W. Chau, 2013-12-31 dfg The Pastor in a Changing Society Zawadi Job Kinyamagoha, 2014-10-07 This book examines how social change affects the role of the pastor in an African context Through field study in African churches author Zawadi Job Kinyamagoha explores how pastors work amid the tensions of rapid social change and suggests how pastors can constructively respond to social change by using it as an opportunity in their pastoral ministry Contemporary society is characterized by three cultural spheres the economic sphere the public sphere and the democratic or self governance rule the realities of which many pastors seem to overlook Church authorities seem to adhere rigidly to strict principles and rules without accommodating the realities of society Conversely a changing society demands that pastors work with the reality at hand leaving pastors caught between two conflicting tensions the pressure from church authorities and from a changing social reality The Pastor in a Changing Society seeks to help Tanzanian and African pastors rethink existing doctrines and practices in order to better respond to the reality of a changing society The Caribbean in a Changing World Stephanie Fullerton-Cooper, Erica Gordon, Livingston Smith, 2017-06-23 This collection is a critical reflection of the evolution of Caribbean countries since the demise of the West Indies Federation in 1962 At this historical juncture some territories opted for independence while others remained dependent territories The volume examines Caribbean societies in comparative and general ways covering aspects of their ongoing development and challenges It covers such areas as Caribbean integration the state of human capital and social policy in the region the education sector Caribbean economic sustainability and significantly the physical environment of the Caribbean A central question has always been should these territories have gone independent or stayed under some British tutelage The book addresses this question illustrating that these island states have made considerable progress especially in the maintenance and deepening of democratic practices The Future of Vocational Education and Training in a Changing World Matthias Pilz, 2012-04-25 Across the globe vocational education and training is characterised by a number of overarching trends including the increasing use of technology the growing importance of information and communications systems and changes to national demographics At the interface between the education and training system and the world of work VET faces the challenge of tackling these changes of making a constructive contribution to solving the problems posed by the transition from education to employment and of ensuring that the next generation has the skills it and the economy needs This volume comprises thirty individual contributions that together add up to a comprehensive overview of the current situation in vocational education and training its strengths and weaknesses and its prospects VET experts from Canada the USA India China Japan and Korea as well as from a number of European countries focus on their national context and how it fits in to the bigger picture The contributions combine theoretical discussions from various strands of VET research with evidence from country case studies and examples from current practice Teaching for Global Competence in a Rapidly Changing World Asia Society, OECD, 2018-01-23 This new publication sets forward the PISA framework for global competence developed by the OECD which aligns closely with the definition developed by the Center for Global Education at Asia Society Resources in Education ,1997 Education and Social Change John L. A Changing World Terence Kearey, 2012-01-28 This is the story of life in an English town and an English community as seen through the eyes of an ordinary English family the author's own It focuses on the years from the 1930s through to the 1960s and covers a period when the country was changing perhaps faster than it ever has before or since From a familiar world in which life was simple and expectations modest values were upheld and the community spirit prevailed Britain was plunged into the chaos of war at a time when most people could all too clearly recall the horror of the preceding one Never have the British people pulled together so strongly as they did in the war years but with peacetime in the 1940s came unexpected challenges economic strife a slackening of social mores and moral codes and a new materialism With these changes came new attitudes to work and its rewards which would greatly hamper our recovery Terence Kearey's portrait of an England responding to the pressure of rapid social and economic change has the authority of meticulous research yet its intimate perspective renders it far more personal and vivid than any ordinary history book Transforming Agricultural Education for a Changing World National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Life Sciences, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Committee on a Leadership Summit to Effect Change in Teaching and Learning, 2009-11-16 During the next ten years colleges of agriculture will be challenged to transform their role in higher education and their relationship to the evolving global food and agricultural enterprise If successful agriculture colleges will emerge as an important venue for scholars and stakeholders to address some of the most complex and urgent problems facing society Such a transformation could reestablish and sustain the historical position of the college of agriculture as a cornerstone institution in academe but for that to occur a rapid and concerted effort by our higher education system is needed to shape their academic focus around the reality of issues that define the world's systems of food and agriculture and to refashion the way in which they foster knowledge of those complex systems in their students Although there is no single approach to transforming agricultural education a commitment to change is imperative Adolescents in a changing world World Health Organization, 2024-05-28 This is the full global report to undergo WHO editing and be submitted for clearance
