Our Forests Forest Resources In Assam:

Our Forests and Forest Resources in Assam, 1976 Forests and Ecological History of Assam, 1826-2000 Arupjyoti Saikia, 2011-02-07 This book presents a comprehensive account of the transformation of Assam's forests and ecology from early nineteenth century to the end of the twentieth century. It locates present day ecological conflicts in the colonial era when contest over forest land and resource began to take new shape. Arupjyoti Saikia delineates how forest resources in Assam were mapped and integrated with merchant capitalism since the early nineteenth century. He shows how imperial forestry practices led to changes in traditional resource utilization patterns. The book also examines the political economy of conservation practices. It explores the question of law and conservation role of institutions and organizations and the changing role of the forests in imperial economy. The book argues how the making of forest policy in the postcolonial period was defined by the complexities of the political matrix. It discusses plantation silvicultural practices, protection and regeneration of forests and livelihood practices. The author also analyses public debates surrounding ecology and environmental changes in conservation practices after the 1980 Act.

Forest Resources of the World Raphael Zon, William Norwood Sparhawk, 1923 Indian Forestry Through the Ages Sharad Singh Negi, 1994 Capital and Ecology Rakhee Bhattacharya, G. Amarjit Sharma, 2023-08-28 This volume studies the intersection of capital and ecology primarily in one of the most sensitive geographies of the world, the Eastern Himalayan region. It looks at how the region has become a melting ground of neoliberal developmentalism and ecological subjectivities with the penetrating forces of global and state capitalism, economic projects and complex power relations. The essays in the volume argue that specific focus on energy infrastructure and energy production has pushed technology and capital towards asset building, which has had an adverse effect on the environment, labour relations, indigenous knowledge systems and traditional livelihood practices in the area. They look at assets like mega dams, electricity transmission networks, natural gas grids, infrastructural and developmental projects and other alternative ventures which require interventions in the natural world and its resource deposits. Interdisciplinary in approach, the volume adopts a variety of lenses: developmentalism, state strategy, indigenous voices, geopolitics and environmentalism to provide a unique and alternative narrative on the various dimensions of the ecological risks and livelihood threats. It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of politics, development studies, indigenous studies and Asian studies.

Planning for Forest Resources and Biodiversity Management Kailash Chandra Bebart, 2002

Playing with Nature Sajal Nag, 2017-08-07 North East India is called nature's gift to India. It is mountainous, thickly forested, nourished by massive rainfall, has massive rivers, has a diverse wildlife, inhabited a number of forest dwellers called tribes who cherished environmentalist ethos. The region has been experiencing environmental depletion, which was a result of colonial policies, exploitation of its ecological and mineral resources, large scale trans-border immigration and settlement of people, establishment of the plantation industry through deforestation and the dependence of the dairy industry on grazing.

and other factors This books depicts the precariousness of the environmental situation and traces the history and politics of such degeneration with a view to raise the consciousness of the people of the region towards their environment and save it from further aggravation Landscape, Culture, and Belonging Neeladri Bhattacharya, Joy L. K. Pachua, 2019-05-23 This collection of essays is an important contribution to the new literature on frontier studies and the historiography of Northeast India Moving away from an exclusive dependence on colonial ethnographies the authors build their arguments on a varied range of sources from buranjis to revenue records survey maps to explorers diaries and missionary papers to police files They question the givens of the categories through which the region is usually described and contest the stereotypes by which the people of the region are primitivized They explore the historical processes whereby the region was surveyed mapped understood represented politically governed economically refigured and historically constituted during the colonial period Though focused on the experience of Northeast India the volume also raises substantive questions about the idea of the frontier and the border the primitive and the modern and the tribal and the settled the local and the trans local A Survey of the Industries and Resources of Eastern Bengal and Assam for 1907-1908 Eastern Bengal and Assam (India), G.
