Issues in the Study of Pidgin and Creole Languages Claire Lefebvre, 2004-02-26 The content of this book is concerned with various issues at stake in Creole studies that are also of interest for general linguistics These include the general issue of Creole genesis and of the accelerated linguistic change that characterizes the emergence of these languages as compared to ordinary cases of linguistic change the problem of the development of morphology in incipient Creoles the problem of the validity of data in linguistic analysis the issue of multifunctionality as regards the concept of lexical entry the question of whether Creole languages are semantically more transparent than languages not known as Creoles the issue of whether Creole languages constitute a typologically identifiable class and the problem of the interaction between the processes involved in the emergence and development of Creole languages The purpose of this book is to present the major debates that are currently taking place in the field of Creole studies evaluate the arguments against data mainly drawn from Haitian Creole and address the issues at stake within the framework of new paradigms The various positions on each issue are summarized on the basis of a thorough review of the literature

Creoles, Their Substrates, and Language Typology Claire Lefebvre, 2011-01-01 Since creole languages draw their properties from both their substrate and superstrate sources the typological classification of creoles has long been a major issue for creolists typologists and linguists in general Several contradictory proposals have been put forward in the literature For example creole languages typologically pair with their superstrate languages Chaudenson 2003 with their substrate languages Lefebvre 1998 or even creole languages are alike Bickerton 1984 such that they constitute a definable typological class McWhorter 1998 This book contains 25 chapters bearing on detailed comparisons of some 30 creoles and their substrate languages As the substrate languages of these creoles are typologically different the detailed investigation of substrate features in the creoles leads to a particular answer to the question of how creoles should be classified typologically The bulk of the data show that creoles reproduce the typological features of their substrate languages This argues that creoles cannot be claimed to constitute a definable typological class     Pidgins, Creoles and Mixed Languages Viveka Velupillai, 2015-04-15 This lucid and theory neutral introduction to the study of pidgins creoles and mixed languages covers both theoretical and empirical issues pertinent to the field of contact linguistics Part I presents the theoretical background with chapters devoted to the definition of terms the sociohistorical settings theories on the genesis of pidgins and creoles as well as discussions on language variation and the sociology of language Part II empirically tests assumptions made about the linguistic characteristics of pidgins and creoles by systematically comparing them with other natural languages in all linguistic domains This is the first introduction that consistently applies the findings of the Atlas of Pidgin and Creole Language Structures and systematically includes extended pidgins and mixed languages in the discussion of each linguistic feature The book is designed for students of courses with a focus on pidgins creoles and mixed languages as well as typologically oriented courses on contact linguistics     Creoles in Education Bettina Migge, Isabelle Léglise, Angela Bartens, 2010-05-17 This volume offers a first survey of projects from around the world that seek to implement Creole languages in education In contrast to previous works this volume takes a holistic approach Chapters discuss the sociolinguistic educational and ideological context of projects policy developments and project implementation development and evaluation It compares different kinds of educational activities focusing on Creoles and discusses a list of procedures that are necessary for successfully developing evaluating and reforming educational activities that aim to integrate Creole languages in a viable and sustainable manner into formal education The chapters are written by practitioners and academics involved in educational projects They serve as a resource for practitioners academics and persons wishing to devise or adapt educational initiatives It is suitable for use in upper level undergraduate and post graduate modules dealing with language and education with a focus on lesser used languages     The Emergence of Pidgin and Creole Languages Jeff Siegel, 2008-02-28 This book examines the emergence of pidgins and creoles and the controversies surrounding current theories about them Among the questions considered are why their grammars are simple at the pidgin creole postcreole life cycle and the causes of grammatical innovation The analysis is supported with detailed examples and case studies     Creole Languages and Language Acquisition Herman Wekker, 1996 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by approaching language from an interdisciplinary perspective TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better creole grammars      Variation Rolls the Dice Enoch O. Aboh, Cécile B. Vigouroux, 2021-10-15 Variation Rolls the Dice A worldwide collage in honour of Salikoko S Mufwene aims to celebrate Mufwene's ground breaking contribution to linguistics in the past four decades. The title also encapsulates his approach to language as both systemic and socio cultural practices and the role of variation in determining particular evolutionary trajectories in specific linguistic ecologies. The book therefore focuses on variation within and across languages within and across speakers and how this fundamental aspect of human behavior can affect language structure in time and space. Mufwene has been instrumental in putting creole languages on the map of General Linguistics and connecting their analysis to issues of language acquisition, multilingualism, language contact, language evolution and language typology. Thanks to the diversity of topics and the wide ranging theoretical persuasions of the contributors, this volume aims at a large readership including both scholars and advanced students interested in cutting edge research in the aforementioned domains.      Contested Communities, 2017-11-01 This interdisciplinary volume investigates community in postcolonial language situations, texts and media. In actual and imagined communities, membership assumes shared features, values, linguistic codes, geographical origin, gender, sexuality, ethnicity, religion, professional interests and practices. How is membership in such communities constructed, manifested, tested or contested? What new forms have emerged in the wake of globalization, translocation and digital media? Contributions in linguistic, literary and cultural studies explore the role of communication, narratives, memory and trauma in processes of unbelonging. One section treats communication and the speech community. Here linguistic contributions investigate the concept of the native speaker in World Englishes, in socio cultural communities identified by styles of verbal duelling in diaspora communities, physical and digital, where identification with formerly stigmatized linguistic codes acquires new currency. Divisions and alignments in digital communities are at stake in postcolonial African countries like Cameroon, where identification with ex colonizer and ex colonized is a hot issue. Finally, discourse communities also exist in such traditional media as newspapers, e.g. the Indian tabloid in English. In a section devoted to narrative and narration, the focus is on literary perspectives, post colonial memory, trauma and identity in Caribbean literary works by David Chariandy and Pauline Melville and in Australian Aboriginal fiction, narratives of banditry in colonial India, xenophobia and urban space in South Africa, human/animal community crossings and anthropomorphism in Life of Pi. A third section on linguistic crossings in transnational music styles in global and Ugandan music industries examines language style and belonging in music cultures. The volume closes with a controversial debate on the agendas of academic, non academic and postcolonial Western communities with regard to homophobia in Jamaican dancehall culture. CONTRIBUTORS Eric A Anchimbe, Susan Arndt, Roman Bartosch, Carolyn Cooper, Daria Dayter, Dagmar Deuber, Tobias D ring, Stephanie Hackert, Caroline Koeigler, Stephan Laqu, Andrea Moll, Susanne Mhleisen, Jochen Petzold, Katja Sarkowsky, Britta Schneider, Anne Schr der, Jude Ssemuuma, Robert JC Young      Great Lakes Creoles Lucy Eldersveld Murphy, 2014-09-22 Great Lakes Creoles offers the history of Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin, from the
