Religious Symbolism And Its Universal Character:

The Principle of Analogy in Protestant and Catholic Theology Battista Mondin, 2013-06-29 In recent years there has been a remarkable revival of interest in the doctrine of analogy and many important studies on this doctrine have appeared in the form of articles and books Today many of the greatest living philosophers and theologians consider some sort of analogy to be an indispensable tool for any fruitful research in metaphysics and theology In this atmosphere we are sure that a study of the history of the principle of analogy in Protestant and Catholic theology is welcome This is one of the reasons for the present undertaking A second reason for this study is to seek to divert the ecumenical dialogue from secondary questions and to direct it to an area where it is necessary to agree in order to be one The title of our work is somewhat misleading it may lead one to believe that it deals with all Catholic and Protestant theologians of past and present Actually it does not It deals only with some of the major figures of Catholic and Protestant theology It concentrates especially on Aquinas analogy of intrinsic attribution on Barth's analogy of faith and on Tillich's symbolic analogy It attempts to compare and evaluate these three theological methods from the standpoint of determining their adequacy to interpret the God-creature relation and to justify the use of theological language

95 Theses on Humanism Ignace Demaerel, 2018-08-02 Since the rise and growth of secularization the place of God and religion is becoming increasingly problematic in our Western culture But what is the alternative to its Christian heritage Humanism puts man at the center of everything but can you believe in man just as much as you can believe in God Is this secular worldview really rational based on science consistent and durable And above all does our society become more humane because of it Can you simply obliterate God from our culture and values without these collapsing like a pudding Secular humanism has always been extremely critical of the church and in itself that is allowed but what if we judge and measure it with the same criteria

Symbols (Routledge Revivals) Raymond Firth, 2013-01-11 This book first published in 1973 offers a broad survey of the study of symbolic ideas and behaviour The study of symbolism is popular nowadays and anthropologists have made substantial contributions to it Raymond Firth has long been internationally known for his field research in the Solomons and Malaysia and for his theoretical work on kinship economics and religion Here from a new angle he has produced a broad survey of the study of symbolic ideas and behaviour Professor Firth examines definitions of symbol He traces the history of scientific inquiry into the symbolism of religious cults mythology and dreams back into the eighteenth century He compares some modern approaches to symbolism in art literature and philosophy with those in social anthropology He then cites examples in anthropological treatment of symbolic material from cultures of varying sophistication Finally he offers dispassionate analyses of symbols used in contemporary Western situations from hair styles to the use and abuse of national flags from cults of Black Jesus to the Eucharistic rite In all this Professor Firth combines social and political topicality with a scholarly and provocative theoretical inquiry

God's Wounds: Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering, Volume One Jeff B. Pool,2009-01-01 This book constitutes the first volume of a three volume study of Christian testimonies to divine suffering God s Wounds Hermeneutic of the Christian Symbol of Divine Suffering Divine Vulnerability and Creation This study first develops an approach to interpreting the contested claims about the suffering of God Thus the larger study focuses its inquiry into the testimonies to divine suffering themselves seeking to allow the voices that attest to divine suffering to speak freely to discover and elucidate the internal logic or rationality of this family of testimonies rather than defending these attestations against the dominant claims of classical Christian theism that have historically sought to eliminate such language altogether from Christian discourse about the nature and life of God Through this approach this volume of studies into the Christian symbol of divine suffering then investigates the two major presuppositions that the larger family of testimonies to divine suffering normally hold an understanding of God through the primary metaphor of love God is love and an understanding of the human as created in the image of God with a life though finite analogous to the divine life the imago Dei as love When fully elaborated these presuppositions reveal the conditions of possibility for divine suffering and divine vulnerability with respect to creation

Complex/Archetype/Symbol in the Psychology of C.G. Jung Jolande Jacobi,2020-05-05 As an associate of C G Jung for many years Jolande Jacobi is in a unique position to provide an interpretation of his work In this volume Dr Jacobi presents a study of three central interrelated concepts in analytical psychology the individual complex the universal archetype and the dynamic symbol A Jungian Understanding of Symbolic Function and Forms Dominique Boukhabza,2023-08-11 The purpose of this book is to clarify the function of the symbol and its place at the juncture of psychoanalysis and other social sciences where the singular and the collective intersect and whose laws are identical The debate between Freud and Jung about the symbol is well known by examining the points of contradiction between their respective approaches this book seeks to place them in fruitful tension rather than categorical opposition and explore their similarities and differences In later chapters the author further analyses the function of the symbol in relation to the topics of myth anthropology and dreams This thoughtful book will appeal to those interested and involved in analytical psychology and psychoanalysis as well as psychiatrists and psychologists On Symbolic Representation of Religion / Zur symbolischen Repräsentation von Religion Hubertus G.
