Material Culture and Asian Religions Benjamin Fleming, Richard Mann, 2014-03-26 Traditionally research on the history of Asian religions has been marked by a bias for literary evidence privileging canonical texts penned in classical languages Not only has a focus on literary evidence shaped the dominant narratives about the religious histories of Asia in both scholarship and popular culture but it has contributed to the tendency to study different religious traditions in relative isolation from one another Today moreover historical work is often based on modern textual editions and increasingly on electronic databases What may be lost in the process is the visceral sense of the text as artifact as a material object that formed part of a broader material culture in which the boundaries between religious traditions were sometimes more fluid than canonical literature might suggest This volume brings together specialists in a variety of Asian cultures to discuss the methodological challenges involved in integrating material evidence for the reconstruction of the religious histories of South Southeast Central and East Asia By means of specific test cases the volume explores the importance of considering material and literary evidence in concert What untold stories do these sources help us to recover How might they push us to reevaluate historical narratives traditionally told from literary sources By addressing these questions from the perspectives of different subfields and religious traditions contributors map out the challenges involved in interpreting different types of data assessing the problems of interpretation distinct to specific types of material evidence e g coins temple art manuscripts donative inscriptions and considering the issues raised by the different patterns in the preservation of such evidence in different locales Special attention is paid to newly discovered and neglected sources to our evidence for trade migration and inter regional cultural exchange and to geographical locales that served as contact zones connecting cultures In addition the chapters in this volume represent the rich range of religious traditions across Asia including Hinduism Buddhism Taoism Shinto and Chinese religions as well as Islam and eastern Christianities

Religious Traditions in Modern South Asia Jacqueline Suthren Hirst, John Zavos, 2013-03 This book offers a fresh approach to the study of religion in modern South Asia It uses a series of case studies to explore the development of religious ideas and practices giving students an understanding of the social political and historical context

South Asian Religions Karen Pechilis, Selva J. Raj, 2012-11-27 The religious landscape of South Asia is complex and fascinating While existing literature tends to focus on the majority religions of Hinduism and Buddhism much less attention is given to Jainism Sikhism Islam or Christianity While not neglecting the majority traditions this valuable resource also explores the important role which the minority traditions play in the religious life of the subcontinent covering popular as well as elite expressions of religious faith By examining the realities of religious life and the ways in which the traditions are practised on the ground this book provides an illuminating introduction to religion in South Asia

Asian Religions Randall L. Nadeau, 2014-01-13 ASIAN RELIGIONS A unique introduction to Asian religions combining the scholarly rigor of an established historian of Asian religions with the willingness to engage empathetically with the traditions and to suggest that readers do the same Joseph A Adler Kenyon College Randall L Nadeau has accomplished what only a few have tried but which has been much needed in the study of religions He has written a genuinely novel approach to the religions of Asia This is a work that should find its way into Asian humanities history religion and civilization courses Ronnie Littlejohn Belmont University This all embracing introduction to Asian religious practices and beliefs takes a unique approach not only does it provide a complete overview of the basic tenets of the major Asian religions but it also demonstrates how Asian spiritualities are lived and practiced exploring the meaning and significance they hold for believers In a series of engaging and lively chapters the book explores the beliefs and practices of Confucianism Taoism Hinduism Buddhism and Japanese religions including Shint Using a comparative approach it highlights the contrasts between Asian and Western modes of thinking and living and debates the influence of religion on real world issues including work economic growth the environment human rights and gender relations Nadeau a leading figure in this field takes an empathetic approach to Asian religious and cultural traditions and considers Asian spiritualities to be viable systems of belief for today s global citizens Integrating exercises activities and an appealing mixture of examples such as novels and biographies this refreshing book leads readers to an enhanced understanding of the ideas and practice of Asian religions and of their continuing relevance today

Images in Asian Religions Phyllis Granoff, Koichi Shinohara, 2010-10-01 UBC Press is pleased to announce a new series in Asian religions Pilgrims Patrons and Place a Buddha Dharma Kyokai Foundation Book on Buddhism and Comparative Literature is the first book in this series Click here to see other titles in this series The study of images in Asian religions has tended to emphasize the centrality of image worship in both Hinduism and Buddhism Images in Asian Religions offers a challenge to any simple understanding of the role of images by looking at aspects of the reception of image worship that have only begun to be studied including the many hesitations that Asian religious traditions expressed about image worship Written by eminent scholars of anthropology art history and religion with interests in different regions India China Japan and Southeast Asia this volume takes a fresh look at the many ways in which images were defined and received in Asian religions Areas addressed include the complex fluid and contested nature of the religious image the reception of images within the intellectual culture of Hinduism and Buddhism and the importance of historical and cultural context in the study of religious images This compelling collection demonstrating the range of debate over practices of image worship will expand our appreciation of the objects that serve for many as supports of divine presence Of primary interest to scholars of Asian religions it will also appeal to art historians anthropologists semioticians and students of religion who concern themselves with images icons and material culture

Living Religions of the East William Lindsey, 2014-08-12 Songs Scriptures and Stories offers readers a wide selection of primary sources chosen for both their cultural importance and their potential to spark student interest in Asian religious traditions The reading selections typify specific cultural idioms yet speak to global human themes that prompt debate and discussion Readers explore Hinduism Chinese religions and Buddhism The readings include not only excerpts from works well known in the West like the Bhagavad Gita the Analects Zhuang Zi the Dhammapada and others but also cherished selections from the vernacular side of Asia's religious cultures such as India's Prem Sagur China's Legend of Miao Shan and the Bamboo Cutter's Daughter from Japan. The focus is on the literature rather than descriptions or interpretations which gives instructors the freedom to tailor lectures and supplemental materials to the specific needs of their courses. Students benefit from the mix of classic and less familiar documents which creates a lively and engaging mix of sacred hymns poetry scripture and legendary tales. Songs Scriptures and Stories is well suited to survey courses on Asian religions or religious literature. William Lindsey is an associate professor in the Department of Religious Studies at the University of Kansas where his teaching and research interests include religion in Japan and Korea and religious traditions of Asia. He is the author of Fertility and Pleasure Ritual and Sexual Values in Tokugawa Japan a number of articles and also public presentations.

Miracle as Modern Conundrum in South Asian Religious Traditions Corinne G. Dempsey, Selva J. Raj, 2009-01-07 Claims of the miraculous are foundational to faith and skepticism making and breaking religious careers and movements in their wake. Drawing on a variety of South Asian religious traditions Hinduism Buddhism Islam Christianity this book revolves around the theme of conundrum demonstrating how miracles offer divine proof tenacious embarrassment and in many cases both. The contributors explore not only how modern miracles are conundrums themselves but also how they make conundrums out of assumed divides between scientific and supernatural realms modernity and tradition the West and the rest and ethnographer and native. formation of what later come to be termed world religions through inter religious contact the second part focuses on the significance of interreligious contacts also during their expansive phase Methodological problems of multi perspective research and especially the lack of a general religious terminology are discussed in the third chapter while the final papers outline various aspects of secularization and re sacralisation in the age of globalisation as an effect of multicultural contacts in a world wide web of religious interferences Contributors include Marion Steinicke Volkhard Krech Peter Wick Victor H Mair Heiner Roetz Patrick Olivelle Jens Schlieter Guy Stroumsa Sarah Stroumsa Nikolas Jaspert Michael Lecker John Tolan Eun jeung Lee Michael Lackner Stephen C Berkwitz Sven Bretfeld Lucian H Ischer Jan Assmann Robert Ford Campany Russell McCutcheon Tim H Barrett Francesca Tarocco Ronald M Davidson Markus Zehnder Aslam Syed Marion Eggert Peter Schalk Peter Beyer Ian Reader Jos Casanova Heinz Georg Held

Objects of Worship in South Asian Religions Knut A. Jacobsen, Mikael Aktor, Kristina Myrvold, 2014-08-27 Objects of worship are an aspect of the material dimension of lived religion in South Asia The omnipresence of these objects and their use is a theme which cuts across the religious traditions in the pluralistic religious culture of the region Divine power becomes manifest in the objects and for the devotees they may represent power regardless of religious identity This book looks at how objects of worship dominate the religious landscape of South Asia and in what ways they are of significance not just from religious perspectives but also for the social life of the region The contributions to the book show how these objects are shaped by traditions of religious aesthetics and have become conceptual devices woven into webs of religious and social meaning They demonstrate how the objects have a social relationship with those who use them sometimes even treated as being alive The book discusses how devotees relate to such objects in a number of ways and even if the objects belong to various traditions they may attract people from different communities and can also be contested in various ways By analysing the specific qualities that make objects eligible for a status and identity as living objects of worship the book contributes to an understanding of the central significance of these objects in the religious and social life of South Asia It will be of interest to students and scholars of Religious Studies and South Asian Religion Culture and Society

Asia was made possible by a framework grant from the Danish Agency for Science Technology and Innovation allowing the grant holder Jørn Borup and two colleagues Marianne Q. Fibiger and Lene Kihle to host a workshop at Aarhus University and to co-arrange workshops in Delhi and Nagoya. We would like to thank professors Arshad Alam and Michiaki Okuyama for hosting these latter workshops at Jawaharlal Nehru University and Nanzan University and we would like to thank Professor Chong Suh Kim for the invitation for Jørn Borup to visit Seoul National University. We would also like to extend our gratitude to all the scholars who participated in the workshops and to all the authors we subsequently invited to contribute to our endeavor to create this academically relevant volume.

Religions and Societies, Asia and the Middle East Carlo Caldarola, 1982. The series Religion and Society (RS) contributes to the exploration of religions as social systems both in Western and non-Western societies. In particular, it examines religions in their differentiation from and intersection with other cultural systems such as art, economy, law, and politics. Due attention is given to paradigmatic case or comparative studies that exhibit a clear theoretical orientation with the empirical and historical data of religion and such aspects of religion as ritual, the religious imagination, constructions of tradition, iconography, or media. In addition, the formation of religious communities, their construction of identity, and their relation to society and the wider public are key issues of this series.

Religion in Southeast Asia Jesudas Athyal, 2015. This engaging encyclopedia covers the religions and religious traditions of various Southeast Asian countries including Brunei, Burma, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, the Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam.

World Religions Willard Gurdon Oxtoby, 1996. An introduction to the religious traditions of South Asian and East Asian origin, including the Aboriginal traditions of Asia and the Pacific. The historical development of each religious tradition is outlined, and issues on which adherents have differed among themselves are identified.

Religions of Asia Today John L. Esposito, Darrell J. Fasching, Todd Lewis, 2009. Religions of Asia Today, as the title suggests, is the only book to focus on the effect of modernity on the religions of Asia, what their adherents practice, as well as the way the faiths developed historically. The book connects today's religions to their classical beliefs and practices but also shows how these religions have responded to and been transformed by the modern world. This core textbook is designed for the first university survey course on the major Asian religions or the East: Hinduism, Buddhism, East Asian religions, and Islam. It is a split version of Esposito's World Religions Today, 3e, that is intended for the introduction to Eastern or Asian religions classes that typically cover Hinduism, Buddhism, and East Asian religions. This Asian volume includes an entirely new chapter on Islam in Asia, which appears only in this volume.
