Chainsaws, Slackers, and Spy Kids Alison Macor, 2023-01-06 During the 1990s Austin achieved overnight success and celebrity as a vital place for independent filmmaking Directors Richard Linklater and Robert Rodriguez proved that locally made films with regional themes such as Slacker and El Mariachi could capture a national audience Their success helped transform Austin's homegrown film community into a professional film industry staffed with talented experienced filmmakers and equipped with state of the art production facilities Today Austin struggles to balance the growth and expansion of its film community with an ongoing commitment to nurture the next generation of independent filmmakers Chainsaws Slackers and Spy Kids chronicles the evolution of this struggle by re-creating Austin's colorful movie history Based on revealing interviews with Richard Linklater Robert Rodriguez Mike Judge Quentin Tarantino Matthew McConaughey George Lucas and more than one hundred other players in the local and national film industries Alison Macor explores how Austin has become a proving ground for contemporary independent cinema She begins in the early 1970s with Tobe Hooper's horror classic The Texas

Chainsaw Massacre and follows the development of the Austin film scene through 2001 with the production and release of Rodriguez's 100 million blockbuster Spy Kids. Each chapter explores the behind the scenes story of a specific movie such as Linklater's Dazed and Confused and Judge's Office Space against the backdrop of Austin's ever expanding film community.

Guilty Jack G. Shaheen, 2012-12-28 Nothing will be the same again. Americans scarred by the experience of 9/11 often express this sentiment. But what remains the same, argues Jack Shaheen, is Hollywood's stereotyping of Arabs. In his new book about films made after 9/11, Shaheen finds that nearly all of Hollywood's post 9/11 films legitimize a view of Arabs as stereotyped villains and the use of Arabs and Muslims as shorthand for the Enemy or Other. Along with an examination of a hundred recent movies, Shaheen addresses the cultural issues at play since 9/11: the government's public relations campaigns to win hearts and minds and the impact of 9/11 on citizens and on the imagination. He suggests that winning the war on terror would take shattering the centuries old stereotypes of Arabs and frames the solutions needed to begin to tackle the problem and to change the industry and culture at large.

Detox! Craig S. Pesti-Strobel, 2021-03-19 Detox offers a cure for toxic masculinity, a sickness that has reached epidemic proportions in the United States of America. It is a sickness that festers in the hearts and minds of nearly half of our population and has resulted in the deaths of thousands of innocent people: the gender based terrorizing of women and children, the brutalization of persons of color, and the forceful deportation of persons born on the soil of other nations. There is a cure for this toxic form of masculinity: that is life giving that seeks the welfare of others that respects and cares for the earth and all its creatures. It is the way of thinking, acting, and being that was lived and taught by Jesus of Nazareth two millennia ago. He taught it to his male disciples and demonstrated it with his female disciples. Detox speaks to the men of today in the words that Jesus spoke to the men of his day, addressing the same situations that face modern men: violence, misogyny, exploitation, abuse, integrity, power, and domination. Detox gives you the same practical spiritual tools and life applications that Jesus gave his followers. Use them to bless the world.

When the Lights Go Down Mark D. Eckel, 2014-10-09 What movies have you seen lately is a question almost everyone asks. How should we watch movies? Christianly is a question Dr. Mark Eckel has been asking for thirty years. When the Lights Go Down suggests answers based on story-filled essays, movie reviews, interviews, and questions to ask while watching movies. Now the Christian practice of movie review can begin. Next time the lights go down, Mark teaches how to critically review film through the lens of biblical thinking. Barry Walton, director and producer of The High, Making the Toughest Race on Earth. I know of no other book quite like this. Highly accessible to the average layperson, it is wildly multi-faceted, a foundational course in theological movie viewing. Dr. Rosalie de Rosset, Professor of Communications and Literature, Moody Bible Institute. When the Lights Go Down is a gift to pastors. Larry Renoe, Teaching Pastor at Waterstone Community Church, Littleton, Colorado. Mark Eckel ushers the church to a positive, approachable, fresh theological understanding of movies. Jim Tudor, filmmaking professional, Twitchfilm.com, film critic and co-founder of ZekeFilm.org.
