Realizing the University Ronald Barnett, 1999-12-16 The university has lost its way The world needs the university more than ever but for new reasons If we are to clarify its new role in the world we need to find a new vocabulary and a new sense of purpose The university is faced with supercomplexity in which our very frames of understanding action and self identity are all continually challenged In such a world the university has explicitly to take on a dual role firstly of compounding supercomplexity so making the world ever more challenging and secondly of enabling us to live effectively in this chaotic world Internally too the university has to become a new kind of organization adept at fulfilling this dual role The university has to live by the uncertainty principle it has to generate uncertainty to help us live with uncertainty and even to revel in our uncertainty Ronald Barnett offers nothing less than a fundamental reworking of the way in which we understand the modern university Realizing the University is essential reading for all those concerned about the future of higher education

Realizing the Distinctive University Mark William Roche, 2017-02-28 In Realizing the Distinctive University Vision and Values Strategy and Culture Mark William Roche changes the terms of the debate about American higher education A former dean of the College of Arts and Letters at the University of Notre Dame Roche argues for the importance of an institutional vision not simply a brand and while he extols the value of entrepreneurship he defines it in contrast to the corporate drive toward commercialization and demands for business management models Using the history of the German university to assess the need for and implementation of distinctive visions at American colleges and universities Roche's own vision benefits from his deep connection to both systems as well as his experience in the trenches working to realize the special mission of an American Catholic university Roche makes a significant contribution by delineating means for moving such an institution from vision to implementation Roche provides a road map to creating a superb arts and sciences college within a major research university and offers a rich analysis of five principles that have shaped the modern American university flexibility competition incentives accountability and community He notes the challenges and problems that surface with these categories and includes ample illustration of both best practices and personal missteps The book makes clear that even a compelling intellectual vision must always be linked to its embodiment in rhetoric support structures and community Throughout this unique and appealing contribution to the literature on higher education Roche avoids polemic and remains optimistic about the ways in which a faculty member serving in administration can make a positive difference Realizing the Distinctive University is a must read for academic administrators faculty members interested in the inner workings of the university and graduate students and scholars of higher education

Realizing the Ecological University Ronald

Barnett,2024-08-22 The ecological university takes its interconnectedness with the world seriously This is challenging for the world is in difficulty and is shot through with antagonism The university is partly culpable for those difficulties and so has responsibilities towards the world Realizing the Ecological University spells out this thesis by charting the university s entanglements with eight ecosystems knowledge learning persons social institutions culture the economy the polity and nature The book identifies ways in which each of the eight ecosystems is impaired and points to possibilities through which universities can help in repairing those ecosystems This book also sets out broad principles in helping to realize the ecological university in each of the eight ecosystems Wearing his scholarship lightly Ronald Barnett draws widely from philosophy social theory comparative higher education and ethics and advances a particular form of the philosophy of higher education at once realist societal critical worldly and Earthly Written with wit and lots of examples actual and fictional the text has a compelling vibrancy made manifest in its concluding Manifesto Imagining the University Ronald Barnett,2013 Around the world what it is to be a university is a matter of much debate The range of ideas of the university in public circulation is however exceedingly narrow and is dominated by the idea of the entrepreneurial university As a consequence the debate is hopelessly impoverished Lurking in the literature there is a broad and even imaginative array of ideas of the university but those ideas are seldom heard We need consequently not just more ideas of the university but better ideas Imagining the University forensically examines this situation critically interrogating many of the current ideas of the university Imagining the University argues for imaginative ideas that are critical sensitive to the deep structures underlying universities and are yet optimistic in short feasible utopias of the university The case is pressed for one such idea that of the ecological university The book concludes by offering a vision of the imagining university a university that has the capacity continually to re imagine itself Bulletin of the American Association of University Professors American Association of University Professors,1922 Includes reports of the committees on academic freedom as follows Vol I pt 1 Annual address of the president and General report of the Committee on academic freedom and academic tenure December 1915 Vol II no 2 pt 2 Reports of committees concerning charges of violation of academic freedom at the University of Colorado and at Wesleyan University April 1916 Vol II no 3 pt 2 Report of the Committee of inquiry on the case of Professor Scott Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania May 1916 The Report of the Secretary to the Regents of the University of California University of California (1868-1952),1891 The Improvement of Technology Transfer Franz Hofer,2009-05-20 Based on the results of an empirical study on technology transfer between Graz University of Technology and companies in Styria Franz Hofer sets up a typology which classifies university researchers and companies according to the current extent and barriers of their technology transfer The author supplies recommendations for the different groups which enables them to initiate and further improve technology transfer In addition he provides new insights and data to compare technology transfer in Styria with other regions Christian Theology and the Secular University Paul A. Macdonald, Jr.,2017-02-24 If the secular university by definition is non sectarian or non denominational then how can it accommodate a discipline like Christian theology Doesn't the traditional goal of theological study which is to attain knowledge of the divine fundamentally conflict with the main goal of secular academic study which is to attain knowledge about ourselves and the world in which we live So why should theology be admitted or even care about being admitted into secular academic life And even if theology were admitted what contribution to secular academic life could it make Working from a Christian philosophical and theological perspective but also engaging a wide range of theologians philosophers and religious studies scholars Christian Theology and the Secular University takes on these questions arguing that Christian theology does belong in the secular university because it provides distinct resources that the secular university needs if it is going to fulfill what should be its main epistemic and educative ends This book offers a fresh and unique perspective to scholars working in the disciplines of theology philosophy and religious studies and to those in other academic disciplines who are interested in thinking critically and creatively about the place and nature of theological study within the secular university Realizing the University Ronald Barnett, 1997 Professor Barnett argues that if we are to gain a distinctive role for the university in the modern age we need a new vocabulary and a new sense of purpose what is called for is a reconstruction of the university if it is to be adequate to the challenges of the modern age There are four terms around which we should rebuild the university unpredictability uncertainty contestability and challengeability These concepts constitute a constellation of fragility they mark out a fragile world to which the university as a source of critical thought has contributed The university is faced not just with complexity but with supercomplexity in which our very frames of understanding action valuing and self identity are all continually challenged In such a world the university has explicitly to take on a dual role firstly of compounding supercomplexity especially through its research role and secondly principally through its teaching role of enabling us to live effectively with all the discomforts of supercomplexity Internally too the university has to become a new kind of organization adept at fulfilling this dual role The university has to live by the uncertainty principle it has to generate uncertainty to help us live uncertainty and even to revel in our uncertainty In an age where everything is uncertain there is no other task

Margolis, 2017-09-14T00:00:00+02:00 The starting point of Joseph Margolis last philosophical effort is represented by the problem of the human gap in animal continuity There appear to be no comparable variants of animal evolution effected by anything like the culturally enabled creation While we share with other animals more or less refined forms of societal life acquiring a natural language remains a distinctively human character although it is grounded in the completely natural favourable changes in the human vocal apparatus and brain the merely causal emergence of language in humans reacts back into human primates by transforming them into persons or selves The artifactuality of persons appears to be at the same time a natural and emergent phenomenon constituting the other side of the process of language acquisition both by early hominids and by human infants In this perspective the largely informal mongrel and approximate functionality of ordinary language is interpreted as a good tool for the cultural animal to cope with the world while the collective dimension of human forms of life appears as the shared context of external and internal constitution of the human selves
