this volume of original essays traces the origins of the concept of grammar. In doing so it charts the social, moral and cultural factors that have shaped the development of grammar from Antiquity via the Middle Ages, Renaissance and Modern Europe to current education systems and language learning pedagogy. The chapters examine key turning points in the history of language teaching epistemology, focusing on grammar for language teaching across different European cultural contexts. Bringing together leading scholars of classical and modern languages education, The History of Grammar in Foreign Language Teaching offers the first single source reference on the evolving concept of grammar across cultural and linguistic borders in Western language education. It therefore represents a valuable resource for teachers, teacher educators and course designers as well as students and scholars of historical linguistics and of second and foreign language education.

New Perspectives on Teaching and Learning Modern Languages Simon Green, 2000-01-01. This exciting new publication featuring chapters from some of the foremost practitioners in the field of modern languages today closely examines research based analysis, structural contexts and classroom practice in teaching and learning. After analysing the current situation, each author proposes radical solutions to current problems and the whole book provides much needed fresh thinking on methodology and pedagogy.

Modern Foreign Languages Norbert Pachler, Michael Evans, Shirley Lawes, 2007-12-17. Covering the training standards for NQTs and the Induction Standards and also fully exploring issues to do with subject knowledge in learning to teach, this is the essential guide for teachers of foreign languages. Acknowledging that an essential element of a secondary teacher's identity is tied up with their subject taught, the book is divided into three sections framing the subject teaching the subject modern languages within the professional community. This book aims to provide stimulating assistance to subject specialists by helping them find ways of thinking about their specialism, how to teach with it and how to engage with what pupils learn through it. Written with teachers of modern foreign languages in the years of their early professional development in mind, this book is also suitable for those on PGCE courses, those in their induction year and those in years two and three of their teaching career.
