Women and Magic in Medieval Romance Jane Elizabeth Bonsall,2025-04-08 Explores the conventions and contradictions inherent in archetypes of magical femininity from loathly ladies to monstrous mothers in a range of popular late medieval English romances The female characters in Middle English romances with particular power and agency are often portrayed as supernatural possessing either magical abilities or identities This book argues that a genre focused reading of these supernatural women reveals romance s strategies for working through and articulating anxieties about the changing world of the late medieval period as well as exposing their contemporary audiences unexpectedly flexible attitudes toward feminine authority and moral ambiguity It explores five distinct types of magical femininity the Tristan tradition s marvelously gifted healers the Muslim princess in Bevis of Hampton the endlessly wealthy fairy imagined by Sir Launfal and Partonope of Blois the monster mother Melusine and Morgan le Fay the prototypical witch By tracking the way each type first establishes then complicates generic patterns this study highlights the tension between romance s persistent fascination with feminine power and its simultaneous reiteration of the social and generic bounds on women s agency and authority Interrogating generic expectations from an intersectional feminist perspective it makes a case for a recuperative re reading of romance one that asks us to revise our assumptions about the potentialities of women s power in the medieval imaginary
