Breakfast in Kersey Thomas G. Blacklock, 2010-11-10 No Drug deal is worth dying for was the first rule of the street that I chose to call a Street Smart rule and was one of ten informal rules which guided me through a career as a Federal Agent with the Drug Enforcement Administration DEA In my book Breakfast in Kersey I detail these ten rules the Street Smarts that I deduced from actual street experience and incorporated them with anecdotal incidents which traced the highs and lows of my Special Agent career In tracing my long career the many facets of drug law enforcement are exposed from the exciting and dangerous work of undercover to the rather mundane tasks such as long term surveillance Additionally the highs and lows of a federal narcotics career are examined from the thrill of making a big seizure or arrest to the heartbreaking hardships that this job has on a family and personal life And finally I offer insights at the frustrations of the job such as inane policies and procedures established by a higher headquarters that tended to hinder investigations and at times agent safety to the petty bickering that existed between local state and federal agencies over drug and or money seizures and jurisdiction Interwoven into these facets are anecdotes both humorous and sad but every one of them real allowing a keen insight as to what it was really like to toil in the realm of narcotics enforcement

Rocks and Bottles E.S. Tasker, 2021-10-12 When the author sat down and began writing Rocks and Bottles his thoughts centered around the problems facing our society today He recognized that there were many within the society who had a tendency to blame one particular segment our law enforcement for much of what was going on Nothing could be further from reality than that belief Truth be known our law enforcement much like our society isn't perfect But without our law enforcement there would be no society worth having The demands placed on our police officers today are at times excruciating Theirs is a tough job It always has been Yes occasionally mistakes are made There is no excuse for those They are human beings just like you and me but with one exception they are each willing to sacrifice what some refer to as a normal life to protect the lives of others When reading the various chapters within Rocks and Bottles it is hoped that you the reader will gain a better perspective as to the type of person many officers are and that you will conclude that they are very much like yourself

paranoid world where no one can be trusted A surprising unexpected story of love and family of hope and resilience Child 44 is a thriller unlike any you have ever read Stalin's Soviet Union is an official paradise where citizens live free from crime and fear only one thing the all powerful State Defending this system is idealistic security officer Leo Demidov a war hero who believes in the iron fist of the law But when a murderer kills at will and Leo dares to investigate the State's obedient servant finds himself demoted and exiled Now with only his wife at his side Leo must fight to uncover shocking truths about a killer and a country where crime doesn't exist The Secret Speech Soviet Union 1956 It is a period of wrenching change Stalin is dead and a regime once held together by fear is beginning to fracture creating a lawless society where the police have become the criminals and the criminals take vengeance against them A series of murders now has all of Moscow on edge and no one no matter how powerful or connected seems safe With his new and secretive homicide department Leo Demidov investigates only to find that he his wife and his two adopted daughters may be in grave danger For Leo is a former state security officer who arrested and condemned many of his fellow citizens and despite all his efforts to atone for his past he cannot escape the long shadow of his former career To save his family Leo must make a desperate choice and face an impossible journey that may bring his redemption or shatter their fragile future

Cowboys and Indians Gordon Sinclair, 1999 When J J Harper of the Island Lake Tribal Council was fatally shot on a wintry Winnipeg street in 1988 the city police department was quick to absolve the officer involved from all blame Less than a day after the shooting Police Chief Herb Stephen announced that Harper had died during a struggle for Constable Robert Cross's gun But the truth was not so cut and dried Far from closing the case Stephen's remarks were just the start of this dramatic tale of sex death threats flimsy charges and a police force so out of control that a prominent lawyer a senior Crown attorney and a respected journalist all had reason to suspect they were being watched by the police Pursued doggedly by Winnipeg Free Press columnist Gordon Sinclair Jr the stranger than fiction story of the shooting of J J Harper points a finger at the growing disaster of race relations and policing in Canada's inner cities

Technocrime Stéphane Leman-Langlois, 2008 This book is concerned with the concept of technocrime The term encompasses crimes committed on or with computers the standard definition of cybercrime but it goes well beyond this to convey the idea that technology enables an entirely new way of committing combating and thinking about criminality criminals police courts victims and citizens Technology offers for example not only new ways of combating crime but also new ways to look for unveil and label crimes and new ways to know watch prosecute and punish criminals Technocrime differs from books concerned more narrowly with cybercrime in taking an approach and understanding of the scope of technology's impact on crime and crime control It uncovers mechanisms by which behaviours become crimes or cease to be called crimes It identifies a number of corporate government and individual actors who are instrumental in this construction And it looks at the beneficiaries of increased surveillance control and protection as well as the targets of it Chapters in the book cover specific technologies e.g the use of CCTV in various settings computers hackers and security experts photo radar but have a wider objective to provide a comparative perspective and some broader theoretical foundations for thinking about crime and technology than have existed hitherto This is a pioneering book which advances our understanding of the relationship between crime and technology drawing upon the disciplines of criminology political science sociology psychology anthropology surveillance studies and cultural studies     Stealing You Blind K. A. Farner,2009 The Federal Trade Commission s yearly report for 2007 stated that over 30 million people in the United States were victimized by some type of fraudulent crime Over 9 million people saw their personal identities stolen and used by a fraud perpetrator Millions of others including businesses saw their financial accounts compromised by a fraud perpetrator Strictly speaking fraud is big business Are you one of its customers Everyone is vulnerable to some type of fraudulent crime but you can take the steps necessary to avoid becoming a victim Based on actual events cases and investigations Stealing You Blind describes numerous fraudulent criminal activities taking place today in the United States and throughout the rest of the world and offers you important tips and advice on how to reduce your susceptibility to such crimes Drawing upon years of experience as a fraud detective K A Farner reveals some key components of many fraud schemes The crimes discussed include Identity theft Internet loan scams Credit card theft Internet auction scams Check fraud And much more Remember knowledge is power Arm yourself with the facts and minimize your chances of falling for one of these crimes with Stealing You Blind AUTHOR BIO Detective K A Farner is a retired Atlanta Police Department fraud detective and a former member of the United States Secret Service Organized Fraud Task Force He has participated in joint investigations with the Governor s Office of Consumer Affairs Federal Bureau of Investigations United States Immigration and Customs Enforcement United States Postal Inspections and the United States Secret Service     Finance For Fintech Professionals David Kuo Chuen Lee,Joseph Lim,Kok Fai Phoon,Yu Wang,2022-02-15 The Finance module provides a significant underpinning to the Chartered Fintech Professional CFtP qualification While the topics are familiar to professionals who are traditionally trained in Finance these topics are required to appreciate the financial problems that technology can help solve Without a clear appreciation of finance concepts and practice any professional will have difficulties solving such problems the traditional way let alone incorporating recent technological breakthroughs In this module we provide the basic concepts and knowledge that a fintech professional needs This book covers the main concepts and theories in finance which include economics financial statement analysis financial management and investment management Finance for Fintech Professionals is a companion volume to the book on technology that covers fundamental concepts on data artificial intelligence and network Together these two books form the foundation for a good understanding of finance and fintech applications which will be covered in subsequent volumes     Nottingham Harbor Jack Lorenz,2015-05-04 When I started to write the novel NOTTINGHAM HARBOR it was to just be a fictional crime novel set in northern New England After working on the story and reading about the DNA analysis stories I realized the novel had a very significant purpose It was and is the story of how to catch serial rapist after law enforcement has the results from the DNA analysis The story is about a task force attempting to identify a number of rapist DNA does not identify the criminal The FBI maintains a database called CODIS This is a database of DNA of persons convicted of crimes Unless a person has been convicted of a crime their DNA is NOT in CODIS The Author Jack Lorenz of NOTTINGHAM HARBOR fully agrees with this legal restriction When the DNA from the rape kits is determined very few of the results match the DNA in CODIS Rape is a unique type of crime Most criminals do NOT rape in addition to other crimes So very few rapist are in the CODIS database So in a number of jurisdictions where several hundred to a thousand rape kits have been analyzed only two or three rapist are identified The secondary problem is that the serial rapists move from jurisdiction to jurisdiction and only rape once in each jurisdiction It is very difficult to identify the rapist with the information from only one case Use of the physical characteristics of the criminal and the DNA must be used to tie cases together This is what the team of Mattie Greene the mathematics teacher and Sergeant Bill Simpson do in NOTTINGHAM HARBOR They find a common denominator between the cases with regard to the identity of the rapist Since rapists like other people must reside work eat and drink at physical places these types of information can be used to identify the specific person The techniques in the fictional story are the methods required in the real world to catch these dangerous criminals DNA will not catch but a few rapists There may be as many as 2000 rapists running around North America They rape randomly on the streets of this country and Canada The police and district attorneys in United States must work across jurisdictional lines as in NOTTINGHAM HARBOR Beside a good story the novel has a higher purpose It explains how to identify and catch these violent criminals The other fact about these criminals is some of them are murders in addition to being rapists If you are victim of a rape then you need to urge the local police to work with other jurisdictions and using technique similar those in NOTTINGHAM HARBOR identify and catch the rapist This is the purpose of the novel in addition to being a good story Enjoy the novel

Case Studies in Forensic Anthropology Heather M. Garvin, Natalie R. Langley, 2019-10-16 Through a set of unique case studies written by an international group of practicing forensic anthropologists Case Studies in Forensic Anthropology Bonified Skeletons prepares students and professionals for the diverse range of cases and challenges they will encounter in the field Every forensic anthropology case is unique Practitioners routinely face new challenges and unexpected outcomes Courses and introductory texts generally address standard or ideal cases In practice however forensic anthropologists must improvise frequently during forensic archaeological recoveries and laboratory analyses based on case circumstances Most forensic anthropologists have encountered unconventional cases with surprising results While these cases act as continuing education for practitioners better preparing them for future encounters such learning opportunities may be limited by the extent of personal experiences This text exposes practitioners and students to a diverse array of case examples they may not otherwise encounter sharing experiential knowledge and contributing to the advancement the field Case Studies in Forensic Anthropology aims to both prepare aspiring forensic anthropologists and inform current practitioners The cases are interesting and unique detailing how specific challenges contribute to the body of forensic anthropological knowledge and practice Key Features Full color photographs illustrate the scenes and skeletal features Lessons Learned sections for each case study emphasize take away points Thought provoking Discussion Questions encourage readers to think critically and facilitate group discussions Actual case experiences by diverse array of forensic anthropologists who discuss innovative methods and unique challenges

Historical Climate Variability and Impacts in North America Lesley-Ann Dupigny-Giroux, Cary J. Mock, 2009-09-18 Climatologists with an eye on the past have any number of sources for their work from personal diaries to weather station reports Piecing together the trajectory of a weather event can thus be a painstaking process taking years and involving real detective work Missing pieces of a climate puzzle can come from very far afield often in unlikely places In this book a series of case studies examine specific regions across North America using instrumental and documentary data from the 17th to the 19th centuries Extreme weather events such as the Sitka hurricane of 1880 are recounted in detail while the chapters also cover more widespread phenomena such as the collapse of the Low Country rice culture The book also looks at the role of weather station histories in complementing the instrumental record and sets out the methods that involve early instrumental and documentary climate data Finally the book s focus on North America reflects the fact that the historical climate community there has only grown relatively recently Up to now most such studies have focused on Europe and Asia The four sections begin with regional case studies and move on to reconstruct extreme events and parameters This is followed by the role of station history and lastly methodologies and other analyses The editors aim has been to produce a volume that would be instrumental in molding the next generation of historical climatologists They designed this book for use by general researchers as well as in upper level undergraduate or graduate level courses
