Remembering Oral History Performance:

Remembering D. Pollock, 2017-02-28 Drawing on the work of scholars and practitioners such as Augusto Boal Gloria Anzaldua and Trinh Minh ha these essays advocate oral history and oral history based performance as means to challenge and expand upon traditional ways of transmitting historical knowledge The contributors central concerns are performative aspects of oral history itself and the theatrical or classroom re performance of oral history The essays detail classroom and public pedagogies community based interventions processes of developing interview based performances and the ethical and political implications of oral history as an embodied form of representation The essays collected in this volume present the most current scholarship straddling the rich intersection between oral history and performance and together suggest ways for scholars and performers to use oral history to challenge more traditional modes of knowledge Oral History Theory

Lynn Abrams, 2016-03-18 Oral history is increasingly acknowledged as a key tool for anyone studying the history of the recent past and Oral History Theory provides a comprehensive systematic and accessible overview of this important field Combining the study of theories drawn from disciplines ranging from linguistics to psychoanalysis with the observations of practitioners and including extensive examples of oral history practice from around the world this book constitutes the first integrated discussion of oral history theory Structured around key themes such as the peculiarities of oral history the study of the self subjectivity and intersubjectivity memory narrative performance power and trauma each chapter provides a clear and user friendly explanation of the various theoretical approaches illustrating these with examples from the rich field of published oral history and making suggestions for the practicing oral historian This second edition includes a new chapter on trauma and ethics a preface discussing new developments in the field and updated glossary and further reading sections Supplemented by a new companion website www.routledge.com/cw/abrams containing a comprehensive range of case studies audio material and further resources this book will be invaluable to experienced and novice oral historians professionals and students who are new to the discipline Doing Oral History Donald A. Ritchie, 2015 Doing Oral History is considered the premier guidebook to oral history used by professional oral historians public historians archivists and genealogists as a core text in college courses and throughout the public history community The recent development of digital audio and video recording technology has continued to alter the practice of oral history making it even easier to produce and disseminate quality recordings At the same time digital technology has complicated the preservation of the recordings past and present This basic manual offers detailed advice for setting up an oral history project conducting interviews and using oral history for research making video recordings preserving oral history collections in archives and libraries and teaching and presenting oral history Creating Verbatim Theatre from Oral Histories Clare Summerskill, 2020-09-13 Offering a roadmap for practicing verbatim theatre plays created from oral histories this book outlines theatre processes through the lens of oral history and draws upon oral history scholarship to bring best practices from that discipline to theatre practitioners This book opens with an overview of oral history and verbatim theatre considering the ways in which existing oral history debates can inform verbatim theatre processes and highlights necessary ethical considerations within each field which are especially prevalent when working with narrators from marginalised communities It provides a step by step guide to creating plays from interviews and contains practical guidance for determining the scope of a theatre project identifying narrators and conducting interviews developing a script from excerpts of interview transcripts and outlining a variety of ways to create verbatim theatre productions By bringing together this explicit discussion of oral history in relationship to theatre based on personal testimonies the reader gains insight into each field and the close relationship between the two Supported by international case studies that cover a wide range of working methods and productions including The Laramie Project and Parramatta Girls this is the perfect guide for oral historians producing dramatic representations of the material they have sourced through interviews and for writers creating professional theatre productions community projects or student plays

Place, Writing, and Voice in Oral History S. Trower, 2011-11-07 This book demonstrates how oral history can provide a valuable way of understanding locality which is important in light of major issues facing the world today including global environmental concerns

Ethnotheatre Johnny Saldaña, 2016-06-16 Ethnotheatre transforms research about human experiences into a dramatic presentation for an audience Johnny Saldaña one of the best known practitioners of this research tradition outlines the key principles and practices of ethnotheatre in this clear concise volume He covers the preparation of a dramatic presentation from the research and writing stages to the elements of stage production Salda nurtures playwrights through adaptation and stage exercises and delves into the complex ethical questions of turning the personal into theatre Throughout he emphasizes the vital importance of creating good theatre as well as good research for impact on an audience and performers The volume includes multiple scenes from contemporary ethnodramas plus two complete play scripts as exemplars of the genre The Storytelling State Cheng Nien

Yuan, 2025-07-31 In The Storytelling State Cheng Nien Yuan a Singaporean performance scholar and dramaturg charts Singapore's development into a storytelling state since the 2010s In such a state public autobiographical stories of everyday people elicited through visualized narrative interviews proliferate the nation's mediascape Governmental agencies and government linked institutions actively facilitate this phenomenon through campaigns and funding incentives Examining several key campaigns from the period of 2011–2021 Cheng shows how state and society collaborate to cultivate an intimate confessional public Taken together these stories generate a new paradigm of communicating social policy and the Singapore Story by mapping the national archive onto everyday bodies Bite sized pieces of consumable lives are marketed as authentic windows to the private self producing ways of being doing and feeling in the nation in accordance with contemporary societal concerns This book enters a larger debate about storytelling's impact around the world in the digital age Singapore's storytelling state functions within a global network of performing memory with new media Its origins can be traced to popular American models of oral history telling as seen in StoryCorps and Humans of New York with their techniques appropriated for a Singaporean audience Yet even when well intentioned the claims of such projects of giving voice to the non elite and the marginalized can be undermined by injurious effects that are not unique to the Singaporean context At the same time the embodied and emotional nature of these performances make the absolute control of meaning difficult Often they reveal more than they should transgressing the normative demands of the storytelling state At stake here are performances of identity mobility and belonging When the national stage is set for life itself what does it mean to have a life

Identity Research and Communication Nilanjana Bardhan, Mark P. Orbe, 2012-04-05 The concept of identity has steadily emerged in importance in the field of intercultural communication especially over the last two decades In a transnational world marked by complex connectivity as well as enduring differences and power inequities it is imperative to understand and continuously theorize how we perceive the self in relation to the cultural other Such understandings play a central role in how we negotiate relationships build alliances promote peace and strive for social justice across cultural differences in various contexts Identity Research in Intercultural Communication edited by Nilanjana Bardhan and Mark P Orbe is unique in scope because it brings together a vast range of positions on identity scholarship under one umbrella It tracks the state of identity research in the field and includes cutting edge theoretical essays some supported by empirical data and queries what kinds of theoretical methodological praxiological and pedagogical boundaries researchers should be pushing in the future This collection's primary and qualitative focus is on more recent concepts related to identity that have emerged in scholarship such as power privilege intersectionality critical selfhood hybridity diaspora cosmopolitanism queer theory globalization and transnationalism immigration gendered and sexual politics self reflexivity positionality agency ethics dialogue and dialectics and more The essays are critical interpretive postmodern postcolonial and performative in perspective and they strike a balance between U S and transnational views on identity This volume is an essential text for scholars educators students and intercultural consultants and trainers

Desi Divas Christine L. Garlough, 2013-02-19 Desi Divas Political Activism in South Asian American Cultural Performances is the product of five years of field research with progressive activists associated with the School for Indian Languages and Cultures SILC South Asian Americans Leading Together SAALT the feminist dance collective Post Natyam and the grassroots feminist political organization South Asian Sisters Christine L. Garlough explores how traditional cultural forms may be critically appropriated by marginalized groups and used as rhetorical tools to promote deliberation and debate spur understanding and connection broaden political engagement and advance particular social identities Within this framework she examines how these performance activists advocate a political commitment to both justice and care to both deliberative discussion and deeper understanding To consider how this might happen in diasporic performance contexts Garlough weaves together two lines of thinking One grows from feminist theory and draws upon a core literature concerning the ethics of care The other comes from rhetoric philosophy and political science literature on recognition and acknowledgment This dual approach is used to reflect upon South Asian American women s performances that address pressing social problems related to gender inequality immigration rights ethnic stereotyping hate crimes and religious violence Case study chapters address the relatively unknown history of South Asian American rhetorical performances from the early 1800s to the present Avant garde feminist performances by the Post Natyam dance collective appropriate women s folk practices and Hindu goddess figures make rhetorical claims about hate crimes against South Asian Americans after 9 11 In Yoni ki Bat a South Asian American version of The Vagina Monologues a progressive performer transforms aspects of the Mahabharata narrative to address issues of sexual violence such as incest and rape Throughout the volume Garlough argues that these performers rely on calls for acknowledgment that intertwine calls for justice and care That is they embed their testimony in traditional cultural forms to invite interest reflection and connection

Inside the Historical Film Bruno Ramirez, 2014-09-30 From cinema s beginnings filmmakers have turned to the past for their stories so much so that in many ways our historical culture is shaped more in the movie theatre than in the classroom Inside the Historical Film argues how and why film can enrich our understanding of the past Bruno Ramirez discusses a wide range of films from various historical and national contexts pointing to the role that film crafts play in translating historical events into cinematic language He takes the reader through the process of conception research design and production of several films that he researched and co wrote explaining the decisions that were made to best convey historical knowledge The practice based quality at the core of Ramirez s analysis is further enhanced by conversations with world renowned film directors including Denys Arcand Constantin Costa Gavras Deepa Mehta Renzo Rossellini Paolo and Vittorio Taviani and Margarethe von Trotta Grounded in an appreciation for the interpretative value of making films and cinema s ability to reach large public audiences at personal and emotional levels Inside the Historical Film seeks to understand historical films as both creative works and multi layered representations of the past Lives in Play Ryan Claycomb,2012-08-08 Life writing s significance in women s theater and performance from the 70s to the present

Soldiers and Citizens C. Mirra,2008-12-08 This book is the first comprehensive oral history of the Iraq War It presents the raw and vivid testimonies and recollections from combat veterans family members conscientious objectors Bush administration officials Iraqi leaders and many others forming a gripping and moving portrait of the war Moving Blackness Lisa B. Y. Calvente,2025 Moving Blackness Black Circulation Racism and Relations of Homespace delves into the intricate connections between communication culture power and racism in relation to blackness Through a blend of interviews oral histories and meticulous archival research this book sheds light on the multifaceted narratives surrounding Black identity It explores how these stories circulate serving as tools of resistance negotiation and affirmation of diverse manifestations and representations of blackness By emphasizing the significance of storytelling as a means through which blackness affirms itself transcending time and space the book underscores how communicative embodiments of Black identity enable individuals to persevere within marginalized contexts Engaging with theories of anti Black racism modernity coloniality and the Black diaspora the book frames storytelling and the circulation of narratives as performances deeply rooted in the everyday lives of Black people across the diaspora Starting with an examination of the racial construction of movement during colonialism and slavery the book traces how this history shapes contemporary interactions With its exploration of how Black circulation transforms movement and space the book introduces a forward thinking approach to the Black diaspora anchored in a politics of identification rather than being confined to the past or a specific location Moving Blackness argues that the desire for homespace a yearning for belonging that transcends any particular physical space fuels this envisioned future rooted in the historical and material conditions of racism and marginalization Youth and Conflict in Israel-Palestine Victoria Biggs,2020-12-10 How are forbidden histories told and transmitted among young people in Israel Palestine What can their stories teach us about their everyday experiences of segregation and political violence This book investigates how young people use storytelling to navigate borders memory and unseen spaces and to confront questions of belonging and those they see as the other The study is unique in its inclusion of children from a broad spectrum of communities including Palestinian refugee camps and right wing Israeli settlement homes The book shows that boundary spaces are fertile ground for the transmission of forbidden stories and memories Young people are at the centre of the research and Victoria Biggs argues that storytelling reveals much more about their experiences and perceptions than either quantitative data or qualitative interviews Through analysis of the language metaphor violence and endings employed in the stories storytelling is shown to be a political act that plays a vital role in shaping conflict affected young people's concepts of community exclusion and belonging

Contemporary Oral Literature Fieldwork Wasamba, Peter, 2015-10-19 Contemporary Oral Literature Fieldwork is based on rich research experience dating back to the 1990s The book is written against the backdrop of Africa's confusion with regard to the place of oral literature in the face of the rest of the world where oral literature exists in conjunction with new literary forms Wasamba argues that the oral and the written literatures are complementary literary forms Throughout the work the author underscores the universal dimension of oral literature as he demonstrates its particular attributes

Aesthetic Citizenship Emine Fisek, 2017-09-15 Aesthetic Citizenship is an ethnographic study of the role of theatrical performance in questions regarding immigration citizenship and the formation of national identity Focusing on Paris in the twenty first century Emine Fisek analyzes the use of theater by immigrant rights organizations there and examines the relationship between aesthetic practices and the political personhoods they negotiate From neighborhood associations and humanitarian alliances to arts organizations both large and small Fisek traces how theater has emerged as a practice with the perceived capacity to address questions regarding immigrant rights integration and experience In Aesthetic Citizenship she explores how the stage one of France's most evocative cultural spaces has come to play a role in contemporary questions about immigration citizenship and national identity Yet Fisek's insightful research also illuminates Paris's broader historical political and cultural through lines that continue to shape the relationship between theater and migration in France By focusing on how French public discourses on immigration are not only rendered meaningful but also inhabited and modified in the context of activist and arts practice Aesthetic Citizenship seeks to answer the fundamental question is theater a representational act or can it also be a transformative one
