Feedback in Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, Fiona Hyland, 2006-08-14 This collection of scholarly articles by leading researchers offers empirical data and analysis of complex issues related to providing feedback during the writing process Under the Quick Molly

Bendall, 2009-08-26 In Molly Bendall's fourth book of poems the verbal underworld of doing and undoing oath love charm prayer curse becomes a refuge of tenderness and malediction One of her generation's most subtly imaginative poets Bendall overhears and whispers to the reader a lost language which is by turns brainy and promiscuous clueless and inscrutable bewitching and bereft a voice skirting a strange silence a goblin market of snares cures trifles and m tiers inconnus Under the spell of these poems worlds once imagined break into growls and fingersnaps undoing the rough magic of impersonation

Expertise in Second Language Writing Instruction Alan Hirvela, Diane D. Belcher, 2024-11-25 Despite growing interest in L2 writing teachers there is a dearth of published works that specifically delve into the nuances of the development of L2 writing teacher expertise Informed by relevant foundational theory and empirical research this book addresses this crucial gap in the understanding of expertise in L2 writing instruction This book offers a holistic analysis of L2 writing instruction serving as a valuable resource for those involved in the development of L2 writing teacher educators as well as novice teachers striving to hone their skills in teaching L2 writing It draws from a wide array of international perspectives on the conceptualization of L2 writing teacher expertise and research in this domain Significantly it is the first comprehensive work that places expertise in L2 writing instruction at the forefront It will interest scholars in the disciplines of foreign and second language education as well as postgraduate students and aspiring teachers Controversies in Second Language Writing

Christine Pearson Casanave, 2007 Controversies in Second Language Writing is not a how to book but one that focuses on how teachers in L2 writing can be helped to make reasoned decisions by understanding some of the key issues and conflicting opinions about L2 writing research and pedagogy This book will assist teachers in making informed decisions about teaching writing in the ESL classroom To counteract some of the debates Casanave explores the different sides of the arguments and provides examples of how other teachers have dealt with these issues The book presents novice and seasoned teachers with thought provoking issues and questions to consider when determining and reflecting on their own teaching strategies and criteria Topics discussed include contrastive rhetoric product vs process fluency and accuracy assessment of student work audience plagiarism politics and ideology Understanding, Evaluating, and Conducting Second Language Writing Research Charlene Polio, Debra Friedman, 2016-11-18 Understanding Evaluating and Conducting Second Language

Writing Research speaks to the rapidly growing area of second language writing by providing a uniquely balanced approach to L2 writing research. While other books favor either a qualitative or quantitative approach to second language acquisition, SLA research, this text is comprehensive in scope and does not privilege one approach over the other, illuminating the strengths of each and the ways in which they might complement each other. It also provides equal weight to the cognitive and socio-cultural approaches to SLA. Containing an array of focal studies and suggestions for further reading, this text is the ideal resource for students beginning to conduct L2 writing research as well as for more experienced researchers who wish to expand their approach to conducting research.

Teaching Writing as a Second Language Alice Horning, 1987
Addressing basic writing not only as a practical problem and humane responsibility but also as a challenging area for research and theorizing, this book reviews, interprets, and applies the growing body of work in second language acquisition. Chapter 1 presents 6 hypotheses constituting an attempt to develop a cohesive theory of writing acquisition that incorporates the redundancy of language and facilitates the process of language acquisition. The following chapters explore this theory in detail to serve as a basis for experimental confirmation. Chapters 2 and 3 on spoken and written language and redundancy provide the theoretical basis for the argument that academic discourse is a separate linguistic system characterized by particular psycholinguistic features. Chapters 4 and 5 present a detailed analysis of the behavior of basic writers with respect to written form, reviewing both pertinent second language theory about learners' errors and a case study of one writer. Chapters 6 and 7 discuss the relevant affective factors analyzed in second language acquisition theory and detail Stephen Krashen's recent proposals for a comprehensive theory of second language acquisition. The final chapter reviews the entire theory, summarizes the evidence, and outlines the agenda for further research. JD

Assessing Second Language Writing in Academic Contexts Liz Hamp-Lyons, 1991
This is the first volume to focus on the assessment of second language writing. The collection as a whole provides coverage of all issues in second language writing assessment, starting from the context in which and for which assessment must occur, moving through the aspects of decision making and design in a writing assessment program, and then considering how the need to evaluate any program on assessment can be carried out. After a discussion of issues of public reporting, an area which will receive increasing attention in the next few years, the volume closes with a discussion of what new issues and answers the future may bring. The book reflects the current belief in direct writing assessment in second language writing assessment. While it is often expected that those working with ESL students will focus on language error throughout the book, themes of needs, attitudes, ideas, and content dominate. For second language writers, the use of written language to learn, to create knowledge, and to share ideas and beliefs are vitally important. Additionally, issues of cross-cultural academic literacy, practical information on criteria and scoring models for use with ESL writers, and research on the efficacy and effects of various assessment models are provided. The book blends theory and practice in a way which offers all those who are concerned with the writing skills of nonnative users of English an invaluable resource Connecting Reading & Writing in Second Language Writing Instruction Alan Hirvela, 2004-08-20 Academic writing often requires students to incorporate material from outside sources like statistics ideas quotations paraphrases into their own written texts a particular obstacle for students who lack strong reading skills In Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction Alan Hirvela contends that second language writing students should be considered as readers first and advocates the integration of reading and writing instruction with a survey of theory research and pedagogy in the subject area Although the integrated reading writing model has gained popularity in recent years many teachers have little more than an intuitive sense of the connections between these skills As part of the popular Michigan Series on Teaching Multilingual Writers Connecting Reading and Writing in Second Language Instruction will provide invaluable background knowledge on this issue to ESL teachers in training as well as teachers who are already practicing

Professionalizing Second Language Writing Paul Kei Matsuda, Sarah Elizabeth Snyder, 2017-09-21 Professionalizing Second Language Writing is an edited collection that bring together perspectives of second language writing specialists who shed light on second language writing as a profession Some of the chapters illuminate the nature of second language writing not only as a field but as a profession Other chapters provide an in depth look at the issues second language writing specialists face as they go through various stages of professional development in their institutional contexts Together these chapters provide insights that can help graduate students and early career professionals as they envision their future and cope with new issues and challenges in their own processes of professionalization Contributors include Dwight Atkinson Pisarn Bee Chamcharatsri Deborah Crusan Atsushi Iida Soo Hyon Kim Todd Ruecker Tanita Saenkhum and Christine M Tardy

Writing in Foreign Language Contexts Rosa Manchon, 2009-07-09 This book represents the most comprehensive account to date of foreign language FL writing Its basic aim is to reflect critically on where the field is now and where it needs need to go next in the exploration of FL writing at the levels of theory research and pedagogy hence the two parts of the book Looking back and Looking ahead The chapters in Part I offer accounts of both the inquiry process followed and the main insights gained in various long term research programs The chapters in Part 2 contribute a retrospective analysis of the available empirical research and of professional experiences in an attempt to move forward The book invites the reader to step back and rethink seemingly well established knowledge about L2 writing in light of what is known about writing in FL contexts

Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing Tony Silva, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2010-01-15 Theory has been used widely in the field of second language writing Second language writing specialists teachers researchers and administrators have yet to have an open and sustained conversation about what theory is how it works and more important how to practice theory Practicing Theory in Second Language Writing features fourteen essays by distinguished scholars in second language writing who explore various aspects of theoretical work that goes on in the field

L2 Writing Beyond English Nur Yiğitoğlu Aptoula, Melinda Reichelt, 2019-04-10 Most of what we know about writing in a second or foreign language L2 is based on conclusions drawn from research on L2 writing in English However a significant quantity of L2 writing and writing instruction takes place in languages other than English and so there is a need for studies that look beyond English The chapters in this book focus on languages other than English and investigate curricular issues multiple languages in contact conflict in L2 writing instruction and student attitudes toward pedagogical practices The collection as a whole makes a valuable contribution to the study of L2 writing and it will also prove an essential resource for instructors of second and foreign language writing

Assessing Second Language Writing Tom Lumley, 2005 This study investigates the process of rating texts written by adult ESL learners Four experienced raters provided think aloud protocols describing the rating process for a set of 24 texts The think aloud data allowed analysis of the sequence of rating raters interpretations of the scoring categories and difficulties raters faced The study reveals the complexity of the rating process whereby raters struggle to resolve a tension between the wordings or rules of the rating scale and their complex initial intuitive impression of the text Rating requires training to provide reliable measurement The study also demonstrates that caution is needed in interpreting results from think aloud data despite their methodological value in this kind of study

Contrastive Rhetoric Ulla Connor, 1996-01-26 Shows how a person's first language and culture influence writing in a second language

A Synthesis of Research on Second Language Writing in English Ilona Leki, Alister Cumming, Tony Silva, 2010-04-15 I applaud the authors for this sizeable undertaking as well as the care exercised in selecting and sequencing topics and subtopics A major strength and salient feature of this volume is its range It will serve as a key reference tool for researchers working in L2 composition and in allied fields John Hedgcock Monterey Institute for International Studies Synthesizing twenty five years of the most significant and influential findings of published research on second language writing in English this volume promotes understanding and provides access to research developments in the field Overall it distinguishes the major contexts of English L2 learning in North America synthesizes the research themes issues and findings that span these contexts and interprets the methodological progression and substantive findings of this body of knowledge Of particular interest is the extensive bibliography which makes this volume an essential reference tool for libraries and serious writing professionals both researchers and practitioners both L1 and L2 This book is designed to allow researchers to become familiar with the most important research on this topic to promote understanding of pedagogical needs of L2 writing students and to introduce graduate students to L2 writing research findings

Peer Response in Second Language Writing Classrooms, Second Edition Jun Liu, Jette G. Hansen Edwards, 2018-05-25 Since the publication of the first edition in 2002 there have been two major developments in L2 writing and peer response teaching and research The first is the increased interest in CALL and computer mediated communication CMC for L2 pedagogy the second is the accessibility and viability of research on L2 peer response from all over the world Both developments are thoroughly addressed in this new edition Now that classes are as likely to be online as held in physical classrooms and now that a new generation of digital natives can routinely read and respond to what others write via laptops tablets and phones peer response as pedagogical practice is not just more easily implemented but it is more likely to feel natural to L2 learners The Second Edition is a highly accessible guide to how the world is using peer response and serves as a motivator and facilitator for those who want to try it for the first time or want to increase the effectiveness of the activities whether via CMC or not The volume includes 11 forms useful in training students to provide good peer feedback including a final checklist to ensure teachers have taken all the necessary steps to achieve a successful peer feedback activity

Second Language Writing Systems Vivian Cook, Benedetta Bassetti, 2005-05-23

Second Language Writing Systems looks at how people learn and use a second language writing system arguing that they are affected by characteristics of the first and second writing systems to a certain extent independently of the languages involved This book presents for the first time the effects of writing systems on language reading and writing and on language awareness and provides a new platform for discussing bilingualism biliteracy and writing systems The approach is interdisciplinary with contributions not only from applied linguists and psychologists but also corpus linguists educators and phoneticians A variety of topics are covered from handwriting to spelling word recognition to the mental lexicon and language textbooks to metalinguistic awareness Though most of the studies concern adult L2 learners and users other populations covered include minority children immersion students and bilingual children While the emphasis is on English as the L2 writing system many other writing systems are analysed as L1 or L2 Arabic Chinese Dutch Gujarati Indonesian Irish Italian and Japanese Approaches that are represented include contrastive analysis transfer poststructuralism connectionism and corpus analysis The readership is SLA and bilingualism researchers students and teachers around the world language teachers will also find much food for thought
