Relocating Britishness:

Relocating Britishness Stephen Caunce, 2004-11-27 Offering a range of original perspectives on how Britishness might be constructed at the turn of the millennium and where it might be going this volume pulls together various disciplines and a variety of geographical perspectives to offer a distinctive set of views for the understanding of Britishness and how it is expressed

Britishness, Popular Music, and National Identity Irene Morra, 2013-10-30 This book offers a major exploration of the social and cultural importance of popular music to contemporary celebrations of Britishness Rather than providing a history of popular music or an itemization of indigenous musical qualities it exposes the influential cultural and nationalist rhetoric around popular music and the dissemination of that rhetoric in various forms Since the 1960s popular music has surpassed literature to become the dominant signifier of modern British culture and identity This position has been enforced in popular culture literature news and music media political rhetoric and in much popular music itself which has become increasingly self conscious about the expectation that music both articulate and manifest the inherent values and identity of the modern nation This study examines the implications of such practices and the various social and cultural values they construct and enforce It identifies two dominant conflicting constructions around popular music music as the voice of an indigenous English folk and music as the voice of a re emergent British Empire These constructions are not only contradictory but also exclusive prescribing a social and musical identity for the nation that ignores its greater creative national and cultural diversity This book is the first to offer a comprehensive critique of an extremely powerful discourse in England that today informs dominant formulations of English and British national identity history and culture

Understanding Richard Hoggart Michael Bailey, Ben Clarke, John K. Walton, 2011-12-27 Awarded 2013 PROSE Honorable Mention in Media Cultural Studies With the resurgent interest in his work today this is a timely reevaluation of this foundational figure in Cultural Studies a critical but friendly review of both Hoggart's work and reputation Re examines the reputation of one of the inventors of Cultural Studies Uses new archival sources to critically evaluate Hoggart's contribution and influence set his work in context and determine its current relevance Addresses detractors and their positions of Hoggart delineating long term ideological battles within academia Brings cultural studies literary criticism and social history to bear on this figure whose interests spread across disciplines to create a text which blends many threads into a coherent whole

Britain Since 1945 Peter Leese, 2006-09-21 Britain since 1945 is an ideal introductory text for students of British Studies cultural studies and modern British history Assuming no prior knowledge Leese offers students of all backgrounds both the essential chronological grounding and vital insight into the issues of identity necessary for a full understanding of contemporary Britain

Immigrants, Literature and National Integration Chantal Lacroix, 2010-01-20 Immigrants Literature and National Integration explores new means of facilitating integration Using the United Kingdom and Germany as case studies and examining the relation between immigrant literature and integration this book explores integration in an interdisciplinary fashion across both the humanities and social sciences The Oxford Handbook of the British Musical Robert Gordon, Olaf Jubin, 2016-11-21 The Oxford Handbook of the British Musical provides a comprehensive academic survey of British musical theatre offering both a historical account of the musical's development from 1728 and a range of in depth critical analyses of the unique forms and features of British musicals which explore the aesthetic values and sociocultural meanings of a tradition that initially gave rise to the American musical and later challenged its modern pre eminence After a consideration of how John Gay's The Beggar's Opera 1728 created a prototype for eighteenth century ballad opera the book focuses on the use of song in early nineteenth century theatre followed by a sociocultural analysis of the comic operas of Gilbert and Sullivan it then examines Edwardian and interwar musical comedies and revues as well as the impact of Rodgers and Hammerstein on the West End before analysing the new forms of the postwar British musical from The Boy Friend 1953 to Oliver 1960 One section of the book examines the contributions of key twentieth century figures including Noel Coward Ivor Novello Tim Rice Andrew Lloyd Webber director Joan Littlewood and producer Cameron Macintosh while a number of essays discuss both mainstream and alternative musicals of the 1960s and 1970s and the influence of the pop industry on the creation of concept recordings such as Jesus Christ Superstar 1970 and Les Misérables 1980 There is a consideration of jukebox musicals such as Mamma Mia 1999 while essays on overtly political shows such as Billy Elliot 2005 are complemented by those on experimental musicals like Jerry Springer the Opera 2003 and London Road 2011 and on the burgeoning of Black and Asian British musicals in both the West End and subsidized venues The Oxford Handbook of the British Musical demonstrates not only the unique qualities of British musical theatre but also the vitality and variety of British musicals today At Home with the Empire Catherine Hall, Sonya O. Rose, 2006-12-21 This pioneering 2006 volume addresses the question of how Britain's empire was lived through everyday practices in church and chapel by readers at home as embodied in sexualities or forms of citizenship as narrated in histories from the eighteenth century to the present Leading historians explore the imperial experience and legacy for those located physically or imaginatively at home from the impact of empire on constructions of womanhood masculinity and class to its influence in shaping literature sexuality visual culture consumption and history writing They assess how people thought imperially not in the sense of political affiliations for or against empire but simply assuming it was there part of the given world that had made them who they were They also show how empire became a contentious focus of attention at certain moments and in particular ways This will be essential reading for scholars and students of modern Britain and its empire The Association Game Matthew Taylor, 2013-10-18 The story of British football's journey from public school diversion to mass media entertainment is a remarkable one The Association Game traces British football from the establishment of the earliest clubs in the nineteenth century to its place as one of the prominent and commercialised leisure industries at the beginning of the twenty first century It covers supporters and fandom status and culture big business the press and electronic media and development in playing styles tactics and rules This is the only up to date book on the history of British football covering the twentieth century shift from amateur to professional and whole of the British Isles not just England Gender, Power and Sexual Abuse in the Pacific Emily J. Manktelow, 2018-07-26 In 1843 on the island of Tahiti the evangelical missionary Rev Alexander Simpson was accused of sexually assaulting three of the female students under his care and of taking improper liberties with at least three more The events did not come out in public for at least a decade while Simpson's power in the local community only grew and rumblings relating to his wrong doings were ruthlessly crushed By exploring the case of Rev Simpson Emily Manktelow gives us key insights into the gender power and racial dynamics of a particular case of sexual abuse on the frontiers of European colonialism She explores the social and sexual context of clerical abuse considers the hierarchies of gender and power that determined how the case was handled and investigates the nature of colonialism gender and abuse in the 19th century The uncomfortably timely content of Gender Power and Sexual Abuse in the Pacific allows us to interrogate the way we deal with and represent issues of abuse authority and childhood It aims to give voice to those whom the archive has silenced and to listen to what they have to tell us about gender sexuality and abuse in the modern world Browned Off and Bloody-minded Alan Allport, 2015-01-01 More than three and a half million men served in the British Army during the Second World War the vast majority of them civilians who had never expected to become soldiers and had little idea what military life with all its strange rituals discomforts and dangers was going to be like Alan Allport's rich and luminous social history examines the experience of the greatest and most terrible war in history from the perspective of these ordinary extraordinary men who were plucked from their peacetime families and workplaces and sent to fight for King and Country Allport chronicles the huge diversity of their wartime trajectories tracing how soldiers responded to and were shaped by their years with the British Army and how that army however reluctantly had to accommodate itself to them Touching on issues of class sex crime trauma and national identity through a colorful multitude of fresh individual perspectives the book provides an enlightening deeply moving perspective on how a generation of very modern minded young men responded to the challenges of a brutal and disorienting conflict Amateur film Heather Norris Nicholson, 2019-01-04 Amateur film Meaning and practice 1927-77 plunges readers into the world of home movies making and reveals that behind popular perceptions of clichéd family scenes shakily shot at home or by the sea there is much more to discover Exploring who how where when and why amateur enthusiasts made and shared their films provides fascinating insights into an often misunderstood aspect of national visual history This study of how non professional filmmakers responded to the new possibilities of moving image places decades of cine use into a history of changing visual technologies that span from Edwardian visual toys to mobile phones Using northern cine club records interviews and amateur films the author reveals how film making practices ranged from family footage to highly crafted edited productions about local life and distant places made by enthusiasts who sought to educate inspire and entertain armchair audiences during the early decades of British television Night Raiders Eloise

Moss,2019 Lurking in the shadowy depths of the night time city burglars inspired both fear and fascination during the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Night Raiders is the first history of burglary in modern Britain exploring how burglary fundamentally reshaped the meanings of home and urban lifestyles during this important period of change European Cinema Thomas Elsaesser,2005 European Cinema in Crisis examines the conflicting terminologies that have dominated the discussion of the future of European film making It takes a fresh look at the ideological agendas from avante garde cinema to the high low culture debate and the fate of popular European cinema Citizenship, nation, empire Peter Yeandle,2016-05-16 Citizenship nation empire investigates the extent to which popular imperialism influenced the teaching of history between 1870 and 1930 It is the first book length study to trace the substantial impact of educational psychology on the teaching of history probing its impact on textbooks literacy primers and teacher training manuals Educationists identified enlightened patriotism to be the core objective of historical education This was neither tub thumping jingoism nor state prescribed national identity teaching but rather a carefully crafted curriculum for all children which fused civic as well as imperial ambitions The book will be of interest to those studying or researching aspects of English domestic imperial culture especially those concerned with questions of childhood and schooling citizenship educational publishing and anglo British relations Given that vitriolic debates about the politics of history teaching have endured into the twenty first century Citizenship nation empire is a timely study of the formative influences that shaped the history curriculum in English schools

The Titanic in Myth and Memory Tim Bergfelder,Sarah Street,2004-08-27 Since its maiden voyage and sinking in April 1912 Titanic has become a monumental icon of the 20th century and has inspired a wealth of interpretations across literature art and media This book offers a comprehensive discussion of the diverse representations of the connections and differences in the way generations of artists and audiences have approached and used the tragedy In the final section is an in depth study of James Cameron s blockbuster film Titanic Critical Readings on Hammer Horror Films Fernando

Gabriel Pagnoni Berns,Matthew Edwards,2024-06-28 This collection offers close readings on Hammer s cycle of horror films analysing key films and placing particular emphasis on the narratives and themes present in the works discussed Ranging from the studio s first horror outing The Mystery of the Mary Celeste 1935 to Hammer s last contemporary film Doctor Jekyll 2023 the collection celebrates cult favourites such as The Quatermass Experiment the films of Terence Fisher to overlooked classics such as Captain Clegg or The Mummy franchise This volume also delves into Hammer s psychological thrillers the studio s venture into TV with Hammer s House of Horrors with theoretical frameworks varying from queer studies to postcolonial readings This volume will appeal to scholars and students of film studies international cinema film history and horror studies Cinema and Popular Geo-politics Marcus Power,2013-09-13 With a detailed range of approaches this new collection investigates how cinematic narratives can and have been used to portray different political threats and dangers Including a range of chapters with a contemporary focus it studies issues such as how the geopolitical world has been constructed through film how cinema can provide explanatory narratives in periods of cultural and political anxiety uneasiness and uncertainty Examining the ways in which film impacts upon popular understandings of national identity and the changing geopolitical world the book looks at how audiences make sense of the geo political messages and meanings contained within a variety of films from the US productions of Hollywood to Palestinian Mexican British and German cinematic traditions This thought provoking book draws on an international range of contributions to discuss and fully investigate world cinema in light of key contemporary issues This book was previously published as a special issue of Geopolitics

Home/Fronts Janina Wierzoch, 2020-03-03 In recent years the US led invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq have had an impact on the UK rivalled only by Brexit and the global financial crisis For people at home the wars were ever present in the media yet remained distant and difficult to apprehend Janina Wierzoch offers an analytical survey of British contemporary war narratives in novels drama film and television that seek to make sense of the experience The study shows how the narratives instead of reflecting on the UK's role as invader portray war as invading the British home Home loses its post Cold War sense of permanent peace and is recast as a home front where war once again becomes part of what it means to be us

Politics, performance and popular culture Peter Yeandle, Jeffrey Richards, Katherine Newey, 2016-09-23 This collection brings together studies of popular performance and politics across the nineteenth century offering a fresh perspective from an archivally grounded research base It works with the concept that politics is performative and performance is political The book is organised into three parts in dialogue regarding specific approaches to popular performance and politics Part I offers a series of conceptual studies using popular culture as an analytical category for social and political history Part II explores the ways that performance represents and constructs contemporary ideologies of race nation and empire Part III investigates the performance techniques of specific politicians including Robert Peel Keir Hardie and Henry Hyndman and analyses the performative elements of collective movements

Screening Ulster Richard Gallagher, 2023-03-03 This book presents extensive research into the cinematic representation of the British identifying Protestant unionist and loyalist community in Northern Ireland and is the first time such comprehensive analysis has been produced Gallagher's research traces the history of the community's representation in cinema from the emergence of depictions of both nationalist and unionist communities in social realist dramas in 1980s British and Irish cinema to today through periods such as those focused on violent paramilitaries in the 1990s and irreverent comedy after the Northern Ireland peace process The book addresses the perception that the Irish nationalist community has been depicted more frequently and favourably than unionism in films about the period of conflict known as The Troubles Often argued to be the result of an Irish nationalist bias within Hollywood Gallagher argues that there are other inherent and systemic reasons for this cinematic deficit
