Moore County Images Of America:

Around Lynchburg Jillian Rael, 2012 Nestled within Tennessee's Central Basin Moore County is the second smallest county in the state. Despite its size it has brought fame to the area as the home of Jack Daniel and his distillery since 1866. By the time Moore County was created in 1871 Lynchburg was already well known. However the story of Moore County goes well beyond Lynchburg. Images of America Around Lynchburg shares the story of not only Mr Jack but also the individuals and families who helped create the areas surrounding Lynchburg. This brief history is presented as an assemblage of photographs obtained from local residents' county archives and collections and Jack Daniel's Distillery. Dumas Louise Carroll George, 2009 In 1891 Louis P Dumas heard about cheap land in the Texas Panhandle. He left his successful enterprises in Sherman and chose a section of grassland in Moore County to build a town. He had not bargained for the harsh elements that came with the territory though. Within five years he abandoned his town as did most of the other residents. Dumas was a ghost town three times in its first 10 years but gradually a quiet village developed. Oil and gas discovered in the 1920s brought about growth and continues to support the economy. Phil Baxter who wrote the song Ding Dong Daddy from Dumas spoke of the friendliness and spirit of the people he met there in 1927. Today those qualities endure in the people of Dumas. John Henry and His People John Garst, 2022-01-11 The song John Henry perhaps America's greatest folk ballad is about an African American steel driver who raced and beat a steam drill dying with his hammer in his hand from the effort. Most singers and historians believe John Henry was a real person not a fictitious one and that his story took place in West Virginia though other places have been proposed. John Garst argues convincingly that it took place near Dunnivant, Alabama in 1887. The author's reconstruction based on contemporaneous evidence and subsequent research uncovers a fascinating story that supports the Dunnivant location and provides new insights. Beyond John Henry readers will discover the lives and work of his people. Black and white singers, his captain, contractor Frederick Dabney, C C Spencer, the most credible eyewitness John Henry's wife, the blind singer W T Blankenship who printed the first broadside of the ballad and later scholars who studied John Henry. The book includes analyses of the song's numerous iterations, several previously unpublished illustrations and a foreword by folklorist Art Rosenbaum. Moore County Richard J. Schloegl, 1997
