Reluctant Gravities:

Reluctant Gravities Rosmarie Waldrop, 1999 As the author herself says she cultivates cuts discontinuity leaps shifts of reference in an attempt to compensate for the lack of margin where verse would turn toward the white of the page toward what is not

Curves to the Apple Rosmarie Waldrop, 2006 Three pivotal works conceived by the avant garde poet as a trilogy and now together in one volume at last

Gap Gardening Rosmarie Waldrop, 2017-01-15 An essential edition of a major avant garde poet Waldrop compels us to seek out new superlatives Ben Lerner Jacket Rosmarie Waldrop says Gap Gardening spans forty years of exploring the language I breathe and move in and that continues to condition me even while I try to contribute to it It tracks my turn from verse to prose poems to focusing on the sentence and its boundaries my increasing reliance on collage and source texts as a way of engaging with other voices of being in dialogue Gap Gardening also traces Waldrop's growing sense of writing as an exploration of what happens in between Between words sentences people cultures Between fragment and flow thinking and feeling mind and body For the first time we have a complete and clear view of the work of a great and inquiring brave and indispensable poet

Someone Shot My Book Julie Carr, 2018-02-02 Approaching the practices of reading and writing from a feminist perspective Julie Carr asks vital ethical questions about the role of poetry and of art in general in a violent culture She addresses issues such as the art of listening the body and the avant garde gun violence police brutality reading and protest and feminist responses to war in essays that are lucid inventive and informed by a life lived with poetry Essays on poets Lorine Niedecker Jean Valentine Anne Carson Lyn Hejinian and Lisa Robertson detail some of the political emotional and spiritual work of these forerunners A former dancer Carr also takes up question of text dance performance and race in an essay on the work of choreographer writer and visual artist Ralph Lemon and poet Fred Moten Carr's essays push past familiar boundaries between the personal confessional and experimental conceptual strains in American poetry Pressing philosophical inquiries into the nature of gender motherhood fear the body and violence up against readings of twentieth and twenty first century poets she asks us to consider the political and affective work of poetry in a range of contexts Carr reports on her own practices examining her concerns for research and narrative against her investment in lyric as well as her history as a dancer and her work as curator and publisher Carr's breadth of inquiry moves well beyond the page yet remains grounded in languages possibilities

Dissonance (if you are interested) Rosmarie Waldrop, 2005-08-21 Incisive essays on modern poetry and translation by a noted poet translator and critic As an immigrant to the United States from Germany Rosmarie Waldrop has wrestled with the problems of language posed by the discrepancies between her native and adopted tongues and the problems of translating from one to the other Those discrepancies and disjunctions instead of posing problems to be overcome have become for Waldrop a generative force and the very foundation of her interests as a critic and poet In this comprehensive collection of her essays Waldrop addresses considerations central to her life's work typical genres and ways of countering the conventions of genre how concrete poets have made syntax spatial rather than grammatical and the move away from metaphor in poetry toward contiguity and metonymy Three essays on translation struggle with the sources and targets of translation of the degree of strangeness or foreignness a translator should allow into any English translation Finally other essays examine the two way traffic between reading and writing and Waldrop s notion of reading as experience Encountering the Secular

J. Heath Atchley, 2009-01-12 The author challenges the breach between the secular and the religious rendering that breach ambiguous Such ambiguity the author affirms is relevant to a time when rigid and simplistic notions of religion and secularity are used to justify thoughtlessness and even violence All too often the secular is thought of either as a triumph in overcoming the presumed irrationality and oppression of religion or as lament in losing the meaning religion is thought once to have offered Atchley suggests a view of the secular as an opportunity to experience an immanent value that is neither controlled by the human self nor conferred by a divine entity The Communicative Mind Line Brandt, 2013-11-04 Integrating research in linguistics philosophy semiotics neurophenomenology and literary studies The Communicative Mind presents a thought provoking and multifaceted investigation into linguistic meaning construction It explores the various ways in which the intersubjectivity of communicating interactants manifests itself in language structure and use and argues for the indispensability of dialogue as a semantic resource in cognition The view of the mind as highly conditioned by the domain of interpersonal communication is supported by an extensive range of empirical linguistic data from fiction poetry and written and spoken everyday language including rhetorically creative metaphors and metonymies The author introduces Cognitive Linguistics to the notion of enunciation which refers to the situated act of language use and demonstrates the centrality of subjectivity and turn taking interaction in natural semantics The theoretical framework presented takes contextual relevance viewpoint shifts dynamicity and the introduction into discourse of elements with no real world counterparts subjective motion fictivity and other forms of non actuality to be vital components in the construction of meaning The book engages the reader in critical discussions of cognitive linguistic approaches to semantic construal and addresses the philosophical implications of the identified strengths and limitations Among the theoretical advances in what Brandt refers to as the cognitive humanities is Fauconnier and Turner s theory of conceptual integration of mental spaces which has proved widely influential in Cognitive Poetics and Linguistics offering a philosophy of language bridging the gap between pragmatics and semantics With its constructive criticism of the general mechanism hypothesis according to which blending can explain everything from the origin of language to binding in perception Brandt s book brings the scope and applicability of Conceptual Integration Theory into the arena of scientific debate The book contains five main chapters entitled Enunciation Aspects of Subjectivity in Meaning Construction The Subjective Conceptualizer Non actuality in Construal Conceptual Integration in Semiotic Meaning Construction Meaning Construction in Literary Text and Effects of Poetic Enunciation Seven Types of Iconicity Zen and the Birds of Appetite Thomas Merton, 2010-07-27 Merton one of the rare Western thinkers able to feel at home in the philosophies of the East made the wisdom of Asia available to Westerners Zen enriches no one Thomas Merton provocatively writes in his opening statement to Zen and the Birds of Appetite one of the last books to be published before his death in 1968 There is no body to be found The birds may come and circle for a while but they soon go elsewhere When they are gone the nothing the no body that was there suddenly appears That is Zen It was there all the time but the scavengers missed it because it was not their kind of prey This gets at the humor paradox and joy that one feels in Merton's discoveries of Zen during the last years of his life a joy very much present in this collection of essays Exploring the relationship between Christianity and Zen especially through his dialogue with the great Zen teacher D T Suzuki the book makes an excellent introduction to a comparative study of these two traditions as well as giving the reader a strong taste of the mature Merton Never does one feel him losing his own faith in these pages rather one feels that faith getting deeply clarified and affirmed Just as the body of Zen cannot be found by the scavengers so too Merton suggests with the eternal truth of Christ 12 X
