Winters, 2003-07 Does your Grandmother dip snuff in secret Has the Grand Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan ever run your long johns up the flagpole Has your mother ever starved the family to death while waiting for moochy relatives to leave at suppertime Have you suspected that your family cat had a desire to eat you Has a high school custodian ever held a 12 gage shotgun on you Does your Grampa have a secret cache of whisky in the barn If you can answer Yes to any of these questions and maybe even if you can t Grandma Dipped Snuff is a must read book for you Taken from a weekly column in a small town newspaper these essays are as current as today but reflect the sense of a time gone by

Lectures on Various Subjects Horace Mann, 1859 The Athanasian Creed Emanuel Swedenborg, 1841 The Athanasian Creed, Extracted from the Apocalypse Emanuel Swedenborg, 1841 Cultivating New Post-secular Political Space Roger Haydon Mitchell, 2020-06-29 This comprehensive volume provides crucial insights from contemporary academics and practitioners into how positive interventions might be made into post secular political spaces that have emerged in the wake of the economic political and social upheavals of the 2008 global financial crisis The failure of liberal democracy to deal effectively with such challenges has led to scapegoating of the poor immigrants and Muslims and contributed to the populist electoral success of among others the Leave campaign during the 2016 United Kingdom European Union membership referendum and Donald Trump's Presidential campaign. These shocks have highlighted contemporary political spaces defined by what has been termed all the posts: postmodern, post Christendom, post liberal, post political and post secular. This collection examines emerging attempts to understand and advance the cause of wellbeing within this context. The authors address a variety of key issues including reconfiguring mythologies for the common good, deploying love and friendship politically, motivating new social movements, valuing the other, recovering displaced and devalued political narratives, finding alternatives to the previously dominant neo liberalism, listening deeply for social transformation and overcoming adversarial party politics. This book was originally published online as a special issue of the journal Global Discourse.

A Compendium of American Literature Charles Dexter Cleveland, 1859 A compendium of American literature, arranged by C.D. Cleveland. Stereotyped ed Charles Dexter Cleveland, 1862 The Romance of Mathematics P. H. Ditchfield, 2019-12-02 In The Romance of Mathematics P. H. Ditchfield invites readers on an exhilarating journey through the enchanting and often overlooked world of mathematics. Blending historical anecdotes with a narrative rich in vivid imagery and accessible language, Ditchfield unveils the beauty and romance intrinsic to mathematical concepts. The book situates itself within the early 20th century literary context, resonating with the growing public interest in science and mathematics as not just abstract notions but as integral inspirations for art, philosophy and human thought. P. H. Ditchfield, a noted historian and scholar, possessed a keen interest in the intersection of science and literature, which significantly influenced his writing. His extensive background in education and a passion for elucidating complex ideas made him an ideal advocate for demystifying mathematics at a time when many regarded it as daunting. Ditchfield's ability to weave engaging narratives suggests a desire to foster appreciation and understanding for a discipline often confined to dry textbooks. This book is highly recommended for anyone fascinated by the intellectual pursuit of knowledge, whether a seasoned mathematician or a curious layperson. Ditchfield's lyrical approach will inspire readers to see mathematics as a vibrant and poetic language, sparking joy and intrigue in the exploration of the universe.

Supporting Learning and Teaching Christine Bold, 2011-06-14 Supporting Teaching and Learning brings together theoretical perspectives, practical educational ideas and current academic debates to help students develop their knowledge and understanding of core educational issues. It explores the professional relationships necessary for quality learning and encourages the reader to reflect critically on their values, beliefs and assumptions about learning and teaching. Written by an author team from a range of educational backgrounds, the book focuses on the key issues that teaching teams face as they work together to support children and young people in their learning. Covering a broad range of topics, themes and age ranges, each chapter contains a statement of the author's values and beliefs and concludes with discussion starters, ideas for reflecting on practice and a list of useful resources. Chapters include: The core subjects in the curriculum; Information and Communications Technology Linguistic and cultural diversity Special educational needs Out of school learning Assessment Reflective practice and action research Accessible discursive and thought provoking this book is essential reading for students on a range of education courses including Foundation Degrees Education Studies and those undertaking initial teacher training

Berman,2020-07-08 All too often individuals engaged in the biomedical sciences assume that numeric data must be left to the proper authorities e g statisticians and data analysts who are trained to apply sophisticated mathematical algorithms to sets of data This is a terrible mistake Individuals with keen observational skills regardless of their mathematical training are in the best position to draw correct inferences from their own data and to guide the subsequent implementation of robust mathematical analyses Volume 2 of Logic and Critical Thinking in the Biomedical Sciences provides readers with a repertoire of deductive non mathematical methods that will help them draw useful inferences from their own data Volumes 1 and 2 of Logic and Critical Thinking in the Biomedical Sciences are written for biomedical scientists and college level students engaged in any of the life sciences including bioinformatics and related data sciences Demonstrates that a great deal can be deduced from quantitative data without applying any statistical or mathematical analyses Provides readers with simple techniques for quickly reviewing and finding important relationships hidden within large and complex sets of data Using examples drawn from the biomedical literature discusses common pitfalls in data interpretation and how they can be avoided Capital Campaigns Andrea Kihlstedt,2010 CD ROM contains resources charts graphs and checklists and campaign samples Capital Campaigns: Strategies that Work , So You Want to be a Scientist? Philip A. Schwartzkroin,2009-08-27 What does it take to be a scientist Equally important what does it take to be happy as a scientist Drawing on thirty years of experience Philip Schwartzkroin offers the budding scientist an invaluable glimpse into the day to day life of the researcher filling a huge hole in the education of most would be scientists whether undergraduates or high school seniors As Schwartzkroin points out many of the most important things researchers learn as they hone their craft are not written down anywhere And many of these insights come as a surprise to the naive and well meaning student who somehow believes that doing research is an occupation that is substantially different from doing a job in the real world This book looks at the job of science Starting with suggestions about how to decide whether you'd want to pursue such a career and if so how to get started the book works through some of the obvious topics relevant to a research profession how to write a paper give a talk construct a grant proposal It also examines less obvious topics that are generally incorporated into a research education only by trial and error thinking like a scientist negotiating scientific politics dealing with research ethics and understanding social interactions And the book includes many real life situations that may confront the young scientist along with the author's advice on how to solve these problems Based on the author's long career in the laboratory and his rich experience mentoring trainees So You Want to be a Scientist provides information and insights that will help the young scientist make better decisions and choices It will also be useful to teachers counselors and parents for its realistic look at the demands and requirements for success in a research career

A Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life and Writings Helen E. Cullen, 2017-11-07 A Philosophical Anthropology Drawn from Simone Weil's Life Writings situates Weil's thought in the time between the two world wars through which she lived and traces Weil's consistent conception of a mind/body dualism in the Cartesian sense to a dualism that places the mind within a carnal part of the soul and establishes an eternal part of the soul as the essence of human beings Helen Cullen argues that in Weil's early conception of human nature her Cartesian conception of perception already shows a glimpse of the eternal Weil's dualistic conception also forms the basis of her political analysis of the left of her time and through working in factories and in the fields she develops a conception of labour as a theory of action and work with a method Weil was influenced by leading thinkers of her time prompting her to do an analysis of current scientific theories Cullen argues that Weil's analysis of Christianity already present in Greek philosophy shows us a theory of identical thought inherited from the East India and China and brought forth by peoples around Israel This theory leads to Weil's analysis developed in The Need for Roots of how we've been uprooted through colonization and how we can grow roots in a free local society both rural and urban
