Religion in Essence and Manifestation G. van der Leeuw,1933

Gnosticism and the History of Religions David G. Robertson,2021-08-12 Building on critical work in biblical studies which shows how a historically bounded heretical tradition called Gnosticism was invented this work focuses on the following stage in which it was essentialised into a sui generis universal category of religion At the same time it shows how Gnosticism became a religious self identifier with a number of sizable contemporary groups identifying as Gnostics today drawing on the same discourses This book provides a history of this problematic category and its relationship with scholarly and popular discourse on religion in the twentieth century It uses a critical historical method to show how and why Gnosis Gnostic and Gnosticism were taken up by specific groups and individuals practitioners and scholars at different times It shows how ideas about Gnosticism developed in late nineteenth and twentieth century scholarship drawing from continental phenomenology Jungian psychology and post Holocaust theology to be constructed as a perennial religious current based on special knowledge of the divine in a corrupt world David G Robertson challenges how scholars interact with the category Gnosticism and contributes to our understanding of the complex relationship between primary sources academics and practitioners in category formation

American Sacred Space David Chidester,Edward T. Linenthal,1995-11-22 In a series of pioneering studies this book examines the creation and the conflict behind the creation of sacred space in America The essays in this volume visit places in America where economic political and social forces clash over the sacred and the profane from wilderness areas in the American West to the Mall in Washington D C and they investigate visions of America as sacred space at home and abroad Here are the beginnings of a new American religious history told as the story of the contested spaces it has inhabited The contributors are David Chidester Matthew Glass Edward T Linenthal Colleen McDannell Robert S Michaelsen Rowland A Sherrill and Bron Taylor

Fifty Key Thinkers on Religion Gary Kessler,2013-03 Fifty Key Thinkers on Religion is an accessible guide to the most important and widely studied theorists on religion of the last 300 years Arranged chronologically the book explores the lives works and ideas of key writers across a truly interdisciplinary range from sociologists to psychologists Thinkers covered include Friedrich Nietzsche James Frazer Sigmund Freud Emile Durkheim Ludwig Wittgenstein Mary Douglas Talal Asad S ren Kierkegaard Providing an indispensable one volume map of our understanding of religion in the west the book is fully cross referenced throughout and provides authoritative guides to important primary and secondary texts for students wishing to take their studies further and Manifestation, Vol. 1 Gerardus Leeuw,1963 The Theological Metaphors of Marx Enrique Dussel,2024-04-02 Enrique Dussel provides a groundbreaking combination of Marxology theology and ethical theory showing that Marx unveils the theology of capitalism in his critique of commodity fetishization Religion in Essence and Manifestation ,1961

Representing Religion Tim Murphy,2014-12-05 If religion is continually in a state of flux how can the study of religion critically examine contemporary religious beliefs and values Representing Religion critically examines this crisis of representation The volume traces the history of religious studies critiquing the concept that experience is central to understanding religion The views of influential semioticians and philosophers notably Nietzsche Saussure Foucault Barthes and Bakhtin are used to construct a new methodology for the critical study of religion Representing Religion will be of interest to students and scholars of semiotics as well as theory and method in religious studies Religion in essence & manifestation v.2 G. Van Der Leeuw,1967 Religion Defined and Explained P. Clarke,P. Byrne,Scotney Evans,1993-03-12

This book examines a selection of major types of theory explaining religion religious philosophical sociological socio economic and psychological It treats of the presuppositions behind such theories and the grounds of their necessity and validity It looks at major styles in the definition of religion It argues that the case for making religion the subject of large scale theorising has not been made and contends that the explanation of religion proceeds better by concentrating on the specifics of religious history and the interconnections between religious ideas Abrahamic Religions Aaron W.

Hughes,2012-10-18 Recently the term Abrahamic religions has been used with exceeding frequency in the academy We now regularly encounter academic books conferences and even positions including endowed chairs devoted to the so called Abrahamic religions But what exactly are Abrahamic religions Although many perceive him as the common denominator of Judaism Christianity and Islam Abraham remains deceptively out of reach An ahistorical figure some contend he holds the seeds for historical reconciliation Touted as symbol of ecumenicism Abraham can just as easily function as one of division and exclusivity Like our understanding of Abraham the category Abrahamic religions is vague and nebulous In Abrahamic Religions Aaron Hughes examines the creation and dissemination of this term Usually lost in contemporary discussions is a set of crucial questions Where does the term Abrahamic religions derive Who created it and for what purposes What sort of intellectual work is it perceived to perform Part genealogical and part analytical this book seeks to raise and answer questions about the appropriateness and usefulness of employing Abrahamic religions as a vehicle for understanding and classifying data In so doing Abrahamic Religions can be taken as a case study that examines the construction of categories within the academic study of religion showing how the categories we employ can become more an impediment than an expedient to understanding

Christian Faith as Religion Paul E. Capetz, 2011-05-26 Christian Faith as Religion investigates the theologies of John Calvin and Friedrich Schleiermacher with respect to the questions What is Religion and What is Christian Religion The author argues that the classical and liberal exemplars of Protestant theology are best compared when these two questions are thoroughly examined and calls into question the contention of neo orthodox theologians Karl Barth and Emil Brunner that Schleiermacher s theological use of the category religion signifies a departure from the tradition of the Reformation He offers a revised comparative framework that discloses the material and formal similarities between Calvin and Schleiermacher with respect to their employment of the categories religion and revelation and allows the historical theologian to delineate the trajectory that accounts for both continuity and discontinuity in the transition from classical to modern Protestant theology This allows the systematic hermeneutical question of a contemporary Protestant theology informed by the historical and philosophical study of religion to be taken up anew

The Politics of Spirit Tim Murphy, 2010-12-28 A penetrating critique of the dominant approach to the study of religion The Politics of Spirit explores the historical and philosophical scaffolding of the phenomenology of religion Although this approach purports to give a value free neutral description of religious data it actually imposes a set of metaphysical and evaluative concepts on that data A very harmful ethnocentrism has resulted which plagues the academic study of religion to this day Analysis of the history core texts and discursive structure of phenomenology of religion reveals how this ethnocentrism is embedded within its assumptions Of particular interest is the revelation of the extent to which Hegel s ideas over those of Husserl contributed to the tenets that became standard in the study of religion Tim Murphy argues that the poststructuralist concept of genealogy as derived from Nietzsche can both describe religion better than the phenomenological approach and avoid the political pitfalls of ethnocentrism by replacing its core categories with the categories of difference contingency and otherness Ultimately Murphy argues that postmodern genealogy should replace phenomenology as the paradigm for understanding both religion and the study of religion
