Secret Self Psychoanalytic Experiences:

The Secret Self Theodor Reik, 1952 Repressed Spaces Paul Carter, 2004-11-02 In Repressed Spaces Paul Carter tours the cultural history of agoraphobia the fear of open space Its symptoms were first described in The Anatomy of Melancholy 1621 by Robert Burton the British scholar and writer although it wasn't until 1871 that Carl Otto Westphal coined the term to describe several of his patients who experienced severe anxiety when walking through streets or squares There have been many attempts to explain and treat the condition critics of modernization have linked it to bad city planning psychoanalysts calling it street panic have blamed it on the Oedipus complex psychiatrists have tied it to existential insecurity and describe it as the fear of places or situations that have triggered panic attacks Freud believed that agoraphobia like all phobias was part of an anxiety neurosis and had a sexual origin Taking as his starting point the fact that Freud himself was agoraphobic and analyzing the way people have negotiated open spaces from Greek and Roman times to the present day Paul Carter finds that space fear ultimately results from the inhibition of movement Along the way the author asks why Freud repressed his agoraphobia and examines literature the work of architects and theorists including Le Corbusier Walter Benjamin and R D Laing artists such as Munch Lapique and Giacometti and the German street films of the 1920s He concludes by proposing a new way of regarding open space a new poetics of agoraphobia one that is sensitive to the agoraphobe's point of view and provides lessons for architects and urban planners today Hidden Self-Harm Maggie Turp, 2002-11-10 The book takes a new look at self harm focusing particularly on the under explored area of hidden self harming behaviour These behaviours may not be immediately identifiable as self harm by counsellors therapists or their clients but Turp shows how recognition and understanding of hidden self harm can improve practice with those affected

Victims of the Book Francois Proulx,2019-11-04 Victims of the Book uncovers a long neglected but once widespread subgenre the fin de siècle novel of formation in France In the final decades of the nineteenth century social commentators insistently characterized excessive reading as an emasculating illness that afflicted French youth Novels about and geared toward adolescent male readers were imbued with a deep worry over young Frenchmen s masculinity as evidenced by titles like Crise de jeunesse Youth in Crisis 1897 La Crise virile Crisis of Virility 1898 La Vie st rle A Sterile Life 1892 and La Mortelle Impuissance Deadly Impotence 1903 In this book Fran ois Proulx examines a wide panorama of these novels as well as polemical essays pedagogical articles and medical treatises on the perceived threats posed by young Frenchmen s reading

habits Fin de siècle writers responded to this pathologization of reading with a profusion of novels addressed to young male readers paradoxically proposing their own novels as potential cures In the early twentieth century this corpus was critically revisited by a new generation of writers Victims of the Book shows how Andr Gide and Marcel Proust in particular reworked the fin de siècle paradox to subvert cultural norms about literature and masculinity proposing instead a queer pact between writer and reader
