work provides an analysis of how knowledge is constructed and defined by teachers and lecturers in schools and universities colleges It considers how everyday uses of reading writing numeracy and science are cast aside in favour of academic language and academic discourse arguing that such discourses are alien to learners daily experiences and are therefore difficult to acquire and adopt Chapters examine literacies of English mathematics and science as practised in and outside schools and colleges The book is interdisciplinary and multicultural adopting perspectives from the UK USA South Africa India Brazil and Kenya It should be of interest to a wide market of educationalists including those involved in educational policy making teacher education cultural multicultural studies development studies anthropology and adult and continuing education A Sociology of Educating Roland Meighan,Clive Harber,2007-01-25 Intended to stimulate sociologically informed thinking about educating this book has become firmly established in its field winning places on reading lists for Education Studies Initial Teacher Training and Continuing Professional Development courses The book begins with a light hearted taste of sociology and then goes on to explore five key areas of education the hidden curriculum ideologies of educating sociological perspectives and the study of education educational life chances and the next learning system This new edition includes sections on personalized learning progressive education and the impact of assessment on pupils It also comes with a new chapter The Discourses of Education Roland Meighan is a former Special Professor of Education University of Nottingham UK and Senior Lecturer University of Birmingham UK Clive Harber is Professor of Education and Head of the School of Education University of Birmingham UK He brings with him expertise in the field of International Education and Educational Development With contributions by Len Barton and Iram Siraj Blatchford both of the Institute of Education University of London and Stephen Walker Reader in the Sociology of Education and Visiting Professor in the Science of Education University of Bari Doing Early Childhood Research Mac Naughton, Glenda, Rolfe, Sharne, Siraj-Blatchford, Iram, 2010-07-01 This book demystifies the research process and shows how to select methods which are appropriate for working with young children in early childhood settings or at home

Early Years Policy Zenna Kingdon, Jan Gourd, 2013-11-07 How does early years policy impact on practitioners children settings and families What are the implications of current policy for the future How can early years professionals shape and craft practice in ways that genuinely focus on the needs of children and families rather than the interests of policy makers This exciting new text explores the changing context and increasing importance of early years policy It takes a broad look at policy developments and shows how these have affected children settings parents and the early years workforce Divided into two parts the first examines theoretical perspectives and sets out the early years policy context looking at issues surrounding accountability international influences on policy and the Early Years Foundation Stage The second half of the book directly shows how policy has influenced practice and considers the upskilling of the workforce and the impact of this on practitioners the development of the learning environment including outdoor provision sustained shared thinking and its link to high quality learning and teaching the impact of policy on parents Offering a fresh perspective on early years policy this timely textbook will be essential reading for students on undergraduate and postgraduate Early Years and Childhood Studies courses and those working towards Early Years Teacher status
