Second Media Age:

The Second Media Age Mark Poster, 2018-03-08 This book examines the implications of new communication technologies in the light of the most recent work in social and cultural theory and argues that new developments in electronic media such as the Internet and Virtual Reality justify the designation of a second media age Sociology In The Age Of The Internet Cavanagh, Allison, 2007-04-01 This book provides a key to understanding the changes identified through an evaluation of the utility of new social theory by investigating the novelty of the Internet and setting the Internet in the context of communication histories Communication Theory David Holmes, 2005-04-23 This is a very clear and concise summary of media studies present and future There is no other book that can both be used as a teaching tool and can help scholars organize their thinking about new media as this book can Steve Jones University of Chicago This book offers an introduction to communication theory that is appropriate to our post broadcast interactive media environment The author contrasts the first media age of broadcast with the second media age of interactivity Communication Theory argues that the different kinds of communication dynamics found in cyberspace demand a reassessment of the methodologies used to explore media as well as new understandings of the concepts of interaction and community virtual communities and broadcast communities The media are examined not simply in terms of content but also in terms of medium and network forms Holmes also explores the differences between analogue and digital cultures and between cyberspace and virtual reality The book serves both as an upper level textbook for New Media courses and a good general guide to understanding the sociological complexities of the modern communications environment The Communication Age Autumn Edwards, Chad Edwards, Shawn T. Wahl, Scott A. Myers, 2012-08-09 We are in the communication age No matter who you are or how you communicate from baby boomers to millennials born digital or getting there we are all members of a society who connect through the internet not just to it From face to face to Facebook this book invites you to join the conversation about today's issues and have your voice heard This contemporary and engaging text is built from the ground up to bridge the gap and unite our diverse community It shows students how to apply foundational concepts while incorporating technology media and speech communication to foster civic engagement for a better future We are communication Information Subject Mark Poster, Stanley Aronowitz, 2013-10-23 First Published in 2001 In this collection of essays and interviews Mark Poster examines theoretical approaches and develops his own position on our information based society He contends that new communications media disrupt and transfigure the way identities are constituted in cultural exchanges He looks in detail at several aspects of what might be called internet culture including virtuality and democracy Poster advocates an awareness of the Internet and other new forms of communication calling for a mobilization to ensure accessibility to all and to configure technology into vehicles of open cultural creation For example nothing is pure about the Internet politically he points out and it remains an open question as to who will transform the potentiality of new communications media into determinate cultural configurations This book explores the rupture and potentiality between the electronic self and the face to face self inherent in new forms of technology and media Technically Together Michele A. Willson, 2006 Technically Together takes the reader on a thoughtful tour of the key writings on community and technology and the current debates that surround them to provide a clear understanding of the challenges new technologies present for theories of social interaction Interactive Realism Daniel Mark Downes, 2005 Interactive realism is a new and original theory of the Net that explains cyberspace as a social phenomenon Mark Poster author of The Second Media Age and The Mode of Information Poststructuralism and Social Context
