ABSTRACT

The studies state that there have been some problems, shortcomings and insufficiencies during the implementation of revised Social Studies Curriculum based on constructivist approach in Turkey. The purpose of this paper is to evaluate the Fifth Grade Social Studies Curriculum in terms of its needs assessment, goals, content, teaching-learning process and assessment process subject to curriculum development basis. The data was collected through "Curriculum Evaluation Analysis Form", developed by an academic in Curriculum and Instruction Department of Afyon Kocatepe University and 3-doctoral students in the same area and analyzed through document analysis. The reliability of scale was calculated as 0.8. It is concluded that the curriculum was developed on the basis of constructivist approach in terms of its objectives, content, teaching-learning process and assessment process, but it is seen that the objectives are determined without consideration of students' interest and level and also there is disregardation of regional discrepancies in the process of determination of needs.

INTRODUCTION

Social Studies is quite important in terms of preparing children for life, and providing them with specific habits and skills in Primary school. National Council for the Social Studies (1994) defines social studies as:

...the integrated study of the social sciences and humanities to promote civic competence. Within the school curriculum, social studies provides coordinated, systematic study drawing upon such disciplines as anthropology, archaeology, economics, geography, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, religion, and sociology, as well as appropriate content from the humanities, mathematics, and natural sciences. The primary purpose of social studies is to help young people make informed and reasoned decisions for the public good as citizens of a culturally diverse, democratic society in an interdependent world.

According to the Council (1994), the aim of social studies is "the promotion of civic competence—the knowledge, intellectual processes, and democratic dispositions required of students to be active and engaged participants in public life." In parallel with this contemporary definition, Ministry of National Education (2006a) redefined Social Studies as "to be engaged to assist the individual social existence; history, geography, economics, sociology, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, political science and law to pick that reflect the social studies and civics; learning areas comprising combining under one unit or theme; human interaction with the social and physical environment of the past, present and future is examined in the context; it is established as a primary school course starting from the concept of 'public education' and in this context, major structural changes were with the concept of learning, curriculum, textbooks, and classroom activities in the social studies curriculum in Turkey in 2004.

In general, the revised Social Studies Curriculum brings an innovative perspective. Student-centered and individual differences are further emphasized in this curriculum, thematic approach is taken into account in the regulation of content and learning areas have been identified in this framework. One of the most significant changes reflected in the new curriculum is the identification of new disciplinary objectives and associated them with learning areas. Teachers are given roles as guide, as well as co-provider, writer, facilitating self-developer, planner, voter, a person accounts of individual differences (ERG Report, 2006).

In addition to this, it is observed that the new curriculum focuses on skills. The skills such as critical thinking, creative thinking, communication, problem solving, research, decision making and using information technologies, being entrepreneurial, concerning on personal and social values are highlighted in the curriculum.
