A Second Home ©

This isn't just a daycare, It's like a second home. Our children aren't just cared for, You love them like your own.

They learn life lessons every day,
Strong values you enforce.
You make the learning fun with play,
Your spirit sets their course.

They love the way you read to them And sing those silly songs. In this special place that you create, They feel that they belong.

So thank you from deep within our hearts, For words cannot express, The gratitude that we have for you And your safe and caring nest.

MacArthur, 2008-08-04 Robert Frost Elizabeth Bishop and John Ashbery stand out among major American poets all three shaped the direction and pushed the boundaries of contemporary poetry on an international scale Drawing on biography cultural history and original archival research MacArthur shows us that these distinctive poets share one surprisingly central trope in their oeuvres the Romantic scene of the abandoned house This book scrutinizes the popular notion of Frost as a deeply rooted New Englander demonstrates that Frost had an underestimated influence on Bishop whose preoccupation with houses and dwelling is the obverse of her obsession with travel and questions dominant anti biographical readings of Ashbery as an urban identified poet As she reads poems that evoke particular landscapes and houses lost and abandoned by these poets MacArthur also sketches relevant cultural trends including patterns of rural de settlement the transformation of rural economies from agriculture to tourism and modern American's increasing mobility and rootlessness American Heritage Poetry Collection LTC Roy E.
