P.S. I Love You Carlton Jackson, 2007-03-16 In 1953 the same year that Elvis Presley cut his first demo Cash Box magazine named the Hilltoppers the top vocal group of the year. Hits such as Trying and P S I Love You raced up the charts and kept the group in Billboard's Top 40. The four fresh faced singers appeared on The Toast of the Town with Ed Sullivan who introduced them to the nation. On weekends the Hilltoppers performed in cities across the country but on Monday mornings they were better known as Western Kentucky State College students Jimmy Sacca Seymour Spiegelman Don McGuire and Billy Vaughn. The Korean War military drafts and changing public tastes in music however cut short singing careers that should have lasted much longer. Sacca was drafted in 1953 mere months before the end of the war. Vaughn left the group shortly after that for a career at Dot Records and found fame elsewhere with his orchestra. McGuire and Spiegelman were drafted as well and despite a set of temporary replacement members the group eventually called it quits. Fifty years later historian Carlton Jackson revisits the Kentucky college kids who made it big between classes. He follows the group from their first hit recorded in Western's Van Meter Auditorium to their brief 1970s reunion. Their story recalls the nature of celebrity and youth in the early days of rock n roll

Music of the Great Depression William H. Young, Nancy K. Young, 2005-02-28 Prior to the stock market crash of 1929 American music still possessed a distinct tendency towards elitism as songwriters and composers sought to avoid the mass appeal that critics scorned. During the Depression however radio came to dominate the other musical media of the time and a new era of truly popular music was born. Under the guidance of the great Duke Ellington and a number of other talented and charismatic performers swing music unified the public consciousness like no other musical form before or since. At the same time the enduring legacies of Woody Guthrie in folk Aaron Copeland in classical and George and Ira Gershwin on Broadway stand as a testament to the great diversity of tastes and interests that subsisted throughout the Great Depression and play a part still in our lives today. The lives of these and many other great musicians come alive in this insightful study of the works artists and circumstances that contributed to making and performing the music that helped America through one of its most difficult times. The American History through Music series examines the many different styles of music that have played a significant part in our nation's history. While volumes in this series show the multifaceted roles of music in our culture they also use
