

The Three Little Pigs - Play script

Characters: Narrator, Mother, Pig 1, Pig2, Pig3, Man, Wolf

Scene 1

Narrator: Once upon a time three pigs left their mother's home and went into the world.

Three Pigs: Bye Mother.

Mother: Good-bye my little sons.

Narrator: The three pigs went different ways. Soon pig 1 met a man who was selling straw.

Pig 1: I need some straw, would you sell it to me?

Man: Of course. Take it.

Narrator: Pig 1 paid the man and went to build his house. Later, Pig 2 met a man who was selling wood.

Pig 2: Please Sir, I need some wood to build my house. Would you sell it to me?

Man: Yes. Take it.

Narrator: Pig 2 paid the man and went on his way to make his wood house. Later, Pig 3 met a man who was selling bricks.

Pig 3: Excuse me Sir, I need some bricks. Are they for sale?

Man: Of course. Take them.

Narrator: Pig 3 paid the man and went on his way to build his brick house. When the three pigs finished their houses they moved in. Pig 1 was taking a nap when someone knocked at the door. Pig 1 looked through the window and saw a wolf.

Wolf: Little pig, little pig, let me in!

Pig 1: Not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin.

Wolf: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down!!

Narrator: The wolf huffed and puffed and destroyed pig 1's house. Pig 1 ran all the way to pig 2's house. When he got there Pig 1 told Pig 2 what had happened. Pig 2 invited Pig 1 to live with him. After a few days, there was a knock at the door. The two pigs looked out the window and it was the wolf.

Volume 10: Tribute Plays Vijay Padaki, Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Play from Birth and Beyond Sandra Lynch, Deborah Pike, Cynthia à Beckett, 2017-01-27 While firmly acknowledging the importance of play in early childhood this book interrogates the assumption that play is a birthright It pushes beyond traditional understandings of play to ask questions such as what is the relationship between play and the arts theatre music and philosophy and between play and wellbeing How is play relevant to educational practice in the rapidly changing circumstances of today's world What do Australian Aboriginal conceptions of play have to offer understandings of play The book examines how ideas of play evolve as children increasingly interact with popular culture and technology and how developing notions of play have changed our work spaces teaching practices curricula and learning environments as well as our understanding of relationships between children and adults This multidisciplinary volume on the subject of play combines the work of some of the world's leading researchers in the field of early childhood education with contributions from distinguished and emerging scholars in areas as diverse as education theatre studies architecture literature philosophy cultural studies theology and the creative arts Reconsidering the common focus on play in early education to investigate its broader impact this collection offers a refreshing and valuable addition to studies on play reconceptualizing it for the 21st century Children's Play, Pretense, and Story Susan Douglas, Lesley Stirling, 2015-12-21 At the heart of this volume is the recognition that children's engagement with play and story are intrinsically and intricately linked The contributing authors share a passionate interest in the development and well being of children in particular through their use of imagination and adaptation of the everyday into play and stories Following these principles the volume explores the connections between play story and pretense with regard to many cultural and contextual factors that influence the way these elements vary in children's lives In a departure from earlier collections on play and story the authors take a particular focus on normative as compared with atypical development This collection begins with an approach to understanding the developmental relationship between play and story which recognizes their similarities while acknowledging their differences Much of the collection addresses pretend play and story in children with autism spectrum disorder an understudied but important group for consideration as these dimensions of their lives and development have often been considered problematic The volume also includes sections on play and story in classroom settings and play and story across cultures including non English speaking environments such as Israel Romania China and Mexico It concludes with a discussion of how play differs across sociocultural and economic contexts making a unifying claim for the importance of play in children's lives but also calling for an understanding of what play means to very different groups of children Young Minds in Social Worlds Katherine Nelson, 2010-03-30 Katherine Nelson re-centers developmental psychology with a revived emphasis on development and change rather than foundations and continuity She argues that children be seen not as scientists but as members of a community of minds striving not only to make sense but also to share meanings with others A child is always part of a social world yet the child's experience is private So Nelson argues we must study children in the context of the relationships interactive language and culture of their everyday lives Nelson draws philosophically from pragmatism and phenomenology and empirically from a range of developmental research Skeptical of work that focuses on presumed innate abilities and the close fit of child and adult forms of cognition her dynamic framework takes into account whole systems developing over time presenting a coherent account of social cognitive and linguistic development in the first five years of life Nelson argues that a child's entrance into the community of minds is a slow gradual process with enormous consequences for child development and the adults that they become Original deeply scholarly and trenchant Young Minds in Social Worlds will inspire a new generation of developmental psychologists
