Second Thoughts About Barths Models:

Second Thoughts about Barth's Models Robert Paine, 1970 Factory Women in Taiwan Lydia Kung, 1994 An important study of Taiwan's first generation of working women documenting their and their families' views of their employment and the effects that wage earning has on the status and lives of these women The Philippine Temptation Epifanio San Juan, 1996 In this incisive and polemical book E. San Juan Jr, the leading authority on Philippines U.S. literary studies, goes beyond fashionable postcolonial theory to bring to our attention the complex history of Philippines U.S. literary interactions. In sharp contrast to other works on the subject, the author presents Filipino literary production within the context of a long and sustained tradition of anti-imperialist insurgency and foregrounds the strong presence of oppositional writing in the Philippines. After establishing the historical context of U.S. intervention and Filipino resistance, San Juan examines the work of two very significant writers. The first, Carlos Bulosan, a journalist and union activist, became in the author's words, a tribune of the people. Bulosan's writings, which combine critique and prophecy, do not allow us to forget the atrocities inflicted on the Filipino people. The other, Jos Garcia Villa, lapsed into premature obscurity on account of the complexity of his writings about the Filipino predicament. Read through San Juan's eyes, these writers are revealed as multifaceted thinkers and activists, not stereotypical ethnic artists. San Juan goes beyond literary studies and contemporary debates about nationalism and politics to point the way to a new direction in radical transformative writing. He uncovers hidden agendas in many previous accounts of U.S. Philippine relations, and this book exemplifies how best to combine activist scholarship with historically grounded cultural commentary. Author note: E. San Juan Jr is Fellow of the Center for the Humanities and Visiting Professor of English, Wesleyan University, and Director of the Philippines Cultural Studies Center. He was recently chair of the Department of Comparative American Cultures, Washington University, and Professor of Ethnic Studies at Bowling Green State University, Ohio. He received the 1999 Centennial Award for Literature from the Philippines Cultural Center. His most recent books are Beyond Postcolonial Theory: From Exile to Diaspora, After Postcolonialism and Racism, and Cultural Studies. Symbolising Boundaries Anthony Paul Cohen, 1986 Anthropology and Politics Joan Vincent, 2002-08-16 In considering how anthropologists have chosen to look at and write about politics, Joan Vincent contends that the anthropological study of politics is itself a historical process. Intended not only as a representation but also as a reinterpretation, her study arises from questioning accepted views and unexamined assumptions. This wide-ranging cross-disciplinary work is a critical review of the anthropological study of politics in the English-speaking world from 1879 to the present, a counterpoint of text and context that describes for each of three eras both what anthropologists have said about politics and the national and international events that have shaped their interests and concerns. It is also an account of how intellectual, social, and political conditions influenced the discipline by conditioning both anthropological inquiry and the avenues of research supported by universities and governments. Finally, it is a study of the politics of anthropology itself.

examining the survival of theses or schools of thought and the influence of certain individuals and departments Chinese Populations in Contemporary Southeast Asian Societies M. Jocelyn Armstrong, R. Warwick Armstrong, Kent Mulliner, 2012-10-12 New perspectives on the past and present contributions of the 25 million strong Chinese diaspora in Southeast Asia to the development of contemporary society Case studies feature organisational community religious and other arenas of Chinese activity and identity definition and the book analyses the interplay of local regional global and transnational networks and identities

Comparing Impossibilities Sally Falk Moore, 2016-04-15 Few scholars have had a more varied career than Sally Falk Moore Once a lawyer for an elite New York law firm her career has led her to the Nuremberg trials where she prepared cases against major industrialists to Harvard to the Spanish archives where she studied the Inca political system and to the mountain of Kilimanjaro where she studied the politics of Tanzanian socialism This book offers a compelling tour of Moore's diverse experiences a history of her thought as she reflects on her life and thought in the disciplines of anthropology law and politics The essays range from studies of myths of incest and sexuality to those of economic development projects from South America to Africa The result is an astonishing assortment of works from one of the most respected legal anthropologists in the field one who brought together disparate places and ideas in enriching comparisons that showcase the possibilities and impossibilities of anthropology

Hegemony and Strategies of Transgression E. San Juan Jr., 1995-03-30 In Part One the author examines what is at stake in the complex relations between theory and practice in exchanges involving Paul de Man Mikhail Bakhtin Georg Lukács Bertolt Brecht Walter Benjamin Antonio Gramsci and others In Part Two San Juan focuses on the materialist aesthetics of Louis Althusser and Pierre Macherey examining their resonance in a Hemingway novel and in the poetry of Hugh MacDiarmid In Part Three the author conducts an appraisal of James Baldwin's worldview the textualization of the Asian diaspora in the United States and the interface between postmodern themes and postcolonial sensibilities The ultimate project of the author is to envision the emergence of a new field called world cultural studies from a radical Third World perspective The transition from Western hegemony to the transformative oppositional inquiry of Others epitomizes the itinerary of San Juan's exploration of the discipline once called litterae humaniores but now reconceived as the praxis of critical transgressions

Social Identity Richard Jenkins, 2004-08-02 Without social identity there is no human world Without frameworks of similarity and difference people would be unable to relate to each other in a consistent and meaningful fashion In the second edition of this highly successful text Richard Jenkins develops his argument that identity is both individual and collective and should therefore be considered within one analytic framework Using the work of major social theorists such as Mead Goffman and Barthes to explore the experience of identity in everyday life Jenkins considers a range of different issues including embodiment categorization and boundaries the institutionalizing of identities identity and modernity and the significance of identity in modernity

century anthropology This intellectual history traces the development of Barth's ideas and explores the substance of his contributions In an accessible style Thomas Hylland Eriksen's biographical study reveals the magic of ethnography to professional anthropologists and non practitioners alike Exploring his six decade career it follows Barth from early ecological studies in Pakistan to political studies in Iran to groundbreaking fieldwork in Norway New Guinea Bali and Bhutan Eriksen argues that Barth's voracious appetite for fieldwork holds the key to understanding his remarkable intellectual development and the insights it produced The book raises many of the same questions that emerge from Barth's own work of unity and diversity of culture and relativism of art and science Second Thoughts About Barth's Models, 1974 An

Outcaste (RLE Iran D) Laurence Loeb, 2012-05-04 This volume is a unique investigation of contemporary Jewish life in a Muslim country and the first ethnography of the Persian Jewish diaspora giving the reader a deep appreciation of this relatively unknown culture The author describes in detail traditional Jewish life in the provincial city of Shiraz and the challenges of coexistence with a Muslim majority It Happens Among People Keping Wu, Robert P. Weller, 2019-11-04

Written by eleven leading anthropologists from around the world this volume extends the insights of Fredrik Barth one of the most important anthropologists of the twentieth century to push even further at the frontiers of anthropology and honor his memory As a collection the chapters thus expand Barth's pioneering work on values further develop his insights on human agency and its potential creativity as well as continuing to develop the relevance for his work as a way of thinking about and beyond the state The work is grounded on his insistence that theory should grow only from observed life Sharing without

Reckoning Millard Schumaker, 2006-01-01 Sharing without Reckoning is the first full scale treatment of the ancient and persistent distinction between perfect and imperfect rights and duties It examines the use of the distinction in jurisprudential philosophical and religious material from Classical times until the present proposes a connection between imperfect right and the norms of reciprocity as that complex set of ideas has been developed in anthropology and sociology and argues that contemporary understanding of the nature of morality and of moral reasoning would be well served by the reintroduction of this traditional doctrine This enlightening study includes a notable chapter reassessing the role of imperfect obligation in the thought of Immanuel Kant portraying a kinder and gentler Kant Concluding by elaborating ways in which concepts such as

love justice and the boundary between law and morality might be reconstructed taking the fact of imperfect right seriously this work will serve as a key reference for scholars interested in the complex question of perfect and imperfect rights and duties

Social and Cultural Anthropology: The Key Concepts Nigel Rapport, Joanna Overing, 2002-09-11 Social and Cultural Anthropology The Key Concepts is the ideal introduction to this discipline defining and discussing the central terms of the subject with clarity and authority

Rethinking Ethnicity Richard Jenkins, 2008-01-18 A welcome and brilliantly crafted overview of this field It represents a major advance in our understanding of how ethnicity works in specific social and cultural contexts The second edition will be an invaluable resource for both students and researchers alike John Solomos City University London The first edition of Rethinking Ethnicity quickly established itself as a popular text for students of ethnicity and ethnic relations This fully revised and updated second edition adds new material on globalization and the recent debates about whether ethnicity matters and ethnic groups actually exist While ethnicity as a social construct is imagined its effects are far from imaginary Jenkins draws on specific examples to demonstrate the social mechanisms that construct ethnicity and the consequences for people's experience Drawing upon rich case study material the book discusses such issues as the myth of the plural society postmodern notions of difference the relationship between ethnicity race and nationalism ideology language violence and religion and the everyday construction of national identity

Ethnic Groups and Boundaries Today Thomas Hylland Eriksen, Marek Jakoubek, 2018-12-07 The publication of Fredrik Barth's Ethnic Groups and Boundaries marked a milestone in the conceptualization of ethnicity and ethnic groups and opened a new field of enquiry in the social scientific study of ethnicity Ethnic Groups and Boundaries Today A Legacy of Fifty Years demonstrates the enduring significance of the work identifying its shortcomings and showcasing the state of the art today fifty years after the publication of the groundbreaking original Bringing together a team of leading contributors all of whom have been inspired by Barth's theory and have made significant contributions of their own to the theorisation and research of ethnicity this volume assesses the theoretical approach presented in Ethnic Groups and Boundaries both in the context of its time and with the hindsight of the developments in the social sciences since then It emphasizes the legacy of the original text and determines its significance whilst identifying and elaborating on the main lines of the subsequent developments of the concept of ethnicity that were influenced by Ethnic Groups and Boundaries but that have since developed and superseded the original As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in the concept and study of ethnicity
