Remembering Forgetting:

The Memory Illusion Dr Julia Shaw, 2016-06-16 THE INTERNATIONAL BESTSELLER Truly fascinating Steve Wright BBC Radio 2 Have you ever forgotten the name of someone you've met dozens of times Or discovered that your memory of an important event was completely different from everyone else's Or vividly recalled being in a particular place at a particular time only to discover later that you couldn't possibly have been We rely on our memories every day of our lives They make us who we are And yet the truth is they are far from being the accurate record of the past we like to think they are In The Memory Illusion forensic psychologist and memory expert Dr Julia Shaw draws on the latest research to show why our memories so often play tricks on us and how if we understand their fallibility we can actually improve their accuracy The result is an exploration of our minds that both fascinates and unnerves and that will make you question how much you can ever truly know about yourself Think you have a good memory Think again A spryly paced fun sometimes frightening exploration of how we remember and why everyone remembers things that never truly happened Pacific Standard

Complexities and Dangers of Remembering and Forgetting in Rwanda Olivier Nyirubugara, 2013 Can a society or a culture or a country be trapped by its own memories The question is not easy to answer but it would not be a bad idea to cautiously say It depends This book is about one society Rwanda and its culture traditions identities and memories More specifically it discusses some of the ways in which ethnic identities and related memories constitute a deadly trap that needs to be torn apart if mass violence is to be eradicated in that country It looks into everyday cultural practices such as child naming and oral traditions myths and tales proverbs war poetry etc and into political practices that govern the ways in which citizens conceptualise the past Rwanda was engulfed in a bloody war from 1990 until 1994 the last episode of which was a genocide that claimed about a million lives amongst the Tutsi minority This book the first in the Memory Traps series provides a new understanding of how a seemingly quiet society can suddenly turn into a scene of the most horrible inter ethnic crimes It offers an analysis of the complexities and dangers resulting from the ways in which memories are managed both at a personal level and at a collective level The main point is that Rwandans have become hostages of their memories of the long gone and the recent past The book shows how these memories follow ethnic lines and lead to a state of cultural hypocrisy on the one hand and to permanent conflict either open and brutal or latent and beneath the surface on the other hand Written from a memory studies perspective and informed by critical theory philosophy literature oral history and psychology amongst others this book deals with some controversial subjects and deconstructs some of the received ideas about the recent and the long gone past of Rwanda About the author Olivier Nyirubugara is a lecturer of New Media and Online Journalism at the Erasmus School of History Culture and Communication Erasmus University Rotterdam In 2011 he completed a PhD in Media Studies at the University of Amsterdam with a dissertation entitled Surfing the Past Digital Learners in the History Class in which he empirically explored ways in which pupils use the Web to find historical

Beyond Memory Alexandre Dessingué, Jay Winter, 2015-08-14 Beyond Memory Silence and the Aesthetics of Remembrance analyses the intricate connections between silence acts of remembrance and acts of forgetting and relates the topic of silence to the international research field of Cultural Memory Studies It engages with the most recent work in the field by viewing silence as a remedy to the traditionally binary approach to our understanding of remembering and forgetting The international team of contributors examine case studies from colonialism war politics and slavery from across the globe as well as drawing examples from literature philosophy and sites of memory to draw three main conclusions Firstly that the relationship between remembering and forgetting is relational rather than hermetic and the space between the two is often occupied by silence Secondly silence is a force in itself capable of stimulating more or less remembrance Finally that silence is a necessary and key element in the interaction between the human mind and the outer world and enables people to challenge their understanding of art music literature history and memory With an introduction by the editors discussing Memory Studies and concluding remarks by Astrid Erll this collection demonstrates that acceptance and consideration of silence as having both a performative and aesthetic dimension is an essential component of history and memory studies

Proust, Beckett, and Narration James H. Reid, 2003-10-13 This a comprehensive comparison of the narrative techniques of two of the twentieth century s most important writers of prose Using a combination of theoretical analysis and close readings of Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu and Beckett's trilogy of novels Molloy, Malone Dies, and The Unnamable. James H. Reid compares the two novelists' use of first person narration in constructing and demystifying fictions of consciousness. Reid focuses on the narrator's search to represent the voice that speaks the novel; a search he argues that structures first person narration in the works of both novelists. He examines in detail the significant impact of Proust's writing on Beckett's own work as well as Beckett's subtle reworkings of Proust's themes and strategies. This study is an important contribution to critical literature and offers fresh perspectives on the crucial importance of the Recherche and the trilogy in the context of the twentieth century novel.
