Science, Earth and Space (level One) Terri Williams,2005-01-01 Conceptual Anomalies in Economics and Statistics Leland Gerson Neuberg,1989-05-26 Do economics and statistics succeed in explaining human social behaviour To answer this question Leland Gerson Neuberg studies some pioneering controlled social experiments Starting in the late 1960s economists and statisticians sought to improve social policy formation with random assignment experiments such as those that provided income guarantees in the form of a negative income tax This book explores anomalies in the conceptual basis of such experiments and in the foundations of statistics and economics more generally Scientific inquiry always faces certain philosophical problems Controlled experiments of human social behaviour however cannot avoid some methodological difficulties not evident in physical science experiments Drawing upon several examples the author argues that methodological anomalies prevent microeconomics and statistics from explaining human social behaviour as coherently as the physical sciences explain nature He concludes that controlled social experiments are a frequently overrated tool for social policy improvement Levels of Organization in the Biological Sciences Daniel S. Brooks,James DiFrisco,William C. Wimsatt,2021-08-24 Scientific philosophers examine the nature and significance of levels of organization a core structural principle in the biological sciences This volume examines the idea of levels of organization as a distinct object of investigation considering its merits as a core organizational principle for the scientific image of the natural world It approaches levels of organization roughly the idea that the natural world is segregated into part whole relationships of increasing spatiotemporal scale and complexity in terms of its roles in scientific reasoning as a dynamic open ended idea capable of performing multiple overlapping functions in distinct empirical settings The contributors scientific philosophers with longstanding ties to the biological sciences discuss topics including the philosophical and scientific contexts for an inquiry into levels whether the concept can actually deliver on its organizational promises the role of levels in the development and evolution of complex systems conditional independence and downward causation and the extension of the concept into the sociocultural realm Taken together the contributions embrace the diverse usages of the term as aspects of the big picture of levels of organization Contributors Jan Baedke Robert W Batterman Daniel S Brooks James DiFrisco Markus I Eronen Carl Gillett Sara Green James Griesemer Alan C Love Angela Potochnik Thomas Reydon Ilya T mkin Jon Umerez William C Wimsatt James Woodward Mark Akenside Robin Dix, 2000 This is the first book of Akenside criticism to be published since C T Houpt s biographical and critical study which initially appeared in 1944 This important collection of essays examines the full range of Akenside s poetical output from his earliest published work to the later odes and posthumous published poems SRA Real Science ,
