Diego de TORRES (Ballad Writer.)

Nino Dios:

La Herencia del niño Dios Gonzalo Jover,1904 Voices from the San Antonio Missions Luis Torres,1997 Provides interviews with members of the San Antonio community who are involved in building using and preserving four historic Spanish colonial missions Un Nino Los Pastoreara Harold C. Segura,2006-11 Nuestra Señora de Ujarrás Eladio Prado,1920 Mary, Michael, and Lucifer John M. Ingham,2010-07-22 The physical signs of Roman Catholicism pervade the Mexican countryside Colonial churches and neighborhood chapels wayside shrines and mountaintop crosses dot the landscape Catholicism also permeates the traditional cultures of rural communities although this ideational influence is less immediately obvious It is often couched in enigmatic idiom and imagery and it is further obscured by the vestiges of pagan customs and the anticlerical attitudes of many villagers These heterodox tendencies have even led some observers to conclude that Catholicism in rural Mexico is little more than a thin veneer on indigenous practice In Mary Michael and Lucifer John M Ingham attempts to develop a modern semiotic and structuralist interpretation of traditional Mexican culture an interpretation that accounts for the culture s apparent heterodoxy Drawing on field research in Tlayacapan Morelos a village in the central highlands he shows that nearly every domain of folk culture is informed with religious meaning More precisely the Catholic categories of spirit nature and evil compose the basic framework of the villagers social relations and subjective experiences , Gran Libro de Los Mejores Cuentos: Volumen 6 Rabindranath Tagore,Alexander Puchkin,Katherine Mansfield,Jack London,Alejandro Dumas,Virginia Woolf,F. Mexican Folk Narrative from the Los Angeles Area Elaine K. Miller,2014-08-27 Urban Los Angeles is the setting in which Elaine Miller has collected her narratives from Mexican Americans The Mexican folk tradition varied and richly expressive of the inner life not only of a people but also of the individual as each lives it and personalizes it is abundantly present in the United States Since it is in the urban centers that most Mexican Americans have lived this collection represents an important contribution to the study of that tradition and to the study of the changes urban life effects on traditional folklore The collection includes sixty two legendary narratives and twenty traditional tales The legendary narratives deal with the virgins and saints as well as with such familiar characters as the vanishing hitchhiker the headless horseman and the llorona Familiar characters appear in the traditional tales Juan del Oso Blancaflor Pedro de Ordimalas and others Elaine Miller concludes that the traditional tales are dying out in the city because tale telling itself is not suited to the fast pace of modern urban life and the situations and characters in the tales are not perceived by the people to be meaningfully related to the everyday challenges and concerns of that life The legendary tales survive longer in an urban setting because although containing fantastic elements they are related to the beliefs and hopes of the narrator even in the city one may be led to buried treasure on some dark night by a mysterious woman The penchant of the informants for the fantastic in many of their tales often reflects their hopes and fears such as their dreams of suddenly acquiring wealth or their fears of being haunted by the dead Miller closely observes the teller's relation to the stories to the duendes the nimas Death God the devil and she notes the tension on the part of the informant in his relation to their religion The material is documented according to several standard tale and motif indices and is placed within the context of the larger body of Hispanic folk tradition by the citation of parallel versions throughout the Hispanic world The tales transcribed from taped interviews are presented in colloquial Spanish accompanied by summaries in English
