Modern Middle Eastern Jewish Thought Moshe Behar, Zvi Ben-Dor Benite, 2013 The first anthology of modern Middle Eastern Jewish thought Arabic in Modern Hebrew Texts Ahmed Mohamed A.H. Ahmed, 2019-11-06 In the late 1950s Iraqi Jews were either forced or chose to leave Iraq for Israel Finding it impossible to continue writing in Arabic in Israel many Iraqi Jewish novelists faced the literary challenge of switching to Hebrew Focusing on the literary works of the writers Shimon Ballas Sami Michael and Eli Amir this book examines their use of their native Iraqi Arabic in their Hebrew works It examines the influence of Arabic language and culture and explores questions of language place and belonging from the perspective of sociolinguistics and multilingualism In addition Ahmed applies stylistics as a framework to investigate the range of linguistic phenomena that can be found in these exophonic texts such as code switching borrowing language and translation strategies This new stylistic framework for analysing exophonic texts offers a future model for the study of other languages The social and political implications of this dilemma as it finds expression in creative writing are also manifold In an age of mass migration and population displacement the conflicted loyalties explored in this book through the prism of Arabic and Hebrew are relevant in a range of linguistic contexts The Farhud Edwin Black, 2010-11-16 The Nazis needed oil The Arabs wanted the Jews and British out of Iraq The Mufti of Jerusalem forged a far ranging alliance with Hitler resulting in the June 1941 Farhud a Nazi style pogrom in Baghdad that set the stage for the devastation and expulsion of the Iraqi Jews and ultimately almost a million Jews across the Arab world The Farhud was the beginning of what became a broad Nazi Arab alliance in the Holocaust

forces Propelled by this incisive and bold argument How to Get Out of Iraq with Integrity provides the foundation for the incoming presidential administration to do just that without betraying U S commitments to Arabs Kurds or democracy To make his case O Leary draws on his extensive background as constitutional advisor to the Kurdistan Regional Government the European Union and the United Nations along with expertise in constitutional design and ethnic reconciliation in Northern Ireland and South Africa

The Other Iraq Orit Bashkin,2008-11-20 The Other Iraq challenges the notion that Iraq has always been a totalitarian artificial state torn by sectarian violence Chronicling the rise of the Iraqi public sphere from 1921 to 1958 this enlightening work reveals that the Iraqi intellectual field was always more democratic and pluralistic than historians have tended to believe Orit Bashkin demonstrates how Sunni Shi'i and Kurdish intellectuals effectively created hyphenated Iraqi identities connoting pride in their individual heritages while simultaneously appropriating and integrating ideas and narratives of Arab and Iraqi nationalism Illustrating three developmental stages of Iraqi intellectual history she follows Iraqi intellectuals changing roles from agents of democracy to specialists who analyze the population to deeply entrenched members of society committed to change Based on previously unexplored material this eye opening work has significant contemporary implications Press in the Middle East and North Africa, 1850-1950 Anthony Gorman, 2018-04-30

A dynamic scholarly engagement with Susanne Bier's work Educational Oases in the Desert Jonathan Sciarcon, 2017-01-01 A history of the French schools that pioneered female education in Ottoman Iraq's Jewish communities During the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the Alliance Israélite Universelle AIU a Paris based Jewish organization founded dozens of primary schools throughout the Middle East Many were the first formal educational institutions for local Jewish children In addition to providing secular education the schools attempted to change local customs and regenerate or uplift communities Educational Oases in the Desert explores the largely forgotten history of the AIU's schools for girls in Ottoman Iraq Drawing on extensive archival research Jonathan Sciarcon argues that teachers viewed female education through a gendered lens linked to their understanding of an ideal modern society As the primary educators of children women were seen as society's key agents of socialization The AIU thus concluded that its boys schools would never succeed in creating polished westernized men so long as women remained uneducated leading to the creation of schools for girls Sciarcon shows how headmistresses acted not just as educators but also as models of modernity trying to impart new moral and aesthetic norms onto students Iraq C. H. Bleaney, Geoffrey Roper, 2004 Well considered answers to the many questions raised by the situation in Iraq past and present are rare This first comprehensive bibliography on Iraq is based on the Index Islamicus the leading bibliography on the Muslim world and will help its readers to find their way through the extensive secondary literature American Book Publishing Record, 1998 New Babylonians Orit Bashkin, 2012-09-12

Although Iraqi Jews saw themselves as Iraqi patriots their community which had existed in Iraq for more than 2 500 years was displaced following the establishment of the state of Israel New Babylonians chronicles the lives of these Jews their urban Arab culture and their hopes for a democratic nation state It studies their ideas about Judaism Islam secularism modernity and reform focusing on Iraqi Jews who internalized narratives of Arab and Iraqi nationalisms and on those who turned to communism in the 1940s As the book reveals the ultimate displacement of this community was not the result of a perpetual persecution on the part of their Iraqi compatriots but rather the outcome of misguided state policies during the late 1940s and early 1950s Sadly from a dominant mood of coexistence friendship and partnership the impossibility of Arab Jewish coexistence became the prevailing narrative in the region and the dominant narrative we have come to know today
