Rebels And Bureaucrats Chinas December 9ers:

Rebels and Bureaucrats John Israel, Donald W. Klein, 1974 New Perspectives on the Chinese Revolution Tony Saich, Hans J. Van De Ven, 2015-03-04 These essays present fresh insights into the history of the Chinese Communist Party CCP from its founding in 1920 to its assumption of state power in 1949 They draw upon considerable archival resources which have recently become available Inventing China through History Q. Edward Wang, 2001-01-01 A critical examination of the rise of national history in early twentieth century China Tools of War, Tools of State Robert Tynes, 2018-09-01 Examines why many governments rebels and terrorist organizations are using children as soldiers Despite the supposed taboo against the practice many governments rebels and terrorist groups use children in war to spy and kill In Tools of War Tools of State Robert Tynes examines this complex problem demonstrating that the modern use of children in war is a tactical innovation He discusses how boys and girls on the battlefield bolster troop size create moral dilemmas and deepen the level of fear He also reveals how the practice has become an essential component for groups such as ISIS and al Shabaab in their state making projects Using statistical methods to analyze conflicts from 1987 to 2007 Tynes shows how widespread child soldier use is and confirms the theory that it is tactically advantageous Through historical analysis he explains how child soldiering developed out of Mao s protracted war theory and the militarization of youth during the twentieth century A case study of the civil war in Sierra Leone which details the brutality involved when children are forced to fight is included Constitutional Reform and the Future of the Republic of China Harvey Feldman, Columbia University. Taiwan Area Studies Program, 1991 The conference that forms the basis for this book was held in Taipei in 1989 With contributions by political figures from both the Kuomintang and the opposition Democratic Progressive Party as well as leading scholars from Taiwan and the US this book discusses the critical issues affecting the future of Taiwan The book discusses Taiwan s economic achievements its pathbreaking experiments with political reform its unique patterns of political participation its example as a fully modernized Chinese cultural community its importance in the world trading system and its key role in Pacific Basin international relations It also discusses how these factors have made Taiwan a focus of interest for students of economic development comparative politics and international relations Mobilizing Shanghai Youth Kristin Mulready-Stone, 2014-11-27 In the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries youth emerged as a new and important social force in many parts of the world In China the image of this new youth imprinted itself on Chinese consciousness and made clear to potential national leaders that future governments would not be able to ignore China s youth or expect them simply to step in line For this and other reasons the Chinese Communist Party CCP the Chinese Nationalist Party GMD and a string of War of Resistance era collaborationist governments all formed youth organizations in an effort to win youth over and harness their vitality and enthusiasm to further their agendas Mobilizing Shanghai Youth explores the similarities and differences among three youth organizations that were connected to Chinese political parties or governments in Shanghai spanning from the beginning of the May Fourth Movement just as youth began to emerge as a powerful social and political force in China to World War II when Nationalist Communist and Japanese forces were still competing for dominance It takes a comparative approach in exploring the similarities and differences trials and tribulations in how the Chinese Communist Party Chinese Nationalist Party and a series of collaborationist regimes sought to appeal to youth through the Communist Youth League the Three People s Principles Youth Corps and the China Youth Corps Focusing on Greater Shanghai allows a detailed exploration of the rise and fall of the original Communist Youth League and its connections to international communism The spotlight on Shanghai also yields the extraordinary finding that the Three People s Principles Youth Corps was a valuable asset to the Nationalist Party operating as a potent resistance organization in Japanese controlled Shanghai whereas branches in Nationalist controlled territory were factionalized dysfunctional and a terrible liability for the Party Most surprisingly the collaborationist China Youth Corps took the most practical and in some ways the most successful approach to mobilizing China s youth The result of exhaustive archival research this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Chinese history modern history Communism and the role of youth in revolution ferment of the early Republic the guerrilla movement of the 1930s and the replacement of the local revolutionary leadership after Mao and the Center arrived in 1935 In Accidental Holy Land Escherick compels us to consider the Chinese Revolution not as some inevitable peasant response to poverty and oppression but as the contingent product of local national and international events in a constantly changing milieu

New Perspectives on Yenching University, 1916-1952 Arthur Lewis Rosenbaum, 2015-01-08 Essays in New Perspectives on Yenching University 1916-1952 reevaluate the experience of China's preeminent Christian university in an era of nationalism and revolution Although the university was denounced by the Chinese Communists and critics as an elitist and imperialist enterprise irrelevant to China's real needs the essays demonstrate that Yenching's emphasis on biculturalism cultural exchange and a broad liberal education combined with professional expertise ultimately are compatible with nation building and a modern Chinese identity They show that the university fostered transnational exchanges of knowledge changed the lives of students and faculty and responded to the pressures of nationalism war and revolution Topics include efforts to make Christianity relevant to China's needs promotion of professional expertise gender relationships and coeducation the liberal arts Sino American cultural interactions and Yenching's ambiguous response to Chinese nationalism Japanese invasion and revolution
