polemic McClenahan seeks to overturn the scholarly consensus that Edwards own theology was a twisting of the Reformed tradition By demonstrating that Edwards interlocutor was the dead English Archbishop John Tillotson McClenahan provides the hermeneutical key for many of Edwards most significant works Justification by faith is one of the most contested doctrines in contemporary theology and Jonathan Edwards referred to as America s Augustine wrote extensively on this area His is a voice that many people are keen to hear God and Government in an 'Age of Reason' David Nicholls,2003-08-29 In this companion volume to Deity and Domination David Nicholls broadens his examination of the relationship between religion and politics Focusing on the images and concepts of God and the state predominant in eighteenth century discourse he shows how these were interrelated and reflect the language of the wider cultural contexts Nicholls argues that the way a community pictures God will inevitably reflect and also affect its general understanding of authority whether it be in state in family or in other social institutions Much language about God for example has a primarily political reference in psalms hymns and sermons God is called king judge lord ruler and to him are ascribed might majesty dominion power and sovereignty But if political rhetoric is frequently incorporated into religious discourse the reverse is also true many key concepts of modern political theory are secularised theological concepts In his consideration of this important and neglected relationship Nicholls sheds new light on religion and politics in the eighteenth century A Catalogue of Editions of the Fathers of the Church and Ecclesiastical Writers of the First Thirtten Centuries, and Collections of Their Fragments,
