Reminiscence And The Self In Old Age:

Reminiscence and the Self in Old Age Edmund A. Sherman, 1991 Reminiscence and the Self in Old Age Edmund A. Sherman, 1991 On Being Old Graham Stokes, 2013-10-31 Presents the foundations for understanding gerontology Chapter by chapter it addresses different aspects of ageing such as personality changes and adjustments cognitive loss in old age and abnormal ageing It is aimed at A level and BSc students lecturers nurses social workers and therapists Structured Reminiscence and Gestalt Life Review Steven D. Koffman, 2000 First published in 2000 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Meaning of Reminiscence and Life Review Jon Hendricks, 2019-04-04 Robert Butler's call for life reviews has exerted a key influence on the way gerontologists have looked at reminiscence and remembering Widely thought to be a helpful mechanism for integrating past and future the process of life review needs better specification and evaluation based on sound research The Meaning of Reminiscence and Life Review brings together both research and application pieces covering the range of possibilities It examines important controversies and asks Does it work and What is the evidence Given their own voice what do old people say about looking back Reminiscence Work with Old People Clare Gillies, Anne James, 2013-11-11 Perhaps being old is like having lighted rooms Inside your head and people in them acting People you know but can't quite name Philip Larkin This book is about those very old people who have a great many memories but few friends left to share them with It is about valuing and using their memories to enhance the quality of their lives that is about reminiscence work Many professionals offer this help to older people including nurses social workers occupational therapists and clinical psychologists as do families and voluntary workers Its elements can be incorporated into day to day contacts with older people or it may take place in more structured settings The transitional period from mature middle age to dependent old age is neither distinct nor precise It does not occur at an identifiable time it may be prolonged and it may not be obvious to the old people or their families Loss of autonomy the inability to cope unaided with the tasks of daily living and increasing physical and mental frailty probably signal the area of transition The diminished self confidence that some old people feel at this time may be compounded by personal loss and financial difficulties enforced changes in their lifestyles may also add to their confusion Understanding Quality Of Life In Old Age Walker, Alan, 2005-06-01 What constitutes quality of life for older people How can quality of life be measured How might policy makers improve quality of life for older people This book considers key findings from the Growing Older research programme and presents them in a lively thematic format It discusses essential topics such as environment family bereavement identity and social interaction and describes key concepts and measures Using data drawn from a range of different research projects the book illustrates considerable methodological diversity to capture a broad picture of quality of life Key implications for future research on quality of life in older age are also proposed The book is a companion volume to Growing Older Quality of Life in Old Age edited by Alan Walker and Catherine Hagan Hennessy and is key reading on a range of undergraduate and Masters level courses including social gerontology social work sociology and social policy Contributors Sara Arber John Baldock Kate M Bennett David Blane Ann Bowling Elizabeth Breeze Jabeer Butt Lynda Clarke Peter Coleman Kate Davidson Murna Downs Maria Evandrou Ken Gilhooly Mary Gilhooly Jane Gow Jan Hadlow Catherine Hagan Hennessy Paul Higgs Caroline Holland Georgina M Hughes Martin Hyde Leonie Kellaher Mary Maynard Kevin McKee F McKiernan Christopher McKevitt Marie Mills Jo Moriarty James Nazroo Sheila Peace Thomas Scharf Philip T Smith Peter Speck Susan Tester Christina Victor Alan Walker Peter Warr Lorna Warren Dick Wiggins Fiona Wilson The Art and Science of Reminiscing Jeffrey D.

Webster, Barbara Haight, 2013-02-01 Although recognition of reminiscing as a potentially adaptive process can be traced back over 30 years to the seminal work of Robert Butler as discussed in the Foreword there has been little effort to consolidate the work and paint a complete picture of reminiscing as an entity Here reminiscing is presented as a multi disciplinary topic examining the theory of and research on reminiscing The book also discusses the different ways of conducting life review interviews and explores therapeutic applications Contributors to this book many of whom are pioneers and leading figures in the field discuss and elaborate their latest thinking and research findings from multiple perspectives The volume s strength derives from its multi disciplinary nursing psychiatry psychology gerontology community advocacy and multinational Australia Canada England Sweden and the United States treatment James Birren Irene Burnside and Phillipe Cappeliez are a few of the eminent scholars authoring this volume The Uses of Reminiscence Mark Kaminsky, 2014-02-24 The meaning and value of reminiscence in the lives of elders is beautifully explored Reminiscence and Life Story Work Faith

Gibson, 2011 Previously published under title Reminiscence and recall The Older Adult as Learner D. Barry

Lumsden, 1985 Reminiscence and Nursing Home Life Donna E. Schafer, 1994 First published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Trauma Among Older People Leon Albert Hyer, Steven Sohnle, 2014-10-10

Trauma Among Older Adults presents an integrative model of treatment that considers current theories of treatment in light of special considerations relating to elderly patients The book provides case studies vignettes and discussions and demonstrates the importance of considering the personality memory and familial history of an elderly individual who has suffered a trauma Cognition, Aging and Self-Reports Norbert Schwarz, Denise Park, Barbel Knauper, Seymour

Sudman, 1998-09-28 First Published in 1998 This book provides a state of the art overview of age related changes in cognitive functioning and explores the implications of these changes for the self report of attitudes and behaviors The contributors are leading researchers in cognitive aging and survey methodology and chapters are written to be accessible to non specialists The first part of the book provides an authoritative review of the current state of cognitive aging research covering topics such as working memory inhibition autobiographical memory metacognition and attention A second section examines the unique issues associated with aging language comprehension and interpersonal communication while the final section reviews researcher into age related differences in survey responding Of particular interest is how age related changes in cognitive and communicative functioning influence the question answering process in research situations Experimental research illustrates that older and younger respondents are differentially affected by question order question wording and other features of questionnaire design As a result many age related differences in reported attitudes and behaviors may reflect age related differences in the response process rather than differences in respondents actual attitudes or behaviors Implications for research design and psychological theorizing are addressed and practical solutions are offered As such the book will be of interest not only to those in the fields of cognitive aging and gerontology but also to survey methodologists and researchers in public opinion marketing and related fields who rely on respondents answers to questions in their research

Social Work with Older People Ann McDonald, 2010-03-08 Social Work with Older People provides an authoritative and practical guide to working with older people in a range of settings It addresses the complexities of individual work with older people as well as work with families groups and the wider community and is not afraid to tackle the challenges as well as opportunities of practice in this area The book begins by explaining the demographic changes that have led to a greying of the general population It goes on to discuss the diversity in experiences of ageing across society and the range of issues which confront older people and those who wish to work proactively with them Clear attention is paid to the processes of assessment care planning and review with readers encouraged to reflect on developing good practice through case studies and exercises Although it has a strong practical emphasis the book also stresses the value of theoretical perspectives with insights from fields such as sociology and psychology woven throughout the book Clear links are also made to policy guidelines and organizational standards without losing sight of the deeper often more complex issues that arise when working with older people Social Work with Older People will be essential reading for social work students and practitioners but also for others who are interested in the development of practice with older people as citizens and service users
