Neo-Latin Poetry in the British Isles, 2013-03-14 Investigation of the Latin poetry produced by British poets from the sixteenth century onwards affords an indispensable insight into a dominant strand in the intellectual, cultural and educational life of the British Isles during this period. At this time the composition of Latin poetry was a regular feature of school curricula and a popular leisure time activity of the educated elite. Such examination also sheds light on the poetic principles and practice of major British poets such as Campion, Cowley, Herbert and Milton who penned a large quantity of neo-Latin verse in addition to their better known vernacular works.

George Buchanan Philip Ford, Roger P. H. Green, 2009-12-31 Educated in Scotland and France, George Buchanan became one of the most influential writers of 16th century Europe. Here fifteen scholars from many countries analyse his writings, his creative use of ancient texts for contemporary purposes and his impact on the culture of Scotland and of Europe, not least in the spheres of tragedy and music.
