Stepping Westward Nigel Leask, 2020-02-27 Stepping Westward is the first book dedicated to the literature of the Scottish Highland tour of 1720-1830, a major cultural phenomenon that attracted writers and artists like Pennant, Johnson and Boswell, William and Dorothy Wordsworth, Coleridge, Scott, Hogg, Keats, Daniell and Turner, as well as numerous less celebrated travellers and tourists. Addressing more than a century's worth of literary and visual representations of the Highlands, the book casts new light on how the tour developed a modern literature of place, acting as a catalyst for thinking about improvement, landscape and the shaping of British, Scottish and Gaelic identities. It pays attention to the relationship between travellers and the native Gaels whose world was plunged into crisis by rapid and forced social change. At the book's core lie the best-selling tours of Pennant and Dr Johnson, associated with attempts to improve the intractable Gaidhealtachd in the wake of Culloden. Alongside the Ossian craze and Gilpin's picturesque, their books stimulated a wave of home tours from the 1770s through the romantic period, including writing by women like Sarah Murray and Dorothy Wordsworth. The incidence of published Highland Tours, many lavishly illustrated, peaked around 1800 but as the genre reached exhaustion, the romantic Highlands were reinvented in Scott's poems and novels, coinciding with steam boats and mass tourism but also rack-renting, sheep clearance and emigration. Science Fiction, Fantasy & Horror, 1991 A comprehensive bibliography of books and short fiction published in the English language.

Planetary Rounds of the Divine Monad Helena Petrovna Blavatsky, 2017-08-23 Overview of the doctrine of septenary chains of worlds in the Solar Kosmos. A Master of Wisdom explains the struggle of Monadic Consciousness passing through seven man-bearing planets. At the dawn of a new Solar Manvantara, progressed entities from the previous manvantara are born in the First Race of the First Round, ahead of the Elementals and remain as latent, inactive spiritual force in the aura of the nascent world of the new manvantara until the stage of human evolution is reached. They will have then to accept the last drop in the bitter cup of retribution. The passage of human races in between planets being critical requires the presence of a Dhyani Chohan. Gautama is the fifth leader and spiritual teacher in this round on this planet, and the fourth who became Buddha. The one who will appear at the close of the Seventh Root Race, before the occupation of the next higher planet by humanity, will again be a Dhyani Chohan. At the beginning of each round, it is the duty of the First Race to choose fit recipients among its sons as vessels to contain the whole stock of knowledge to be divided among future races and generations until the close of that round. Every round on the descending arc is but a repetition in a more concrete form of the previous round, a grosser and more material copy supervised and guided by special Builders and Watchers. Rounds and their role in the serial evolution of nascent material nature is explained cosmologically and anthropologically. Earth as we know her now had no existence before the Fourth Round. In the First Round, our planet was fiery, cool and radiant like its ethereal men and animals, luminous, more dense and heavy during the Second, watery during the Third. But the Elements have been since reversed, none were then as they are.

Marilyn Bowering, 2024-05-14 Mary MacLeod Mair nighean Alasdair Ruaidh was a rarity a female bard in seventeenth century Scotland While her lyrics were honoured she was also marginalized denigrated as a witch and exiled both for being a writer and for what she wrote Presented as a chronicle of journeys through the Scottish Hebrides More Richly in Earth explores MacLeod's legacy preserved within landscape memory and identity In an act of recovery and restoration Canadian poet and novelist Marilyn Bowering pieces together the puzzle of radically different accounts of MacLeod's life returning to the places the bard once lived with the help of contemporary Scottish Gaelic poets and scholars Through investigation and imagination Bowering forms a connection with MacLeod despite vast differences of culture and language time and place Their connection deepens as Bowering twines MacLeod's story with accounts of the people and places that shaped her own life a connection that ultimately reveals the foundations of Bowering's artistic vocation to herself MacLeod's life and writing little known today beyond the Gaelic world harbours cultural truths about a transformative era of war and colonization in Gaelic Scotland Bringing a poetic sensibility to investigative scholarship More Richly in Earth offers a profound reflection on the necessity of art in all forms The Decline of Magic Michael Hunter,2020-01-07 A new history which overturns the received wisdom that science displaced magic in Enlightenment Britain In early modern Britain belief in prophecies omens ghosts apparitions and fairies was commonplace Among both educated and ordinary people the absolute existence of a spiritual world was taken for granted Yet in the eighteenth century such certainties were swept away Credit for this great change is usually given to science and in particular to the scientists of the Royal Society But is this justified Michael Hunter argues that those pioneering the change in attitude were not scientists but freethinkers While some scientists defended the reality of supernatural phenomena these sceptical humanists drew on ancient authors to mount a critique both of orthodox religion and by extension of magic and other forms of superstition Even if the religious heterodoxy of such men tarnished their reputation and postponed the general acceptance of anti magical views slowly change did come about When it did this owed less to the testing of magic than to the growth of confidence in a stable world in which magic no longer had a place
