The Closing of the Muslim Mind Robert R. Reilly, 2023-06-20 Islam is Intellectual Suicide and the Threat to Us All People are shocked and frightened by the behavior coming out of the Islamic world not only because it is violent but also because it is seemingly inexplicable While there are many answers to the question of what went wrong in the Muslim world no one has decisively answered why it went wrong Until now In this eye opening new book foreign policy expert Robert R Reilly uncovers the root of our contemporary crisis a pivotal struggle waged within the Muslim world nearly a millennium ago In a heated battle over the role of reason the side of irrationality won The deformed theology that resulted Reilly reveals produced the spiritual pathology of Islamism and a deeply dysfunctional culture Terrorism from 9/11 to London Madrid and Mumbai to the Christmas 2009 attempted airline bombing is the most obvious manifestation of this crisis But Reilly shows that the pathology extends much further The Closing of the Muslim Mind solves such puzzles as why peace is so elusive in the Middle East why the Arab world stands near the bottom of every measure of human development why scientific inquiry is nearly dead in the Islamic world why Spain translates more books in a single year than the entire Arab world has in the past thousand years why some people in Saudi Arabia still refuse to believe man has been to the moon why Muslim media frequently present natural disasters like Hurricane Katrina as God's direct retribution Delving deeper than previous polemics and simplistic analyses The Closing of the Muslim Mind provides the answers the West has so desperately needed in confronting the Islamist crisis

Moral Rationalism and Shari'a Ali-Reza Bhojani, 2015-03-24 Moral Rationalism and Shar a is the first attempt at outlining the scope for a theological reading of Shar a based on a critical examination of why Adliyya theological ethics have not significantly impacted Sh readings of Shar a Within Sh works of Shar a legal theory us l al fiqh there is a theoretical space for reason as an independent source of normativity alongside the Qur n and the Prophetic tradition The position holds that humans are capable of understanding moral values independently of revelation Describing themselves as Adliyya literally the people of Justice this allows the Sh a who describe themselves as Adiliyya literally the People of Justice to attribute a substantive rational conception of justice to God both in terms of His actions and His regulative instructions Despite the Sh adoption of this moral rationalism independent judgments of rational morality play little or no role in the actual inference of Shar a norms within mainstream contemporary Sh thought Through a close examination of the notion of independent rationality as a source in modern Sh us l al fiqh the obstacles preventing this moral rationalism from impacting the understanding of Shar a are shown to be purely epistemic In line with the emic insider approach adopted these epistemic obstacles are revisited identifying the scope for allowing a reading of Shar a that is consistent with the fundamental moral rationalism of Sh thought It is argued that judgments of rational morality even when not definitively certain cannot be ignored in the face of the apparent meaning of texts that are themselves also not certain An Adliyya reading of Shar a demands that the strength of independent rational evidence be reconciled against the strength of any other apparently conflicting evidence such that independent judgments of rational morality act as a condition for the validity of precepts attributed to a just and moral God

Traditional Islamic Ethics: The Concept of Virtue and its Implications for Contemporary Human Rights Irfaan Jaffer, 2021-09-07 Traditional Islamic Ethics The Concept of Virtue and its Implications for Human Rights concentrates on the subject of Islam and modernity and Islam and human rights a topic that has become popular and relevant with the rise of globalization and the interest in Islamic extremism and human rights This book distinguishes itself by operating within the framework of the traditional school of thought or Islamic Traditionalism In doing so it draws on Islam's 1400 year old spiritual and intellectual tradition and its understanding of ethics and virtue along with truth justice freedom and equality This book argues that Islam's pre modern approach is indispensable in creating an organic and integral human rights model for Muslims The first section argues that the current understanding and implementation of international human rights needs to be more flexible and inclusive if it truly aims to be universal in scope this is because The Universal Declaration and its offshoots are still underpinned by secular liberal principles and therefore are at odds with other cultural traditions To this end this section critically explores popular human rights histories and contemporary ethical theories that attempt to justify human rights The second section of this book provides a general overview on the subject of Islam and Human Rights After explaining some of the main problems this section examines various solutions offered by Muslim academics and scholars focusing on four different types of Muslim responses to modernity and human rights liberal progressive traditional and fundamentalist It concludes that there are spaces of convergence between modern liberal ethics and traditional Islamic virtue ethics while maintaining that there are also fundamental differences and that these differences should be welcomed by human rights theorists and advocates The book's intended audience is primarily post graduate students and professional academics in the fields of Human Rights Ethical Philosophy and Islamic Studies modern Islamic thought Sufism Islamic theology Islamic Philosophy and Traditionalism It will also appeal to anyone interested in the subject of Islam and modernity in general and Islam and human rights in particular

Reasoning with God Khaled Abou El Fadl, 2014-10-23 In light of recent concern over Shari'ah such as proposed laws to prohibit it in the United States and conflict over the role it should play in the new Egyptian constitution many people are confused about the meaning of Shari'ah in Islam and its role in the world today In Reasoning with God renowned Islamic scholar Khaled Abou El Fadl explains not only what Shari'ah really means but also the way it can revitalize and reengage contemporary Islam After a prologue that provides an essential overview of Shari'ah Abou El Fadl explores the moral trajectory of Islam in today's world Weaving powerful personal stories with broader global examples he shows the ways that some interpretations of Islam today have undermined its potential in peace and love Rather than simply outlining challenges however the author provides constructive suggestions about how Muslims can reengage the ethical tradition of their faith through Shari ah As the world s second largest religion Islam remains an important force on the global stage Reasoning with God takes readers both Muslim and non Muslim beyond superficial understandings of Shari ah to a deeper understanding of its meaning and potential

God's Command J. E. Hare, 2015 This work focuses on divine command and in particular the theory that what makes something obligatory is that God commands it and what makes something wrong is that God commands us not to do it Focusing on the Abrahamic faiths eminent scholar John E Hare explains that two experiences have had to be integrated The first is that God tells us to do something or not to do something The second is that we have to work out ourselves what to do and what not to do The difficulty has come in establishing the proper relation between them In Christian reflection on this two main traditions have emerged divine command theory and natural law theory Hare successfully defends a version of divine command theory but also shows that there is considerable overlap with some versions of natural law theory He engages with a number of Christian theologians particularly Karl Barth and extends into a discussion of divine command within Judaism and Islam The work concludes by examining recent work in evolutionary psychology and argues that thinking of our moral obligations as produced by divine command offers us some help in seeing how a moral conscience could develop in a way that is evolutionarily stable

Islamic Law and the State Sherman A. Jackson, 2023-08-21 This book deals with an Ayy bid Maml k Egyptian jurist s attempt to come to terms with the potential conflict between power represented in the state and authority represented in the schools of law particularly where one school enjoys a privileged status with the state It deals with the history of the relationship between the schools of law particularly in Maml k Egypt in the context of the running history of Islamic law from the formative period during which ijtih d was the dominant hegemony into the post formative period during which taql d came to dominate It also deals with the internal structure and operation of the madhhab as the sole repository of legal authority Finally the book includes a discussion of the limits of law and the legal process the former imposing limits on the legal jurisdiction of the jurists and the schools the latter imposing limits on the executive authority of the state
