Divided by Faith Michael O. Emerson,Christian Smith,2001 Through a nationwide survey the authors of this study conclude that US Evangelicals may actually be preserving the racial chasm not through active racism but because their theology hinders their ability to recognise systematic injustice Religion and Academia Reframed: Connecting Religion, Science, and Society in the Long Sixties ,2023-08-07 The Long Sixties 1955 1973 were a period of economic prosperity political unrest sexual liberation cultural experimentation and profound religious innovation throughout the Western world This social effervescence also affected the study of religion by reshaping the relationships between academic and religious institutions and discourses While the mainstream churches sought to deploy the instruments of the social sciences to understand and manage the changing socioreligious context prominent scholars regarded the bubbly spirituality of the counterculture as the harbinger of a new era some of them actively used their academic knowledge to further this revolution This book discusses the multiple entanglements of religion and science during these turbulent decades through theoretically informed case studies from both sides of the Atlantic The Making of a Postsecular Society Massimo Rosati, 2016-03-03 Drawing on the thought of Durkheim this volume focuses on societal changes at the symbolic level to develop a new conceptualisation of the emergence of postsecular societies Neo Durkheimian categories are applied to the case of Turkey which in recent years has shifted from a strong Republican and Kemalist view of secularism to a more Anglo Saxon perspective Turkish society thus constitutes an interesting case that blurs modernist distinctions between the secular and the religious and which could be described as postsecular Presenting three symbolic case studies the enduring image of the founder of the Republic Atatürk the contested site of Ayasofia and the remembering and commemoration of the murdered journalist Hrant Dink The Making of a Postsecular Society analyses the cultural relationship that the modern Republic has always had with Europe considering the possible implications of the Turkish model of secularism for a specifically European self understanding of modernity Based on a rigorous construction of theoretical categories and on a close scrutiny of the common challenges confronting Europe and its Turkish neighbour long considered other with regard to the accommodation of religious difference this book sheds light on the possibilities for Europe to find new ways of arranging the relationship between the secular and the religious As such it will appeal to scholars of social theory the sociology of religion secularisation and religious difference and social change Freedom of Religion Paul M. Taylor, 2006-01-12 A critique of the treatment of the right to freedom of religion within the UN and Europe first published in 2005 Baptism and Spiritual Kinship in Early Modern England Will Coster, 2017-03-02 Despite the importance of the subject to contemporaries this is the first monograph to look at the institution of godparenthood in early modern English society Utilising a wealth of hitherto largely neglected primary source data this work explores godparenthood using it as a framework to illuminate wider issues of spiritual kinship and theological change It has become increasingly common for general studies of family and religious life in pre industrial England to make reference to the spiritual kinship evident in the institution of godparenthood However although there have been a number of important studies of the impact of the institution in other periods this is the first detailed monograph devoted to the subject in early modern England This study is possible due to the survival contrary to many expectations of relatively large numbers of parish registers that recorded the identities of godparents in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries By utilising this hitherto largely neglected data in conjunction with evidence gleaned from over 20 000 Wills and numerous other biographical legal and theological sources Coster has been able to explore fully the institution of godparenthood and the role it played in society This book takes the opportunity to study an institution which interacted with a range of social and cultural factors and to assess the nature of these elements within early modern English society It also allows the findings of such an investigation to be compared with the assumptions that have been made about the fortunes of the institution in the context of a changing European society The recent historiography of religion in this period has focused attention on popular elements of religious practice and stressed the conservatism of a society faced with dramatic theological and ritual change In this context a study of godparenthood can make a contribution to understanding how religious change occurred and the ways in which popular religious practice was affected

Religious Education in a Plural, Secularised Society. A Paradigm Shift Leni Franken,Patrick Loobuyck,2011 Many European societies are characterised by increasing forms of secularisation and religious diversity This results in a paradigm shift with regard to religious education For a long time the main aim of religious education was clearly to educate children in their own religious tradition Today the aims of religious education are much broader contributing to pupils general education Allgemeinbildung and preparing them for participation as a citizen in the future multicultural society As a result the following question arises in many countries how can teaching into religion be transformed into or complemented by learning about and learning from the study of religions This book brings several distinguished authors in the field of religious education together to reflect on this paradigm shift The book is divided into two parts The first part is rather descriptive and gives an informative and up to date overview of the different discussions about religious education in several European countries The second part is a normative reflection on the question of how religious education should be organised in plural secularised societies This book is very important for the discussion about religious education Its comparative approach combined with the interdisciplinary dialogue between the different schools in the field of religious education make this book highly recommendable for everyone who is interested in the state of the art and the future of religious education in Europe Didier Pollefeyt full professor in theology and religious education at the Catholic University of Leuven An Examination of the New System of Society William Logan Fisher, 1826 Manifesto of the Critical Theory of Society and Religion (3 Vols.) Rudolf Siebert, 2010-08-16 The Manifesto develops further the Critical Theory of Religion intrinsic to the Critical Theory of Society of the Frankfurt School into a new paradigm of the Psychology Sociology Philosophy and Theology of Religion Its central theme is the theodicy problem in the context of late capitalist society and its globalization An Appeal for Unity in Faith John Phelan, 1911
