Religion Civil Society And The State:

Religion, Civil Society and the State J. P. Singh Uberoi, 1996 Religion civil society and the state form the three dimensions of this semiological study of Sikhism The author argues for a recognition of the figure of the martyr whose victory is over the self rather than the figure of the hero whose victory is over the victim

Religion, Civil Society and Democracy in Contemporary India Anindita Chakrabarti, 2018 Discusses the relevance of the reigning paradigms of Sanskritization and Islamization in the study of religious movements

Religion, Civil Society, and Peace in Northern Ireland John D. Brewer, Gareth I. Higgins, Francis Teeney, 2011-12 Religion is traditionally portrayed as nothing but trouble in Ireland but the churches played a key role in Northern Ireland's peace process This study challenges many existing assumptions about the peace process drawing on four years of interviewing with those involved including church leaders politicians and paramilitary members

Religion and Civil Society David Herbert, 2017-03-02 This book presents the first full length study of the relationship between religion and the controversial concept of civil society Across the world in the last two decades of the twentieth century religions re entered public space as influential discursive and symbolic systems apparently beyond the control of either traditional religious authorising institutions or states This differentiation of religion from traditional institutions and entry into secular public spheres carries both dangers and possible benefits for democracy Offering a fresh interdisciplinary approach to understanding religion in contemporary societies this book provides an invaluable resource for students and researchers in religious studies sociology politics and political philosophy theology international relations and legal studies Part one presents a critical introduction to the interaction between religion modernization and postmodernization in Western and non Western settings America Europe the Middle East and India focussing on discourses of human rights civil society and the public sphere and the controversial question of their cross cultural application Part two examines religion and civil society through case studies of Egypt Bosnia and Muslim minorities in Britain and compares Poland as an example of a Christian majority society that has experienced the public reassertion of religion

Mind and Society J.P.S. Uberoi, 2019-06-28 One of the country's most eminent sociologists J P S Uberoi inaugurated a unique approach in the study of Indian sociology and social anthropology He makes a case for a form of independent Indian sociology in relation to the principal philosophies and sociological theories of the Western world by adopting Gandhi's plea for swaraj in thought This volume brings together eighteen papers by Uberoi which highlight his pioneering thought Originally written between 1968 and 2013 these papers are divided thematically into three groups The first examines the eternal political war of imperialism versus nationalism as it related to the academic pursuit of knowledge in the university The second group begins with questions of social science and philosophy and concludes by discussing the working lives of the industrial worker in the West and the household farmer in the East The third group explores the project of finding grounds for a concept of a plural vernacular Indian modernity The volume represents an emphatic statement by the author that the time has come for India to bid for its place in the universal free world of the intellect Religious Communities and Civil Society in Europe Rupert Graf Strachwitz, 2019-08-19 The seemingly vitalizing impact of religiosity on civil society is a research topic that has been extensively looked into not only in the USA but increasingly also in a European context What is missing is an evaluation of the role of institutionalized religious communities and of circumstances that facilitate or impede their status as civil society organisations This anthology in two volumes aims at closing this gap by providing case studies regarding political legal and historical aspects in various European countries Vol I provides an introduction and looks at cases in Greece Italy the Netherlands Sweden and Bosnia and Herzegovina as well as chapters on legal issues and data and comprehensive bibliography Civil Society and Fanaticism Dominique Colas, 1997 Includes bibliographical references and index Beyond Critique Bradley A. Levinson, Jacob P. K. Gross, Christopher Hanks, Julia Heimer Dadds, Kafi Kumasi, Joseph Link, 2015-12-03 This book introduces educational practitioners students and scholars to the people concepts questions and concerns that make up the field of critical social theory It guides readers into a lively conversation about how education can and does contribute to reinforcing or challenging relations of domination in the modern era Written by a group of experienced educators and scholars in an engaging style Critical Social Theories and Education introduces and explains the preeminent thinkers and traditions in critical social theory and discusses the primary strands of educational research and thought that have been informed and influenced by them New Faiths, Old Fears Bruce B. Lawrence, 2004-10-20 As a result of immigration from Asia in the wake of the passage of the 1965 Hart Celler Immigration Act the fastest growing religions in America faster than all Christian groups combined are Islam Hinduism Buddhism and Sikhism In this remarkable book a leading scholar of religion asks how these new faiths have changed or have been changed by the pluralist face of American civil society How have these new religious minorities been affected by the deep rooted American ambivalence toward foreign traditions Bruce Lawrence casts a comparativist eye on the American religious scene and explores the ways in which various groups of Asian immigrants have and sometimes have not been integrated into the American polity In the process he offers several important correctives Too often Lawrence argues profiles of Asian American experience focus exclusively on immigrants from East Asia to the exclusion of South Asian and West Asian voices New Faiths Old Fears seeks to make all Asians equally important and to break free of traditional geographic markers most reflecting nineteenth century imperial values that artificially divide the people of the Middle East from the rest of Asia with whom they share certain religious and cultural ties Iranian Americans in particular emerge as a vital bridge group whose experience tells us much about how Asians of many different backgrounds have found their way in their new nation Beyond simply expanding and refining our conception of who Asian Americans are Lawrence draws instructive comparisons between Asian Americans experience and those of Native African and Hispanic Americans exposing undercurrents of racial and class antagonisms He concludes that we cannot fully comprehend the contours and valences of culture and religion in America without understanding how this racialized class prejudice shapes the views of the dominant class toward immigrants and other marginal groups
