Sport and the Shaping of Civic Identity in Chicago Gerald R.

Gems, 2020-02-13 This study uses sociological and historical methodologies to analyze the role of sport in the formation of urban identity in Chicago The author traces the transformation of Chicago from a frontier town to a commercial behemoth examining its role as an immigration transportation and entertainment hub The author argues that as a pioneering leader in American sport history Chicago allowed teams and athletes to forge a unique national and global identity This thorough and well researched study makes a major contribution to debates on the social and psychological functions of sport culture

Pedestrianism Matthew Algeo, 2014-04-01 Strange as it sounds during the 1870s and 1880s America's most popular spectator sport wasn't baseball football or horseracing it was competitive walking Inside sold out arenas competitors walked around dirt tracks almost nonstop for six straight days never on Sunday risking their health and sanity to see who could walk the farthest 500 miles then 520 miles and 565 miles These walking matches were as talked about as the weather the details reported in newspapers and telegraphed to fans from coast to coast This long forgotten sport known as pedestrianism spawned America's first celebrity athletes The top pedestrians earned a fortune in prize money and endorsement deals The sport also opened doors for immigrants African Americans and women But along with the excitement came the inevitable scandals charges of doping coca leaves and insider gambling It even spawned a riot in 1879 when too many fans showed up at New York's Gilmore's Gardens later renamed Madison Square Gardens and were denied entry to a widely publicized showdown Pedestrianism When Watching People Walk Was America's Favorite Spectator Sport chronicles competitive walking's peculiar appeal and popularity its rapid demise and its enduring influence In many ways pedestrianism marked the beginning of modern spectator sports in the United States Matthew Algeo is the author of Harry Truman's Excellent Adventure The President Is a Sick Man and Last Team Standing An award winning journalist Algeo has reported from three continents for public radio's All Things Considered Marketplace and Morning Edition

Friesen,2019-02-27 Preaching is a challenging privileged and awesome responsibility As important as mining the text for its meaning and message and making connections to our twenty first century world is the responsibility to engage the imaginations of the people in the pews or chairs In this book Ray Friesen life long preacher and retired pastor has provided twenty examples of how to be creative and engage those imaginations Most were written under the pressures of bi vocational ministry preaching forty times a year as half time pastor and operating a mediation practice They are offered to you not as sermons for you to preach but as examples of what is possible even with all the other responsibilities you may have Each sermon and type of creativity will create an opportunity to set your imagination and creativity free to engage the imaginations hearts and dreams of your parishioners Gridiron Grit Doug Scancarella,2006-03 High school football fervor splits a town philosophically when emphasis on education collides with emphasis on victory at all costs Friendships sportsmanship and pride of accomplishment are put to the test when it is discovered that West High is holding its student athletes back a year in school The scheme known as redshirting is utilized to help the football team gain a physical advantage over the competition The news is met with outrage by fans of East High which never employed the same tactic Many think it is hypocritical of parents and coaches to hold a good student back purportedly for academic reasons when in reality they are held back for athletic reasons Emotions run high and spill over into the community Will the antagonism continue to divide the town of Mountainside or will differences be settled on the gridiron Hearings, Reports and Prints of the Senate
