Renaming Ecstasy:

Renaming Ecstasy Orlando Ricardo Menes, 2004 Renaming Ecstasy brings together poets who have explored experiences of the sacred in ways that are unique to Latin American culture and highlights the richness and complexity of Latino spiritual life. Because of Latin America's mestizaje of cultures, traditional Catholicism exists alongside other practices of African or indigenous origin. In their invocation of the divine, poets of Caribbean origin draw inspiration from the myths and practices of Santería. Others write devotionally about topics that engage Latino Catholics: the matter of religious vocation and those devotional practices that connect individuals to the community and give shape to their daily lives. The collection features poetry by Benjamin Alire Sáenz, Victor Hernández Cruz, Demetria Martínez, Orlando Ricardo Menes, and Virgil Suárez among others.

Fleshing the Spirit Elisa Facio, Irene Lara, 2014-04-10 Fleshing the Spirit brings together established and new writers exploring the relationships between the physical body, the spirit, and spirituality and social justice activism. Examining the complex and dynamic connections among these concepts, the writers emphasize the value of flesh and blood experience as a site of knowledge. They argue that spirituality, something quite different from institutional religious practice, can heal the mind/body split and set the stage for social change. Spirituality, they argue, is a necessary component of an alternative political agenda focused on equitable social and ecological change. The anthology incorporates different genres of writing, such as poetry, testimonials, critical essays, and historical analysis, and stimulates the reader to engage spirituality in a critical, personal, and creative way. This interdisciplinary work is the first that attempts to theorize the radical interconnection between women of color, spirituality, and social activism. Before transformative political work can be done, the authors say, in multiple ways we must recognize that our spiritual need is a desire to more fully understand our relations with others. Conflict experienced on many levels sometimes severs those relations, separating us from others along racial, class, gender, sexual, national, or other socially constructed lines. Fleshing the Spirit offers a spiritual journey of healing, health, and human revolution. The book's open invitation to engage in critical dialogue and social activism with the spirit and spirituality at the forefront illuminates the way to social change and the ability to live in harmony with life's universal energies.

Light Upon Light, 2014-10-01 This collection of daily and weekly readings goes through the liturgical seasons of winter, including Advent, Christmas, and Epiphany. New voices such as Amit Majmudar and Scott Cairns are paired with well-loved classics by Dickens, Andersen, and Eliot. For years I have been seeking a book which weaves scripture, prayer, and the finest poetry and fiction into the devotional experience of Advent, Christmas, and Epiphany. Finally, I have found it: an elegant and accessible gem with some classic texts and a rich selection from contemporary literature. This is not only a useful book it is edifying and exciting reading the perfect way for the literature lover to focus meditate and celebrate this time of year Jill Pel ez Baumgaertner poet Professor of English and Dean of Humanities and Theological Studies Wheaton College Maybe it s not right to think of feasting during the somewhat penitential season of Advent but that is what this book is a sumptuous feast Lauren F Winner In our individual darknesses we long for more light Sarah Arthur understands this and as if pulling together scores of candles with burning wicks she illuminates our whole year with the gift of flaming words A treasure of enlightenment Luci Shaw author of Breath for the Bones and Adventure of Ascent A beautifully navigated journey through a treasury of literary wisdom a book to cherish Jeremy Begbie professor of theology and director of Duke University Initiatives in Theology and the Arts Sarah Arthur is a fun loving speaker and author of nine books including The One Year Coffee With God and At the Still Point A graduate of Wheaton College and Duke Divinity she lives in Michigan with her pastor husband Tom and their two small sons www.saraharthur.com

Each and Her Valerie Martínez, 2022-05-03 In 2004 twenty eight women and young girls were murdered in Ciudad Ju rez and the surrounding areas The tragedy escalated to fifty eight murders in 2006 then again to eighty six in 2008 and current estimates top four hundred deaths Now poet Valerie Mart nez offers a poetic exploration of these events pushing boundaries stylistically and artistically with vivid poems that contextualize femicide Mart nez departs from traditional narrative to reveal the hidden effects and outcomes of the horrific and heart wrenching cases of femicide These poems lyric fragments and prose passages that form a collage have an intricate relation to one another creating a complex literary quilt that feels like it can be read from the beginning the end or anywhere in between Mart nez is personally invested in the topic evoking the loss of her sister and Each and Her emerges as a biography of sorts and a compelling homage to all those who have suffered Other authors may elaborate on or investigate this topic but Mart nez humanizes it by including names quotations realistic details and stark imagery The women of Ju rez like other women around the world are ravaged by inequality discontinuity politics and economic plagues that contribute to gender violence Mart nez offers us a poignant and alarming glance into another world with these never before told stories Her refreshing and explosive voice will keep readers transfixed and intrigued about these events and emotions removed from us and yet so close to the heart

Profane & Sacred Bridget A. Kevane, 2008 Profane Sacred examines religious discourse in contemporary Latino a fiction exploring how religion creates mediates or changes Latino culture and identity Much contemporary literary criticism on Latino a literature has focused on the bilingual and bicultural nature of Latino identity history and cultural production But just as the multiplicity of cultures and languages has shaped Latino identity and history so too has religion Studying the religious discourse found in fiction can clearly enrich not only our perception of the diversity within the Hispanic communities but also the diversity between sociologists and creative writers

The New Psychedelic Revolution James Oroc, 2018-01-16 A bold exploration of modern psychedelic culture its history and future Examines 3 modern psy culture architects chemist Alexander Sasha Shulgin mycologist philosopher

Terence McKenna and visionary artist Alex Grey Investigates the use of microdosing in extreme sports the psy trance festival experience and the relationship between the ego entheogens and toxicity Presents a History of Visionary Art from its roots in prehistory to Ernst Fuchs and the Vienna School of the Fantastic to contemporary psychedelic art After the dismantling of a major acid laboratory in 2001 dramatically reduced the world supply of LSD the psychedelic revolution of the 1960s appeared to have finally run its course But the opposite has actually proven to be true and a psychedelic renaissance is rapidly emerging with the rise in popularity of transformational festivals like Burning Man and BOOM the return to positive media coverage of the potential benefits of entheogens and the growing number of celebrities willing to admit the benefits of their own personal use Along with the return of university research the revival of psychedelic philosophy and the increasing popularity of visionary art these new developments signify the beginning of a worldwide psychedelic cultural revolution more integrated into the mainstream than the counterculture uprising of the 1960s In his latest book James Oroc defines the borders of 21st century psychedelic culture through the influence of its three main architects chemist Alexander Shulgin mycologist Terence McKenna and visionary artist Alex Grey before illustrating a number of facets of this Second Psychedelic Revolution including the use of microdosing in extreme sports the tech savvy psychedelic community that has arisen around transformational festivals and the relationship between the ego entheogens and toxicity This volume also presents for the first time a History of Visionary Art that explains its importance to the emergence of visionary culture Exploring the practical role of entheogens in our selfish and fast paced modern world the author explains how psychedelics are powerful tools to examine the ego and the shadow via the transpersonal experience Asserting that a cultural adoption of the entheogenic perspective is the best chance that our society has to survive he then proposes that our ongoing psychedelic revolution now a century old since the first synthesis of a psychedelic in 1918 offers the potential for the birth of a new Visionary Age

Japanese Poetry and its Publics Dean Anthony Brink, 2017-10-02 This book aims to explore precisely how modern Japanese poetry has remained central to public life in both Japan and its former colony of Taiwan Though classical Japanese poetry has captivated the imagination of Asian studies scholars little research has been conducted to explore its role in public life as a discourse influential in defining both the modern Japanese empire and contemporary postcolonial negotiations of identity This book shows how highly visible poetry in regular newspaper columns and blogs have in various historical situations in Japan and colonial Taiwan contested as well as promoted diverse colonial imaginaries This poetry reflects both contemporary life and traditional poetics with few counterpoints in Western media Methodologically this book offers a defense of the public influence of poetry each chapter enlisting a wide range of social and media theorists from Japan Europe and North America to explore specific historical moments in an original recasting of intertextuality as a vital feature of active inter evental material engagements In this book rather than recite a standard survey of literary movements and key poets the approach taken is to examine uses of poetry shown not only to support colonialism and imperialism emerging objectionable forms of exploitation as well as the destruction of ecologies including old growth forests in Taiwan and the Fukushima Disaster but also to present a medium of resistance a minor literature for registering protest forming transnational affiliations and promoting grass roots democracy The book is based on years of research and fieldwork partially in conjunction with the production of a documentary film Horizons of the Rising Sun Postcolonial Nostalgia and Politics in the Taiwan Tanka Association Today 2017
