Grounded in the Gospel J. I. Packer, Gary A. Parrett, 2010-04-01 Historically the church's ministry of grounding new believers in the essentials of the faith has been known as catechesis systematic instruction in faith foundations including what we believe how we pray and worship and how we conduct our lives For most evangelicals today however this very idea is an alien concept Packer and Parrett concerned for the state of the church seek to inspire a much needed evangelical course correction This new book makes the case for a recovery of significant catechesis as a nonnegotiable practice of churches showing the practice to be complementary to and of no less value than Bible study expository preaching and other formational ministries and urging evangelical churches to find room for this biblical ministry for the sake of their spiritual health and vitality

Religion in Multicultural Education Farideh Salili, Rumjahn Hoosain, 2006-05-01 The National Association for Multicultural Education in Washington D C listed a number of issues that the school curriculum should address with reference to multicultural education including racism sexism classism linguisticism ablism ageism heterosexism and religious intolerance It is noteworthy that of all these issues religion is about the only one that throughout history people are willing to die for although whether what is at issue is really religion or other things such as territory is another matter It is also interesting that all the others have isms in their names but religious issues are characterized by intolerance Perhaps we should try to understand this intolerance and look at what steps might help to alleviate it However while intolerance might seem a simple thing understanding what is behind it and how it plays such a crucial role in religion requires what we refer to in the Introduction chapter as a multifaceted approach at multiple levels It is not enough just to try to dispel stereotypes of followers of other religions or to point out commonalities in world religions We should for example try to understand and appreciate how adherents of other religions try to answer questions regarding their adaptation to the contemporary environment It is through understanding how different religions coexist side by side at various levels that we truly come to learn about religion in multicultural education
